

34 Burgundy Beer Trail 📍

France

Paying homage to hops and yeast in a region where wine has long reigned

READ MORE

Wine lovers have long revered the great vintages of Burgundy. Now, beer lovers have their eyes on the Burgundy region, following the arrival of head-turning new breweries like Ammonite, Vif, Independent House and 90 BPM, all within 90 minutes of one another, and all rated among the best in France by fans on sites like Untappd and RateBeer.

Winemaking influences these new brewers, some of which employ solera barrel systems (like those used to age and blend sherry and Madeira wines), natural yeast, small oak barrels and other tools and techniques most often used by vintners.

Joann Pai for The New York Times

<https://www.nytimes.com/shared/v2/interactive/2023/travel/52-places-travel-2023/burgundy-beer-trail.html>