SAMHSA to Award State Opioid Response Grant Funding

Yesterday, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), through the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), announced a State Opioid Response (SOR) grant funding opportunity that will provide nearly $1.5 billion to States and territories to help address the Nation’s opioid addiction and overdose epidemic. The SOR grant program provides formula funding to States and territories for increasing access to FDA-approved medications for the treatment of Opioid Use Disorder (OUD), and for supporting prevention, harm reduction, treatment, and recovery support services for OUD and other concurrent substance use disorders (SUD). The SOR program also supports care for stimulant misuse and use disorders, including for cocaine and methamphetamine. The SOR program helps reduce overdose deaths and close the gap in treatment needs across America by giving states and territories flexibility in funding evidence-based practices.

The SOR grant will fund up to $1,439,500,000 to be awarded in fiscal year 2022 to 59 States and territories. This funding includes a set-aside for the States with the highest OUD-related mortality rates.

ACL Funds Chronic Disease Self-Management Education and Falls Prevention Grantees

The Administration for Community Living (ACL) has announced the 2022 cohorts of Chronic Disease Self-Management Education (CDSME) and Falls Prevention grantees, effective May 1, 2022 – April 30, 2025. The new CDSME grantees will reach an estimated 14,000 older adults and adults with disabilities through evidence-based CDSME and support programs. These grantees will help communities develop or expand, deliver, and sustain evidence-based CDSME and support programs for older adults and adults with disabilities, particularly those in underserved populations or geographic areas.

The new Falls Prevention grantees will reach approximately 15,000 older adults and adults with disabilities with evidence-based programs to reduce falls and the risk of falling in order to safeguard their independence. Grantees are tasked with developing or expanding evidence-based falls prevention programs to reach older adults and adults with disabilities, particularly those in underserved areas and/or populations. Grantees are also tasked with ensuring sustainability of their program beyond the end of the grant period.

HHS Announces Funding for Behavioral Health Services to Nursing Home Residents
The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) is announcing a funding opportunity of nearly $15 million for a three-year federal grant to establish a Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) program that will strengthen the delivery of behavioral health care to residents of nursing homes and other long-term care facilities. Funded by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), this program will establish a Center of Excellence for Building Capacity in Nursing Facilities to Care for Residents with Behavioral Health Conditions (Center for Excellence).

The Center of Excellence is expected to improve overall health care in nursing homes and other long-term care facilities by providing direct consultation to staff to increase understanding, improve awareness, reduce stigmatization, and build knowledge and skills for effective resident care. Ultimately, the Center for Excellence will strengthen and sustain effective behavioral health practices and achieve better outcomes for residents who have serious mental illness, serious emotional disturbance, substance use issues, or co-occurring mental health and substance use conditions. It will also ensure accessibility of evidence-based training and technical assistance focused on mental health disorder identification, treatment, and recovery support services.

The program will be funded with CMS’ Civil Money Penalty (CMP) funds, which come from collected CMPs that are imposed against nursing homes and other long-term care facilities when they are not in substantial compliance with one or more Medicare and Medicaid program participation requirements for long-term care facilities. These funds may be reinvested to support activities that benefit nursing home residents and that protect or improve their quality of care or quality of life. Funding of up to $4,962,223 each year for three years will be awarded to one grantee in late FY 2022. View the COE-Nursing Facilities notice of funding opportunity.

Federal Proposed Rules

ACL Publishes RFI for OAA Regulations
The Acting Assistant Secretary for Aging and Administrator of the Administration for Community Living (ACL) seeks information on recommended changes, additions, or deletions to Code of Federal Regulation's section on Grants to State and Community Programs on Aging; Grants to Indian Tribes for Support and Nutrition Services; Grants for Supportive and Nutritional Services to Older Hawaiian Natives; and Allotments for Vulnerable Elder Rights Protection Activities, including Subpart A—State Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program. Comments are due June 6, 2022.

First passed in 1965, the Older Americans Act (the Act) authorizes supportive, nutrition, evidence-based disease prevention and health promotion, caregiver, legal, long-term care ombudsman, and other services provided via States, territories, tribes and tribal organizations, area agencies on aging, and local service providers. The Act was last reauthorized on March 25, 2020. (The 2020 reauthorization includes language regarding screening and health promotion activities with regard to fall-related TBIs.)

Through this Request for Information (RFI), ACL is seeking input from individuals and organizations, specifically, on (1) Challenges faced by older adults, elders, and family caregivers in receiving services under the Act, and (2) challenges faced by States, territories, tribes and tribal organizations, area agencies on aging and service providers in delivering services under the Act. Read the Federal Register for more information and to learn how to provide input.
