

2020 Dallas Hunger Summit A Virtual Event FROM HUNGER TO HEALTH: FOOD JUSTICE ≠ JUST US Equitable healthy food access and healthy outcomes for all!

Congresswoman Eddie Bernice Johnson and the Dallas Coalition for Hunger Solutions invite you to be our guests for the 2020 Virtual Dallas Hunger Summit. Speakers and attendees will look at the intersection of healthy food access and community health in Dallas through an equity lens and address what it would take to create a more just food environment for everyone. We will explore the innovative, collaborative steps other communities are taking, and the policies that can assure access to healthy, nutritious food and optimal health for all. See topics, speakers and registration details below!

September 18th 10:00-11:30 AM

"What is Food Justice, Why It Matters, and How Do We Create It?"

Featured Speaker – Malik Yakini, Director, Detroit Black Community Food Security Network Register Here

September 25th 10:00-11:30 AM

"What would Food Justice Look Like in Dallas?"

Panel Discussion with Local Change Makers, including Anga Sanders, FEED Oak Cliff; The Reverend Yvette Blair-Lavallais, Food Justice Activist; Erika Muhammad, Founder, BE, and It Is Homestead; Ples Montgomery IV, Co-Founder & Executive Director of The Oak Cliff Veggie Project Register Here

October 2nd 10:00-11:30 AM

"Post Pandemic: Rebuilding with More Equitable Food Policies"

Speakers include Congresswoman Marcia L. Fudge, U. S. Representative, Ohio District 11 Chair, House Committee on Agriculture Subcommittee on Nutrition, Oversight and Development Operations; Josh Protas, VP Public Policy, MAZON; Dr. Hussain Lalani, Physician and Health Advocate, UT Southwestern Medical Center; Jennifer Craig, Student Nutrition Services, Garland ISD Register Here

October 9th 10:00-12:00 Noon La

"Activating Dallas for Food Justice!"

Featured Speaker – Seema Yasmin, MD, Author, Award Winning Journalist Director, Stanford Health Communication Initiative, Stanford University Register Here

