

Dustin Dennard

Head of Business Development / Crescent Austin

Dustin Dennard is Head of Business Development for Crescent Austin. Dustin brings one of the more unique perspectives to risk management to his clients, agents, and team, having been a Stuntman and Stunt/Sports coordinator since 1998. Understanding personal risk is his specialty having seen it firsthand working on sets and managing safety protocols. In 2013 Dustin brought this perspective to W Capital Partners and WCP Insurance Services, working in both commercial property and casualty and personal life insurance strategies.

Having graduated from Baylor University with a BA in Business, as well as a double major in Marketing and Management, Dustin is able to assist clients and advisors in understanding complex insurance solutions and product placement. With a wealth of experience working with commercial insurance accounts, Dustin is focused on providing cost effective insurance coverages and risk management strategies that help to build a foundation that his clients can grow upon.

Through an entrepreneurial perspective and working alongside fellow business owners, Dustin and the Crescent Austin team bring decades of insurance expertise to the company.
