We are planning on opening our Clubhouse doors for reduced capacity summer camp on July 6th at no cost for the summer. Please contact your Clubhouse Director or email info@madisonsquare.org for more information. We are doing everything we can to remain an unwavering presence and resource for our members who are faced with so much uncertainty. We are more than our Clubhouses. We are a Madison family. And when times get hard, families take care of each other. Visit this link www.madisonsquare.org/covid-19 to see how you can support our COVID-19 Emergency Relief Fund. Thank you to those who have supported the fund already - see those names at the bottom of that page. To learn more about Madison’s commitment to progress, click here.

MADISON’S BOARD OF TRUSTEES

With more than a century of tremendous leadership, we remain inspired by the incredible commitment of our volunteer leaders. Madison’s Board of Trustees is comprised of some of the Tri-State’s most respected executives and generous philanthropists, who not only serve as role models for our members, but also afford Madison the resources to provide high-quality programming to our youth. Since 1884, Madison has relied on the wisdom, guidance and financial investment of the Board to empower our work and provide a safe, stable, supportive environment for youth in some of New York City’s most under-served neighborhoods. These same neighborhoods are the ones being hit the hardest by the pandemic. We celebrate this year’s legacy board members and welcome the new board members who have joined us over the past year.

Madison Square Boys & Girls Club’s young professional group, Madison Council, is composed of a diverse group of 129 dedicated young professionals across all sectors. But most importantly, they are all committed to advancing Madison’s mission. These leaders volunteer their time, talents, and treasure to positively impact the lives of our members. Through once a month volunteer events, they have supported our members through activities such as, homework help, career panels, and meditation sessions. A favorite volunteer event is always serving meals and handing out gifts during the holidays!

Madison Council members also organize and participate in fundraisers in support of Club programming, including their signature cocktail party event--annual Mardi Gras MAD-squerade. The event, held on March 6th, sold 110 tickets and raised $20,000. This event included a silent auction, a raffle for a week stay in Belize, and dancing- making for a successful night.

In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Council exercised tremendous leadership in initiating a successful a peer-to-peer fundraising campaign aimed at raising money for our COVID-19 Emergency Relief Fund. The original goal of the campaign was $10,000 and was reached in just 2.5 days. In response, the Council did not sit tight, but rather chose to raise its goal to $30,000, and through the members’ efforts, the campaign currently stands at $30,825! This online fundraising campaign is a new way for Council members to continue to support Madison. Looking at the participation of the Council in the campaign, and the resulting success, the Council co-presidents Erek Nimphius and Jan Koelble said “We are so proud of our incredible Council members and the Madison staff who answered the call to action. Once we decided to launch a digital campaign, Madison staff members Navmit Dhesi and Anna Phewa quickly identified a solution which empowered us to reach out to our socially distant networks and tell Madison’s story. The results speak for themselves. A digital fundraising solution in the hands of superstar Council members like Megan Arias – who raised $8,200 in one month – is a powerful force. Not only did we help raise a meaningful amount of money in short order, but we also garnered some valuable insight to new ways to tell the Madison story. We look forward to building on this campaign’s success.” We are so thankful to the 14 Council members who fundraised towards the campaign and advocated for our youth – Megan Arias, Jan Koelble, Mavis Xu, Erek Nimphius, Marco Carlacci, Rebecca Lang, Audrey Vernick, Sara Melnick, Max Williams, Mary McQuillen, Crystal Johnson, Kate Neisloss, Chloe Godin, and Mariel Matero—and to all of the Council Members who participated in the Campaign through their donations.

By showing up at fundraisers, giving time to volunteer at the Clubhouses, and being advocates in their networks, our Council members continue to support our Clubhouse members. We are thankful to all of our Council members who care deeply about Madison and work tirelessly to further our mission.
