What is effective safer supply from a service-user perspective?

We met with 63 people who identified as using illicit drugs and asked them to brainstorm, sort and rate the elements of effective safer supply.
This is what they told us...

- Right dose and right drugs for me.
- Program is positively viewed and not stigmatized.
- Safer supply and other services (e.g. drug checking, housing) are accessible to me without having to jump through hoops.
- I can easily get my safer supply (e.g. delivery, more than a daily supply, not getting cut off, individualized to my needs).
- The program helps me function and improves my quality of life.
- I am treated with respect by people I relate to.
