BLACK MATERNAL HEALTH AWARENESS WEEK 2021 #BMHAW21
13TH - 18TH SEPTEMBER 2021

Five X More CIC is hosting the second annual awareness week to highlight Black women and birthing people’s maternal health outcomes in the UK.

What is it?
A weeklong campaign dedicated to raising awareness about the disparities in maternal outcomes for Black women and birthing people in the UK. Black women in the UK are four times more likely to die during pregnancy, childbirth and 6 weeks after in comparison to White women (MBRRACE, 2020). It focuses on empowering Black women and birthing people to make informed choices and advocate for themselves throughout their pregnancies and after childbirth. It also focuses on educating health professionals to take active steps to ensure safer care for Black women and birthing people.

Who is it organised by?
Five X More CIC has come together with a host of Black led organisations, individuals and health professionals for a weeklong campaign dedicated to raising awareness about the disparities in maternal outcomes for Black women and birthing people. Five X More is a grassroots campaign dedicated to highlighting and changing Black women and birthing people’s maternal health outcomes in the UK.

What is this years theme?
The theme this year will be ‘Changing The Narrative’. We want to see changes in the right direction concerning maternity safety and outcomes for Black women and birthing people. For decades now, Black women have had a higher risk of maternal mortality in the UK (CMACH 2007).

With this year's awareness week we hope to be able to provide a supportive platform where we can LISTEN to Black parents’ voices and empower them to advocate for themselves. This week will also provide a place for health professionals to get a chance to learn more about the campaign and what they can do to help change these statistics.

We have created resources for the week for those who want to get involved with the campaign.

Themed days: The overall hashtag for the awareness week is #BMHAW21. For every day during the awareness week we will be running themed days, and each day will have its own unique hashtag.
