What will I do at these meetings?

- Talk about what is most important about the health of the person you support.
- This information will be shared with clinicians (including doctors), insurers and researchers.
- This will help to improve healthcare.

Who is invited?

- Care partners of people with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities (IDD).
- All communication preferences will be accommodated.

How can I be involved?

- Attend a 2-hour group Zoom meeting (with a break) on:
  - September 12 at 1-3pm ET or 5-7pm ET

Will I be paid?

- Care partners will be paid $50 per hour in an electronic gift card.
- You will need to fill out a W-9 form and payment forms to be paid.

How do I register for this initiative?

- Register by clicking here.
- We have limited slots, so registration is required.
- If you have any questions, contact May-Lynn Andresen by email at ml.andresen@ie-care.org.
Why is this important?

- Healthcare works best when clinicians and health systems and insurance companies understand what is most important to patients and their care partners.
- People with IDD and their care partners don’t always get to explain what they care about and need.

About IIDDEAL

- IIDDEAL stands for Individuals with IDD, Engaged, Aligned, and Leading.
- IIDDEAL is a project to learn what parts of health are most important to people with IDD.
- IIDDEAL aims to make healthcare better for the IDD community.
- The project leaders are Teal Benevides from Augusta University, and Mai Pham and May-Lynn Andresen from Institute for Exceptional Care (IEC).
- Read more about IIDDEAL at www.ie-care.org/iiddeal

IIDDEAL is funded by the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI), Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Award, EASC-IDD-00241. This is not a research activity.