This summer, you have the opportunity to ensure the longevity of a healthy watershed through giving. Connect with the people and partners who live, work, and play in our watershed at the level that is right for your organization. Through your sponsorship, you demonstrate your values for clean water, thriving landscapes, and a community that cares.

¡Explorando el Columbia Slough!

¡Explorando el Columbia Slough! is the largest bilingual nature festival in the Portland area. Regularly drawing over 500 participants, many of whom are Spanish speakers, this event celebrates Latinx culture and the Columbia Slough watershed. Free, fun activities connect families with nature and neighborhood resources.

“Explorando el Columbia Slough es un fantástico evento de verano; siendo este una maravillosa alternativa para los residentes latinos y no latinos de la comunidad. En él se puede encontrar información interesante relativa a nuestro slough así como también de personas y organizaciones que están trabajando activamente para mejorar nuestro entorno.”

- Nestor Campos, Verde
Columbia Slough Regatta

Columbia Slough Regatta is the Council’s longest-running event, celebrating recreation on the Slough since 1995. Community members are invited to bring their own canoe or kayak or reserve one for free from the Council. At Regatta, participants discover that the Slough is a great place to paddle — calm water, tall trees, and thriving wildlife fill every moment with wonder.

“The Regatta was a marvelous experience. Paddling on the Slough immerses one into a quiet encounter with nature overhead in the majestic cottonwoods and at eye level in the emerald duck weed. I wish that I could have a boat of my own. Someday. Meanwhile, I get to have occasional opportunities through the generosity of people such as you and fellow paddlers in the watershed council. Many thanks to all of you.”

The Great Slough Clean-Up is the Council’s annual trash-hauling extravaganza! Volunteers pile into canoes, kayaks, and bimaranas to remove trash from the Slough, then sort findings on land to properly dispose of the collected waste. With your support, we can continue keeping our waterways clean and safe for humans and wildlife alike.

About the Council

Since 1994, the Columbia Slough Watershed Council has been bringing community together to discover, learn, and restore the 60 miles of waterways and wetlands known as the Columbia Slough Watershed. We engage people from all walks of life in habitat restoration, outdoor recreation, and environmental education, empowering each other to steward and protect the land we call home. From biking and birding to canoeing and clean-ups, the Slough has something for everyone. Together, we can make this hidden gem shine.
