Writer/Director/Producer

Alastair Siddons is a BAFTA-nominated writer, director, and producer working across documentary and drama.

Al wrote three of the five episodes of Steve McQueen's anthology TV series, SMALL AXE, which was Golden Globe nominated for Best Television Limited Series, BAFTA-nominated for Best Mini-Series, and won the 2020 Los Angeles Film Critics Association Award for Best Picture. Alastair himself was also nominated for Best Writer: Drama Series at both the BAFTA TV Awards and the Royal Television Society Awards. The series premiered on BBC One and Amazon Prime in November 2020, and MANGROVE, one of the films, opened London Film Festival in 2019.

Alastair's debut feature, TRESPASS AGAINST US (Potboiler/Film4/BFI), which he wrote and produced, starred Michael Fassbender & Brendan Gleeson and premiered at the Toronto Film Festival in 2016. Alastair also co-wrote the TOMB RAIDER reboot (MGM Studios/GK Films) starring Alicia Vikander in 2018.

Alastair has directed three documentary features: TURN IT LOOSE; INSIDE OUT: THE PEOPLE'S ART PROJECT which premiered at Tribeca Film Festival in 2013 and aired on HBO in 2014; and most recently SERENDIPITY with multi-disciplinary artist Prune Nourry, which premiered in February 2019 at the Berlin Film Festival. Angelina Jolie & Darren Aronofsky served as Executive Producers.

Currently, Alastair is adapting astrophysicist Fred Hoyle's sci-fi novel THE BLACK CLOUD as a feature film; The Ink Factory and Ruth Wilson's production company Lady Lazarus are producing, with Wilson set to star.
