Northwest-grown

Mid-summer has arrived and with it, the luscious colors, flavors and intoxicating aromas of Northwest-grown melons.

From netted to smooth, colossal to petite, and in alluring shades of pink, orange, red, green and yellow, there's a sweetly flavored melon to meet every shopper's needs.

The season for Northwest-grown melon is beautiful but brief. So be sure to find your favorite and stock up!

CHARENTAIS

This quintessential variety's deep orange flesh is rich in flavor with a heady aroma that is its true calling card. So, give organic Charentais melon a good inhale and enjoy its floral scent that's pleasantly musky and reminiscent of tropical fruit!

PIEL DE SAPO

This melon's honey-sweet pale green flesh tastes like a combination of melon and succulent pear.

Shelf-stable organic Piel de Sapo stores well in your kitchen, so wait until its skin is more yellow to indicate peak ripeness!

GALIA

The pale green flesh of delicious organic Galia melon is described as tasting sweetly aromatic with notes of tropical fruit. Give this variety a good sniff – its sweet scent is a great indicator it's ripe and ready!

CANARY

Fans of organic Canary melon crave the succulent texture of its pale green to cream-colored flesh and sweet flavor. Canary's skin begins to take on a waxy quality as it ripens, and its aroma is punctuated with hints of pineapple and banana.

SNOW LEOPARD

Sweet and juicy with firm white flesh, organic Snow Leopard leaps effortlessly from the grill into a fruit salad or sliced up for snacking. Snow Leopard shares a similar flavor profile with honeydew, but with crunchier flesh that makes this melon satisfying to munch.

TUSCAN

Considered by many a gourmet cantaloupe variety, organic Tuscan melon shares similar but elevated traits with its common cousin. Deep external ridges lighten from deep green towards yellow as the sugar develops, providing a great indicator of whether the orange flesh inside is sweet and firm or softer and with a richer flavor.

CANTALOUPE

Super sweet and deliriously aromatic, organic orange-fleshed cantaloupe is a forever-favorite. This quintessential melon tastes and smells like summer!

SEEDLESS WATERMELON

Refreshingly sweet and satisfyingly juicy with none of the hassle of seeds makes gorgeous organic seedless red watermelon the perfect warm-weather treat!

MINI SEEDLESS WATERMELON

Perfectly packable and personal-sized, this variety is great on the go or a melon to enjoy all to yourself!

No seeds make organic seedless watermelon delightfully convenient.

HONEYDEW

Nothing beats the heat like sweet, chilled organic green honeydew! Pair with salty favorites like cured meat and cheeses for elevated eating!

ORANGE HONEYDEW

Everything you love about a firm-fleshed honeydew, plus a honey-sweet flavor that eaters of all ages will enjoy. Try organic orange honeydew for a delicious twist on a well-loved favorite!
