Meaningful Engagement and Working with Consultants

Live Facilitated Training
The "Meaningful Engagement and Working with Consultants" training is meticulously designed for a diverse audience, including nonprofit organizations, funders, and for-profit stakeholders within the anti-trafficking and anti-slavery sectors. It offers a comprehensive approach to understanding and leveraging the unique insights of survivors, a must-have training to equip your team with the knowledge and skills for effective collaboration with lived experience consultants.

Why This Training Matters:
This training stands out by focusing on the importance of inclusivity and collaboration, preparing organizations to work effectively with consultants with lived experience. Participants will learn not only how to engage with survivors but also how to integrate their expertise into strategies that fight trafficking and slavery. The curriculum is designed to help prevent, mitigate, and address potential harms, ensuring a respectful and productive collaboration.

What Participants Will Take Away:
• Strategies for overcoming challenges in professional development for survivors, enhancing the overall effectiveness of anti-trafficking efforts.
• Best practices for building and maintaining meaningful relationships with survivors, ensuring their voices are heard and acted upon.
• Knowledge on fostering an inclusive environment that respects the dignity of all members, particularly those with lived experience.
• This training is an investment in your organization’s capacity to make a difference in the anti-trafficking and anti-slavery field. By prioritizing the insights and contributions of survivors, your team will be better equipped to develop and implement strategies that are not only effective but also compassionate and respectful, and train for self-awareness.

Key Benefits:

In-depth Understanding:
Gain a nuanced comprehension of the professional development barriers faced by Lived Experience consultants. This knowledge is crucial for organizations looking to support and amplify the voices of those with lived experiences to become the sector’s leaders.

Confidence in Engagement:
Through practical guidance, participants will learn how to confidently engage with survivors, fostering an environment where their contributions are valued and their insights lead to more impactful strategies.

Equitable Practices:
The training emphasizes the importance of equitable treatment and meaningful engagement within networks and memberships. It provides the tools needed to ensure that survivor consultants are respected and valued equally.
