The unprecedented situation faced by the travel and tourism industry only reaffirms the importance of the Association as we work in partnership with our private and public sector members for the responsible development of travel and tourism to, from and within the Asia Pacific region.

Over the past decades, the highly interconnected and interdependent aspects of this industry have helped to facilitate the rapid growth of travel and tourism within the region, and it is these factors that will help the industry re-emerge from the current crisis. Now more than ever, the PATA community must play an integral role in recovery during these challenging times.

And like many industry stakeholders, PATA has had to innovate, re-imagine and adapt to this evolving situation, particularly to provide services and activities that can benefit the various needs of our diverse members. This would not be possible without the continued support and assistance of our members and the collective experience and knowledge that they bring to the Association.

We recognise that travel and tourism is not only a force for economic growth and job creation, but an important driver for cultural empathy and understanding across borders. In order to achieve such goals, the Association understands the need to work with our diverse network of member organisations from across the industry such as government, city and state tourism boards, destination management companies, airlines, hotels and resorts, tour operators and hundreds of other travel and tourism stakeholders.

The Association strives to meet the demands of the continually changing travel and tourism industry, and through these relationships we can ensure that the positive and real benefits of a sustainable and socially responsible travel and tourism industry can be applied equally to both visitors and the local communities alike.

PATA membership has its privileges. Stay closely connected to the PATA community. Reach out and collaborate for mutual benefits. Leverage on the many PATA events and activities. We are here to support you. It is the sense of community that makes PATA special!

Soon-Hwa Wong
Chair
Pacific Asia Travel Association (PATA)
Even with the impact of the current pandemic, the PATA membership community remains strong with over 600 members from both the public and private sector, and includes partnerships and agreements with other industry associations and global trade bodies. With this in mind, it is my pleasure to present the PATA Members Directory for 2021.

The strength of the Association has always relied on the extensive network of our members and industry partners, as well as the collective knowledge and insights that they bring. It is because of this strength, the Association continues to be widely recognised, respected and appreciated by many tourism stakeholders and communities in the region and beyond.

As we look forward towards recovery, our desire will be to build upon our past success in building partnerships and increasing tangible member benefits, as well as continue to innovate and adapt to the evolving industry landscape. In order to achieve this goal, the Association is committed to providing greater emphasis on member engagement, and the Members Directory is an essential resource in creating an effective Association that best serves the needs of all of our members.

With your continued support we can remain a powerful voice in working towards the responsible recovery and development of the travel and tourism industry in Asia Pacific and beyond. We remain committed in this mission and, with the assistance and support of our members, PATA will continue to show demonstrated leadership towards these goals.
