

May 22, 2019

“Art of Time” Exhibit At Hamilton Jewelers

“SIDE BY SIDE”: This work by Kim Piotrowski is featured in “Art of Time,” on exhibit in front of Hamilton Jewelers, 92 Nassau Street, on Saturday, June 1. Part of Hamilton Jewelers’ 20th annual Watch Fair weekend, the exhibit will showcase the works of over 25 area artists and benefit the Arts Council of Princeton.

Hamilton Jewelers, Princeton Palm Beach, celebrates the arts in Princeton with “The Art of Time” exhibition on Saturday, June 1 as part of its 20th annual Watch Fair weekend event. The day will showcase over 25 Princeton area artists with works displayed in front of Hamilton’s Princeton location at 92 Nassau Street. It will benefit the Arts Council of Princeton (ACP).

“The exhibit’s guidelines were broad, which I found to be compelling,” says Jacqui Alexander, one of the featured artists. “What the concept of ‘time’ means to me, or looks like to me might be entirely different than another artist’s, so it allows for broad interpretations and a range of responses in a variety of mediums.”

The participating artists include Jacqui Alexander (Pennington), Peter Arrias (San Clemente, Calif.), Emily Gilman Beezley (Glen Rock), Jerry Cable (Stockton), Ioana Cretu (Freehold), Steph Martel Giberson (Ocean), Chris Harford (Princeton), Katie Heinzer (Dayton, Ohio), Robert Hummel (Plainsboro), Lenora Kandiner (Princeton Junction), Russell Marks (Princeton), Shamael Munir (Glasgow, Scotland), A.J. Pandian (East Windsor), Kim Piotrowski (Riverton), Gabriella Pollner (Princeton), Ellie M. Randolph (Virginia Beach, Va.), Andrew Redd (Princeton), Lori Sanft (Marlboro), Robert Scifo (Keansburg), Christine Seo (Columbus), Jason Sisino (Asbury Park), Beni Snow (Princeton), Rebecca Swan (Hamilton), Sarah Tropio (Philadelphia, Pa.), Christopher Wilson (Princeton), and Noah Zarur (Princeton).

Robert Hummel, who is well-known for his paintings of scenes in and around Princeton, found his inspiration for “The Art of Time” exhibition in the clock at Nassau Hall on the Princeton University campus. His past works, include paintings of Hamilton Jewelers’ classic Tudor building on the corner of Nassau and Witherspoon Streets.

“The Art of Time” exhibition will also offer limited edition fine art quality prints and T-shirts by Princeton resident and artist Linda Zacks, from Exhibit No. 9 Gallery + Studio for Contemporary Art. Zacks’ work has been featured in numerous exhibitions and publications worldwide, and has had limited edition books in the MoMa Design Store and The International Center of Photography.

“The Arts Council of Princeton thanks Hamilton Jewelers for supporting the arts by showcasing the work of local artists during Princeton University’s graduation weekend,” said ACP Executive Director Jim Levine. “Filling the streets of Princeton with local art during this busy time raises awareness of the Arts Council’s mission of building community through the arts.”

The 20th annual Watch Fair weekend event May 31 and June 1 at Hamilton Jewelers also features over 1,000 watches from the world’s finest brands, face painting, and more. For more information, call (609) 683-4200 or visit www.hamiltonjewelers.com.

Tweet Save Like 48

← Previous Post

Next Post →

Search

Sign up for Princeton news in your inbox!

Subscribe

PRINCETON, NJ

71°
cloudy

5:26am ✨ 8:22pm EDT

feels like: 71°F
wind: 8mph wsw
humidity: 39%
pressure: 29.98"hg
uv index: 4

tue	wed	thu
74/64°F	86/67°F	84/68°F

Weather forecast
New York, New York

CURRENT ISSUE

BETTER TOGETHER.

May 27, 2020

TERHUNE ORCHARDS
PRINCETON, NJ

TIME TO START YOUR GARDENS

Herbs, annuals available. Hanging Baskets
Add to your pick up or delivery order
Or see selection farm Store

Local delivery, porch side pick-up available within 24 hours

HERBS

terhuneorchards.com • (609) 924-2310 • Farm Store Open Daily

BROWSE PAST ISSUES
FOR STORIES THAT APPEARED ON OUR WEBSITE PRIOR TO DECEMBER 14, 2011, VISIT:
<http://www.towntopics.com/backiss.html>

The Students Guide to Summer 2020

The area's go-to guide for summer camps, private schools, sports, and enrichment programs!

TOWN TOPICS