2021 Webinar
Sponsorship Opportunities

The CACNA1A Foundation is proud to empower families through education with our webinar series.

About CACNA1A
The CACNA1A gene is located on the 19th chromosome and codes for the alpha-1 subunit of the Ca\textsubscript{v}2.1 calcium channel, forming the pore of the channel through which ions flow. Within the brain, CACNA1A voltage gated calcium channels regulate neurotransmitter release. Variants in the gene cause three autosomal dominant neurological disorders: Episodic ataxia type 2 (EA2), spinocerebellar ataxia type 6 (SCA6) and familial hemiplegic migraine type 1 (FHM1). In addition, the phenotypic landscape of CACNA1A dysfunction includes epilepsy (idiopathic generalized epilepsy, status epilepticus, complex partial seizures, absence seizures, infantile spasms and Lennox-Gastaut Syndrome), cognitive impairments, congenital and cerebellar ataxias, hyptonia, progressive cerebellar atrophy, nystagmus and other eye movement disorders, migraines, developmental delay, ADHD and/or autism spectrum disorders.

About Us
We are a parent-led 501(c)(3) non-profit on a mission to raise awareness of CACNA1A genetic variants, support affected families and accelerate research to make a difference in the lives of those affected by CACNA1A. We envision a world free of the debilitating effects of CACNA1A-related disorders.
