Members of the Village board were welcomed to the May meeting, and business quickly entered the floor with good news for all. Recently announced by USA Today, the Village of Ellicottville was named one of the top 10 Main Streets in the United States.

The Ellicottville Town Board agenda was filled with updates concerning the area, including old and new business. The Town had multiple bid requests placed recently for ongoing projects throughout Ellicottville. Starting off with the accepted bids, the Town agreed to the bid from West Side Handyman and Lawncare for lawn maintenance for the Nannen Arboretum for the Spring to Fall seasons. Another accepted bid is that of D&J's Lawn Service which includes the lawn maintenance for local cemeteries.

SO MANY ROADS JAMBOREE COMES TO OLEAN'S GARGOYLE PARK

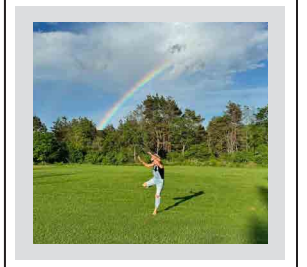

Music festivals are an amazing way to spend a hot summer day. And there is a new festival heading to Olean's Gargoyle Park on June 15th from 2:00-10:00pm. Hosted by Union Whiskey and Friends, it's going to be a day full of amazing music, food and more. Renee Williams of Union Whiskey filled us in on how this new event came to be. "So Many Roads came together from a shared passion for music and a deep appreciation for the vibrant atmosphere of music festivals. As dedicated fans of the Grateful Dead, we've always cherished the communal spirit and sense of adventure these events offer. Reflecting on fond memories of Gargoyle Park's heyday as a hub for live music and camaraderie, we felt inspired to revive that magic" ... page 07

The community is invited to the Pride Month Opening Ceremony at the Robert H. Jackson Center on Saturday, June 1st at 10:00am. The kick-off rally will feature the raising of Jamestown's Progress Pride flag. This June marks the 55th anniversary of Stonewall, a series of protests by the LGBTQ community after a police raid during the early morning hours of June 28, 1969, on the Stonewall Inn in Greenwich Village. As such, the flag-raising will include local speakers instrumental in building greater rights for the LGBTQ community in Jamestown and Chautauqua County ... page 12

SPRING DONATIONS

Many Local Organizations Gifted by Holiday Valley

By JESSICA SCHULTZ

Last Friday, May 24th, Holiday Valley Resort presented donations totaling $11,000 to support various local organizations. From youth programming to town beautification, the funds were generated through the income from Fall Festival Chairlift Rides and Holiday Valley's Winter Carnival SnowBar. Recipients receiving funding include:

Ellicottville Youth Soccer: A long-time staple in the community, the summer soccer program welcomes players ages 3-19. (Participants must be entering Pre-K in order to sign up for the youngest group.) The program offers a great opportunity for kids of all ages and skill levels to spend time outside, build friendships, and work on team skills. This season runs through the month of July, and registration is currently only open (until June 5th). If interested in getting your kids involved, please reach out to Ellicottville Youth Soccer via their Facebook page or Instagram.

Alley Katz: This local, non-profit organization is comprised of volunteer gardeners whose goal is to create a beautiful, scenic atmosphere for our village. They plant flowers and maintain the landscaping throughout the village, all for a beautiful Ellicottville. If you've been out and about in town and noticed the hanging baskets or lovely flower beds along the business district, that is the work of the Alley Katz. They're a fabulous bunch of people who deserve all the recognition for their hard volunteer work.

Other donations were given to the Little League Football and Little League Baseball teams, and to the Great Valley Youth Program which runs Monday through Thursday starting after the July 4th holiday.

Despite a winter that was a little unusual, Holiday Valley still managed to offer a lot of support to the organizations here in our connected communities. So a huge shoutout goes out to Holiday Valley for all that they do to help out the various programs and the people who are a part of them.

ELISA'S RUN FOR THE ARTS

Elisa B. Hughey Scholarship for the Arts Encourages All to Run in Her Memory

Dear Friends... On Saturday, June 15, 2024, we will gather to run and walk to remember and celebrate our beloved Elisa Hughey, who lost her battle with colon cancer 8 years ago - to the day. Please mark your calendars and join us in person (contact Brenda directly for details) or join virtually wherever you are on June 15th. We will commence activity on/about 11:00am EDT. And don't forget to share your photos to the Facebook page: Elisa B. Hughey Scholarship for the Arts. We love to be supported from far and near!

We deeply appreciate all of you. Because of your continued support, the Elisa B. Hughey Scholarship/Fund for the Arts will now sustain one $1,000 Art Scholarship award for years to come. What an amazing way to honor Elisa's memory! Speaking of which, we have selected another very talented Art student to receive the 2024 Scholarship that will be awarded at graduation in June. This is the 15th high school student we've awarded since the scholarship was established in 2017! Stay tuned for that announcement.

Other exciting news we wanted to share is starting in 2025, we will open the Scholarship to three neighboring school districts, in addition to West Valley and Ellicottville. In this way, we will offer more Art students the opportunity to apply for our Scholarship. A win-win!

With your help, we look forward to continuing to build the fund, offer more Art Scholarships and pursue other ways to support arts in the local (WNY) community. (Think Murals!)

To support our students in the Arts, please visit <http://bit.ly/elisa-hughey-fund-for-the-arts>. Much love and big thanks,

- The Scholarship Committee

HOLIDAY VALLEY MUDSLIDE

Get a Little Dirty, Have a Lot of Fun

By JESSICA SCHULTZ

You know it's officially summer in Ellicottville when Holiday Valley invites everyone to get a little dirty at the annual Mudslide race, coming up on June 15th. That's right, I said they're inviting everyone to get muddy! It's a yearly tradition around these parts. ellicottvilleNOW recently connected with Holiday Valley's Marketing Director, Dash Hegeman, who give us the dirt on this year's event.

eNOW: The Mudslide is a staple event to kick off summer. Can you give us some background on it and how it originated?

DASH: Mudslide has become an event that many people look forward to participating in year after year. I believe this is year 12 of the event and aside from it just being a great way to get people together to have a lot of fun outside, one of the reasons that Mudslide came about was because there were a number of pretty intense mud run events and Holiday Valley wanted to offer people who were looking to challenge themselves but weren't looking to navigate things like barbed wire or electric shocks. Mudslide offers two different courses, a 4.2-mile short course and a 5.4-mile long course for people who are looking to challenge themselves a bit more. The features are a lot of fun but definitely offer a degree of difficulty that adds to the excitement. And everyone gets to finish the race by sliding down a hill into a large pit of mud. It's a blast!

eNOW: What's happening this year that people can get excited about?

DASH: The courses have been redesigned a little and we've added some new features into the mix. So for people who have done the run before, it'll be a new experience but the same great vibes that they know and love.

eNOW: What's your favorite part?

DASH: It's a great combination of fun, exercise, and being in the great outdoors. You can make it as competitive as you want to or just go out as a team and enjoy having a bunch of laughs together while cheering your family and friends on. The entire event is entertaining, but my favorite part has to be what the event is named for. Watching people come down the mudslide at the end and the look on their faces after they emerge from the large pit of mud is priceless.

eNOW: Can you hook us up on the food and beverage that will be available?

DASH: Yes, there will be food and drinks. The Holiday Valley Food & Beverage team will be serving up pulled pork sandwiches, hot dogs, veggie burgers, and a few different drink options. 42 North Brewing Co. and Ellicottville Brewing Co. will both be on-site and doing beer tastings for the 21+ crowd.

eNOW: How do people register?

DASH: The 2024 Mudslide will take place on Saturday, June 15th. Registration opens at 8:30am. The Long Course race ($70) begins at 10:00am and the Short Course race ($65) begins at 11:15am. The Kids Mudslide race ($20) begins at 1:30PM. Prices go up after May 31st. All the details on this year's Mudslide including registration can be found at holidayvalley.com/mudslide.

eNOW: What's upcoming after the Mudslide?

DASH: There's so much to do at Holiday Valley every summer. Fans of golf have access to one of the most unique courses in the area with the Double Black Diamond Golf Course. For people seeking some outdoor excitement, Sky High Aerial Adventure Park is the best. It's the largest aerial adventure park in New York State; every route in the 5-acre park is a blast and some of the more difficult courses can be a legitimate workout for even the best of athletes. The Public Pools are now open and are the perfect way to stay cool on some of our hot summer days. The Ellicottville Chamber's Summer Music Festival takes place over the July 4th holiday weekend and features another fun lineup. Plus, if you haven't been here for it before, there is always a really popular fireworks display. It's definitely a crowd pleaser.

eNOW: Anything else you would like to share with the community?

DASH: As much fun as Ellicottville is in the winter, it's just as captivating in the summer. There's no shortage of things to do, great places to eat or grab a cold, refreshing beverage, and the village has fantastic shops that are run by amazing people so it makes stopping in to browse a really enjoyable experience. Holiday Valley has so many things to do throughout the summer; stay tuned to @holidayvalley on social media and holidayvalley.com to see what's happening next.

SO MANY ROADS JAMBOREE

New Event Coming to Olean's Gargoyle Park

BY JESSICA SCHULTZ

Music festivals are an amazing way to spend a hot summer day. And there is a new festival heading to Olean's Gargoyle Park on June 15th from 2:00-10:00pm. Hosted by Union Whiskey and Friends, it's going to be a day full of amazing music, food and more.

So how did So Many Roads come together and what is the driving factor behind the jam-boree? Renee Williams of Union Whiskey filled us in, "So Many Roads came together from a shared passion for music and a deep appreciation for the vibrant atmosphere of music festivals. As dedicated fans of the Grateful Dead, we've always cherished the communal spirit and sense of adventure these events offer. Reflecting on fond memories of Gargoyle Park's heyday as a hub for live music and camaraderie, we felt inspired to revive that magic. Over the years, we've eagerly discussed the idea of reigniting the park's musical legacy, fueled by a collective longing to recreate those unforgettable experiences and foster a new era of musical celebration."

The important part is who will be performing, and they've got a strong line-up...

Jeremy Bunce out of Jamestown, NY, Jeremy works as an instructor at Infinity Visual & Performing Arts and will be playing a great set of rock and blues. https://infinityperformingarts.org/infinity_instructors/jeremy-bunce/

Next up is Charity Nuse, out of Warren, PA. Charity is a percussionist, mandolinist, singer and songwriter and she will be hitting the stage to play her own set of rock and blues. <https://www.facebook.com/Charitynusemusic>

Then, getting a little funky, Olmstead Dub System out of Buffalo, NY. This band, led by George F. Olmsted, will be knocking it out of the park when they play a great mix of reggae. <https://www.facebook.com/olmsteddubssystembuffalo>

Diggin' Roots Band out of Buffalo, NY, then steps onto the stage. Digging Roots is a group of friends that play an eclectic mix, ranging from the Grateful Dead & the Allman Brothers, to a mix of funk, rock n' roll, and blues. Sometimes they even blend multiple genres together. <https://www.facebook.com/DigginRootsBand>.

And last but certainly not least, the Workingman's Dead out of Buffalo, NY. Workingman's Dead is a very popular Grateful Dead cover band. Well-known by locals for their excellent stage performances. <https://www.facebook.com/workingmansdead>.

That's a long list of great entertainment. It's going to be a long day, and what if you get hungry or thirsty? No worries there... foot trucks and adult beverages will be on site provided by Union Whiskey. No outside alcohol is permitted.

Food Vendors will include: 716 Panini, a truck serving up some great pressed sandwiches like The Heater (a super spicy grilled cheese paninis featuring both Pepper Jack and Habanero cheeses); Hoptoad's REAL BBQ, slinging delicious ribs, chicken and bbq favorites; Sweet Ride Donut Truck, the best way to have a dessert at a festival, with a special selection of mini-donuts and decadent toppings.

This sounds like a pretty epic time. Should you maybe leave the kids behind? Renee stated, "While there aren't specific activities tailored for younger attendees, the venue is located within a local park, complete with traditional park amenities as well as a disc golf course. We encourage parents to exercise their discretion when considering whether to bring young family members. It's important to note that alcohol will be served at the event, which is situated along the river's edge. While all are welcome, including families with children, it's worth mentioning that the ambiance may be more suited to adult patrons. However, in the spirit of inclusivity, some families do choose to attend similar events with their children, akin to the atmosphere at Grateful Dead concerts. We want to emphasize that we do not turn away anyone who brings children, but we do recommend that parents consider the nature of the event before deciding to attend with younger family members."

You can also get your shopping fix while you're at the festival, if you need a break between musical performances. There will be a nice sized craft vendor market on-site. Vendors will include: Good Vibes Garden Art, Amity Wood & Ink, One Hit TieDyes, RENegade's Studio, Chaos & Class Designs, Tangled up in Dyes, Kre Candy, Serenity Craft Shack, Dark Matter Filaments, Conklin Studio, NJ Designs & Cprrie ties and Silversun Dyes & Designs.

A COMMUNITY EFFORT

Mural Project Curated by Tri-County Arts Council Calls for Your Support

OLEAN - Community should mean a great deal to all of us. It's where we grow up, who we raise our families with, the place we plant our roots. It means so many different things and keeping it, not just clean and beautiful, but inclusive and safe for all citizens when they come together. In that regard, the Tri-County Arts Council (TCAC) always has great ideas in the works.

This year, Olean has been presented with a wonderful opportunity AGAIN by Olean native, Alex Derwick, who is planning to create a mural entitled "Community Sports. The Moment" this summer. The "Community Sports" mural is planned for the Sports Locker complex west-facing wall.

TCAC is looking for businesses and community partners to support this current mural project like many did for the Heart of Olean mural and Community Ties mural in previous years. The project is currently at 57% fully funded and is expected to start in June! An open Paint Day for the community is being planned for June 16th, weather depending.

Tri-County Arts Council is planning to do murals in Allegany and Ellicottville in 2025. For more information and to show your support, go to tricityarts.org.

MEETING NOTES

ELLICOTTVILLE VILLAGE BOARD

Mayor Congratulates Ellicottville as one of the "Top 10 Main Streets in the US"; National Grid Representatives Coming to Ellicottville for Media Coverage

By COLLEEN EVANS

Ellicottville was recently named one of America's Best Main Streets. ellicottvilleNOW is honored to have one of its own photos (above) featured in the online article.

The electric charging stations installed at the recently opened Mill Street parking lot will be a highlight during a special media presentation on Friday, May 31st.

Mayor John Burrell welcomed members of the Ellicottville Village Board to the May meeting, held May 21st. Business quickly entered the floor with good news for all. Recently announced by USA Today, the Village of Ellicottville was named one of the top 10 Main Streets in the United States.

As quoted in the article, "Washington Street is the picturesque main street in the charming village of Ellicottville in western New York. Known for its historic architecture, the street is lined with boutique shops, restaurants, and the popular Ellicottville Brewing Company, and it also serves as the focal point for festivals. The street's quaint atmosphere and proximity to Holiday Valley Ski Resort make it a central hub for both locals and visitors." The chatter the article has brought to the area is one to be celebrated and was recognized by Village Board members and officials alike.

The news of Ellicottville's Main Street success was also highlighted at the NYCOM Conference (New York Conference of Mayors). This year's focus revolved around community and how to support and maintain local business. Mayor John Burrell was present at the conference and many congratulations were made to the way the Village operates.

A grant opportunity is in the works as New York State has approved project needs within Ellicottville's wastewater treatment. The Water Infrastructure Improvement Grant is an opportunity to update any needed water system structures. Now that New York State has deemed the project within the intent of the grant, the Village will be able to submit their final proposal by June 14th.

The mayor had an updated report on the bond process which was accepted by the Village Board. This funding will cover the expenses of the newly opened Mill Street parking lot, Washington street lamps, and comprehensive Elizabeth Street Project. All necessary dates and documentation have been submitted and finalized.

Representatives of National Grid will be coming to the Village of Ellicottville on May 31st to highlight the implementation of the newly opened Mill Street Parking Lot. A full day of media coverage will highlight the Village's use of electric chargers at the parking lot. They hope to expand and promote chargers in rural areas for electric vehicles and have chosen Ellicottville as a model to this.

There are multiple summer events that are in the making and have gone through for approval by the Village Board. The annual Jazz & Blues Festival, Taste of Ellicottville, Rock N' Roll Weekend, and Fall Festival have been approved and planning will continue for these events. The Ellicottville Farmers Market was also approved for their 7-week series and will begin in early July.

With plenty to look forward to, the Board and village continue to work on all means to assure a fun and successful summer season.

The Ellicottville Village Board will come together for their next monthly scheduled meeting on June 18, 2024. For further information on the Village of Ellicottville, check out the official site at www.ellicottvillegov.com.

ELLICOTTVILLE TOWN BOARD

Public Hearing for North Park Zoning Amendment Draws Concern from Local Resident; Lawncare Bids Awarded

By COLLEEN EVANS

The Ellicottville Town Board's May meeting was called to order by Supervisor Matt McAndrew. The evening's agenda was filled with updates concerning the area, including old and new business.

The first business to be addressed at the meeting was the public hearing for the zoning map amendment, which was requested by North Park Innovations, located at 6442 Route 242 E. This action would address the 10.9-acre parcel and would change the property from High Density Residential District to General Commercial.

North Park Innovations is a locally based company that specializes in high-tech training equipment and curriculum for HVAC/R and electrical trades. With their headquarters based in Ellicottville, NY they provide their services to clients around the world. The Ellicottville base is home to all manufacturing, shipping, customer service, design, financial, technical, and administrative services involved. Several employees of North Park Innovations were present for the public hearing to show their support for the company and its expansion. Many of the employees commented to the Town Board that North Park is not only a great place to work but that it also provides jobs for local residents.

During the public hearing, one resident voiced that while he does not have any objection to the expansion, he is worried that a large-scale rezoning of the parcel may lead to future consequences for development. He continued by asking the Town Board if they would look into alternatives beyond rezoning the entirety of the property. Moving on in the decision making, the zoning map amendment will be referred to the County and on May 30th a review will take place.

The Town Board continued discussions by addressing an update by the Short-term Rental Committee. Progress is being made with the drafting of a local law, which will regulate the short-term rental process. Greg Keyser, Town Planner, has been working on the drafted law and is hopeful that it will be ready to be presented to the Town Board at the next meeting. A goal has been set that aims for completion by January 2025. During this timeline, Board Members and residents alike will have the opportunity for public comments and hearings.

The Town had multiple bid requests placed recently for ongoing projects throughout Ellicottville. Starting off with the accepted bids, the Town agreed to the bid from West Side Handyman and Lawncare for lawn maintenance for the Nannen Arboretum for the Spring to Fall seasons.

Another accepted bid is that of D&J's Lawn Service which includes the lawn maintenance for the Jefferson Street, Niles and Bryant Hill Cemeteries. This care will also take place for the Spring to Fall seasons.

The Town is still open for bids on the Town Hall Front Door Project and have extended the proposals until June 5, 2024. Experienced applicants can find further information on requesting a bid at the official Town website under Notices at www.ellicottvillegov.com.

Keeping up with the maintenance of the Town, Western New York Lawn Service will be hired to repair 8 headstones at the Jefferson Street Cemetery, along with 2 headstones at the Bryant Hill Cemetery. The Town of Ellicottville wanted to move forward with the process and fortunately Western New York Lawn Service made themselves immediately available to tend to the restorations.

The Town Board was happy to agree to the permanent appointment of a new employee. They welcome Rich Rinko, who will now act as the Civil Service Building Inspector.

In new business of the Town, the Ellicottville Championship Rodeo sent in their yearly plan for the upcoming Rodeo, which they have scheduled for July 4th-7th. Within this request they have included a noise permit to extend to 1:00am each night. Organizers have also requested the Town Board's support in their request for a temporary beer and wine permit to use for the intended weekend. This decision will ultimately be made by the State Liquor Authority but with the Town of Ellicottville's support it could make all the difference for the event.

In wrapping up another point of new business, a joint effort between the Town and Village of Ellicottville will be made to work together to obtain funding for upgrading the Sanitary Sewer System. While the Town and Village are known to work together, Supervisor McAndrew wanted to make note for the sag on Deer Crossing Road to be addressed in the project. The inter-municipal project is expected to reduce costs on the project, improve government efficiency, and better attract grant funding.

The Ellicottville Town Board will reconvene on the third Wednesday of each month. For more information on meeting dates and agendas, go to ellicottvillegov.com.

Core Performance: Proper Hydration is Essential to a Properly Functioning Body

By KIM DUKE, CERTIFIED PERSONAL TRAINER

When I complete a fitness assessment with any potential new client, I not only want to learn about their goals and limitations, but also, what their diets look like. My first dietary question is always about hydration. Shockingly, most people do not drink enough water/fluid throughout each day. Staying hydrated is essential for virtually every function of the body and it is crucial for them to work properly.

Dehydration can negatively affect many organs and body processes, with extreme cases leading to delirium, weakness or even death. Being slightly dehydrated is no good either - even a small amount of dehydration can impact our cognitive abilities, balance and physical performance. Plus, hydration plays a huge role in kidney and heart function as well as gut health (as anyone who's ever been constipated can attest).

We lose water through breathing, perspiration, urine and bowel movements, and our water supply needs to be constantly replenished. The best way to tell if you are well hydrated is to check out a urine color chart. As your day wears on with proper hydration, your urine should become almost colorless or just slightly yellow.

There is actually no RDA for water, but the National Institutes of Health and Nutrition Board has established an AI - or Adequate Intake - for fluid. AI for fluid is 2.7L/day for women (91 fluid ounces / 11 cups) and 3.7L/day for men (125 fluid ounces / 15 cups). I tell my clients that they should replenish their liquid with at least half of their body weight each day - more if they are performing vigorous activities or sweating due to hot spring/summer weather.

As much as I press my clients to just drink more water, I seem to be met with resistance since many find water tasteless and undesirable. The good news: AI guideline takes into account hydration you may get from a variety of beverages, fruits, vegetables and broth. Alcohol is NOT on that list and sodas and other sugar sweetened beverages are also not highly recommended.

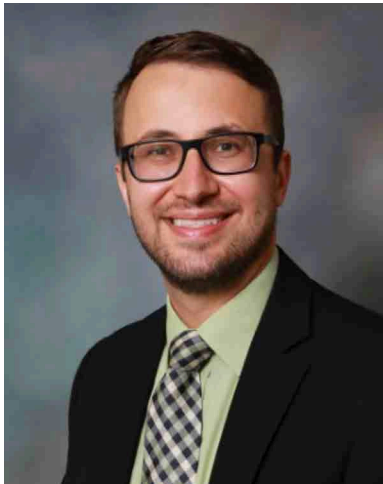

To get enough hydration, I highly recommend you keep water with you at all times. Drink fluids throughout the day to reduce inflammation and bloating. If you have trouble remembering to drink water, drink on a schedule. For example, drink water when you wake up, at breakfast, lunch, dinner, and when you go to bed. Or drink a glass of water at the beginning of each hour. Make mini goals and see how staying hydrated affects your body.

Yes, you may need to use a restroom a little more often, but as your body acclimates to your new hydration efforts, so too, will your urge to urinate. Staying properly hydrated will only benefit you by keeping every bodily system running smoothly.

Pain Management Specialist Opens Practice at Bradford Regional Medical Center

BRADFORD - Bradford Regional Medical Center (BRMC) is excited to announce that a new service will now be available in the outpatient services tower. Now credentialed in Pennsylvania, Joseph Staszal, MD, pain management and physical medicine & rehabilitation (PM&R), is accepting new patients at BRMC.

Dr. Staszal treats a number of diseases and conditions including neck and back pain, degenerative disc disease, sciatica, chronic pain, arthritis, spasticity, headaches and migraines, abdominal and pelvic pain, and cancer pain in collaboration with palliative care and oncology.

"I understand that pain is more than just arthritis or more than a herniated disc in someone's spine. Chronic pain is also about acknowledging someone's suffering, frustration, loss, depression, anxiety, and fear. Chronic pain is more than just the primary pain generator that needs treated. The bio-psycho-social approach is key. I take a multidisciplinary approach to chronic pain treatment including rehabilitation, pain psychology, medication therapy, and interventional pain procedures," Staszal said.

"We're pleased to have Dr. Staszal open his practice here in the Bradford community providing convenience to our local residents. This is another step for us to improve our services here at BRMC and expanding on growth opportunities," said Jill Owens, MD, president, UAHS. "Dr. Staszal's expertise and patient-centric focus has been immensely valuable to the local community since joining our physician network."

Dr. Staszal earned a medical degree at the University of Toledo College of Medicine and Life Sciences, completed a residency and pain medicine fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. He is certified by the American Board of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation as well as American Board of Anesthesiology.

Pride Month Opening Ceremony to be Held June 1st at the Jackson Center in Jamestown

JAMESTOWN - The community is invited to the Pride Month Opening Ceremony at the Robert H. Jackson Center, 305 E. 4th St., Jamestown, on Saturday, June 1st at 10:00am.

The kick-off rally will feature the raising of Jamestown's Progress Pride flag. Designed in 2018 and based on the iconic rainbow flag from 1978, the Progress Pride flag celebrates the diversity of the LGBTQ community and calls for a more inclusive society. The added chevron along the hoist features black, brown, light blue, pink, and white stripes to bring those communities - marginalized people of color, trans people, and those living with HIV/AIDS and those who have been lost - to the forefront.

This June, Pride month marks the 55th anniversary of Stonewall, a series of protests by the LGBTQ community after a police raid during the early morning hours of June 28, 1969, on the Stonewall Inn in Greenwich Village. This became a seminal event in the history of the LGBTQ movement for equal rights in this country. As such, the flag-raising will include local speakers instrumental in building greater rights for the LGBTQ community in Jamestown and Chautauqua County. The rally will also include voter registration, refreshments and opportunities to purchase Jamestown Pride merchandise. The following Saturday, June 8, is the 2024 Jamestown Pride, with events occurring throughout the day in downtown Jamestown.

The planning committee is excited to announce that this year, Jamestown Pride will hold its first variety show at noon at the Winter Garden Plaza, 313 North Main St. Local performers of all ages are invited to audition their talents for a family audience. The application process closed on May 28.

Activities on June 8 begin with 8:00am yoga at the Winter Garden Plaza, 313 North Main Street. Later events there are a community drum circle, live music, the variety show and drag performances including Thee Suburbia, who was so popular - especially with kids - in 2022. The Rainbow Walk departs from the Winter Garden at 1:00pm. With the season opening of the Jamestown Public Market, Pride vendors and community organizations will have tables and activities from 10:00am-2:00pm. Evening entertainment includes drag, burlesque and dancing.

Sunday morning, June 9, St. Luke's Episcopal Church and First Presbyterian Church have Pride services. Jamestown Pride closes with a drag brunch fundraiser at Rose & Grace Studios.

For the full schedule, visit JamestownPride.org/Events and click on Agenda. Community members can volunteer to assist with set-up, tear-down, and other event needs by signing up at bit.ly/JPrizeVol.

The 2024 Jamestown Pride is presented by Evergreen Health and the Mental Health Association in Chautauqua County. Jamestown Pride welcomes corporate/business, individual, and non-profit sponsorships. Contact info@JamestownPride.com to learn more and receive a sponsorship packet.

With all that going on, it makes you wonder if Union Whiskey has any more awesome events in the works. Renee said, "At present, we're not organizing any larger-scale events beyond this one. This marks our inaugural venture into hosting an event of such magnitude. However, we've cultivated a vibrant tradition of live music at our home base, Union Whiskey, every Friday, occasionally extending into Saturdays. Additionally, we curate a more expansive 'Sunday Funday' affair once a month throughout the summer season. With this event, we aspire to plant the seeds for a recurring tradition, fostering a community of music lovers and enthusiasts alike, and nurturing a legacy of memorable gatherings."

"Union Whiskey, nestled at 184 N. Union St., Olean, is a proud woman-owned and operated establishment since 2017. Our ethos seamlessly blends sophistication with comfort, presenting a diverse selection of craft beers, signature cocktails, and timeless favorites. Our thoughtfully curated menu, though unassuming in size, showcases tantalizing culinary delights crafted to complement your libations." Renee continued.

"Experience the vibrant ambiance with live music every Friday, occasional Saturday performances, and our cherished 'Sunday Funday' series during the summer, along with monthly Trivia Nights on select Thursdays. Throughout the seasons, we celebrate themed nights, transporting patrons to the 80s extravaganzas, 90s hip-hop parties, Hawaiian night, and disco fever of the 70s."

She went on to say, "For sports aficionados, five expansive screen TVs ensure an unparalleled viewing experience, especially for our loyal Bills fans. As we look ahead, we're excited to enhance our offerings with events like the So Many Roads Jamboree, promising yet another memorable addition to our repertoire."

This promises to be a fantastic event. Remember it is happening on Saturday, June 15, 2024; 2:00-10:00pm at Gargoyle Park, in Olean, NY. You can get your tickets now. Tickets are $25 - and can be purchased at the door or at Eventbrite.
