Free Book Network Hiring

On December 14th, President, VP Academics and University Affairs Lubaba Gemma and our full-time Campaigns and Advocacy staff conducted three interviews with three amazing candidates for the position of Free Book Network coordinator. We hired one successful candidate and we are looking forward to the work they will do for the Free Book Network program for our members in the new year. We are also looking at the possibility of introducing a new service within the FBN program to support students with any technological issues they might be facing due to the pandemic. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

CSS Finance Committee

On November 30th, and December 15th respectively President attended the council on student services financial advisory committee meeting to discuss potential student incidental fee increases student incidental fees for next year. This is because OSEW is looking to hire 4-5 equity hires (Black identifying staff) to support our Black students on campus. A follow up meeting was conducted on December 15th, where current and alumni Black students shared with the committee members why we should support the increases in fees to hire these positions that would sincerely help Black students at UTSC. The official meeting to vote on the increases is set to happen January 11th, 2021. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

GSAS x SCSU Introductory Meeting

On December 3rd, President met with the President of the Graduate Students' Association at Scarborough where we discussed how we both got involved with our student associations and one of the biggest struggles we are currently facing as President of our student associations. We then talked about UTSC’s Council on Student Services and our thoughts on the suggestion to increase student incidental fees for the 2021-2022 academic year. We shared our thoughts on OSEW’s approach for more equity hires that look and better reflect the students of UTSC. Before ending our meeting we went over GSAS’s and SCSU’s priorities for the 2020-2021 academic year and ways in which we can collaborate and support one another. A suggestion we came up with is academic related shadowing and/or volunteering opportunities that are beneficial to both grads and undergrads that promote networking opportunities. We also talked about collaborating on our mental health campaign once the demands have been finalized. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

Campus Curriculum Review (CCR) Working Circle

On November 19th, December 7th, and December 11th, the President attended UTSC’s Working Circle addressing anti-Blackness and anti-Indigenous sentiments embedded within our campus curriculum and how our campus curriculum can better support and reflect the needs of our students at UTSC. During the first introductory meeting of the Working Circle everyone introduced themselves and their roles at UTSC as well as our hopes for this curriculum review process. For the second meeting Kelly Crawford, Assistant Director Indigenous Initiatives did a presentation on Indigenous Ways of Knowing. We then received another presentation on Black Knowledges and Connections between Anti-Racism and Intersectional Approaches to EDI-Related Work by Cam Litchmore, the Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion Coordinator. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

TYC December Cabinet Meeting

On December 10th, President attended Toronto Youth Cabinet's December Cabinet meeting where guest speaker Habon Ali spoke about their experiences in community service, through school and her experiences as part of the Prime Minister Youth Council. There was a Q&A segment where various questions on these topics were answered. TYC’s Newcomer Working Group has released a survey designed to understand COVID’s impact on newcomer youth in the City of Toronto. They also discussed releasing a student mental health survey to hear from students on the state of their mental health, and to hear what changes they would like the provincial government and school boards to make to better address this crisis. This survey will be directed towards youth in middle and secondary schools. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca
New year Planning Meeting
On December 11th, the President organized a planning meeting with all of the executives to discuss plans for campaigns, events and services for the Winter 2021 semester. We talked about SCSU’s Winter Week of Welcome, Student Action Works (SAW) Week, and our service centre launches for January. For the month of February we briefly went over the events for Black History Month and our service and equity centre events that would be mostly catered towards our Black students at UTSC. For the month of March, we discussed staple events like SCSU’s Undergraduate Research Symposium and SCSU’s Multicultural week. For April we are planning to do exam care package deliveries with sponsored swag so keep a look out for those cool and free items that we hope would best support our members during the final exam period. We also finalized our campaign demands for each of our six campaigns. Lastly we talked about any new services and/or initiatives that we wanted to do in the new year. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

Meeting with Principal Wisdom Tettey and Dean of Student Experience and Wellbeing Desmond Pouyat
On December 15th, the President attended a meeting with Wisdom and Desmond to discuss updates on SCSU’s campaigns and services. For our campaigns we talked about Education for all and the university supporting us with our pilot Laptop program project that we plan on launching next semester. We talked about our addressing Anti-Blackness at Uoft campaign and our call to ban the special constables services at UofT and hiring crisis responders instead of defaulting to campus police for help when they don’t serve and protect all students. Another campaign we briefly talked about is UTSC’s stance on divesting from fossil fuels and who exactly within the university administration that we should connect with to get our campus to declare a climate change emergency and how our campus plans on reducing its carbon footprint. We talked about where we are at in terms of the course retake policy and who within the academic administration of UTSC would we need to connect with in order for us to revisit this policy for UTSC and have it available to students for September 2021. For our services we asked about DSL’s old office if we could use that space to expand SCSU’s Food Centre and we asked if the University would be willing to support SCSU’s Covid-19 Emergency support bursary and match SCSU’s $50K contribution. However they cannot commit to SCSU’s bursary because UofT has their own emergency support bursary for UofT students and that if we don;t have the funds we should refer students in need who meet the criteria to registrar’s office to see if they can apply for the universities emergency support bursary. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

SCSU’s Annual General Meeting
On November 26th, SCSU held our first ever virtual annual general meeting for the 2020-2021 academic year. SCSU’s AGM is an opportunity for our members to change SCSU’s By-Laws and change the direction of work of the SCSU. During the AGM, my team and I reviewed the past year of work while also upholding our commitment to accountability and transparency. We also reviewed the SCSU budget and auditors for the next year. This year we held our AGM on zoom and witnessed numbers of participants that SCSU has never seen before at an in person AGM. Big shoutout to our staff who worked diligently to ensure the meeting ran smoothly with no technical difficulties. We managed to get through most of the agenda and passed two motions before having to end the meeting due to orders of the day being called. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca

TEA: The 2020 Greener City Celebration
On December 8th, president and our part-time campaigns Staff spearheading our climate justice campaign attended Toronto Environmental Alliance’s 2020 Greener city virtual celebration. The virtual event talked about the transformative work happening in Toronto to respond, rebuild, and create a future that is more sustainable and just. This year has been a time of upheaval and change. It has also been a time of incredible re-envisioning and re-imagining of the future of our city. TEA talked about organizing and visioning happening within Toronto, highlighting the contributions of workers, community organizers and movement leaders. We definitely got a lot of great ideas from this virtual event that we are planning to include into SCSU’s Environmental campaign which is set to launch next semester. For any more information, suggestions, or questions please contact Sarah Abdillahi at president@scsu.ca
Vice-President University and Academic Affairs

Education For All: Access to Education from a Disability Justice Lens

As part of the Education For All Webinar Series, the VP AUA hosted a number of student leaders to come together and discuss the intersections of Disability Justice and access to education. This panel was hosted on Facebook Live on November 24th and remains on the SCSU Facebook page. Moderated by the VP AUA, the panelists discussed different barriers that students face when accessing their education, and how it uniquely affects students based on their physical and intellectual abilities. The VP AUA will continue to host this webinar series into the Winter semester, touching on topics such as Indigenous Sovereignty and the unique experiences of International Students. For more information, please contact Lubaba at academics@scsu.ca.

UTERN Op-Ed Writing

As the climate crisis continues to grow, it is important that institutions take a stand on environmental action to combat this global threat. Many post-secondary institutions have recently taken a stand on divesting from fossil fuels, yet the University of Toronto has not taken on such a leadership role as of yet. In order to push for such change, the VP AUA attend UTERN’s Op-Ed Writing workshop, working collaboratively with other student leaders across all UofT campuses to come together and research aspects of fossil fuel divestment. The hopes of this workshop are to write an Op-Ed on fossil fuel divestment, an issue that UTERN and the SCSU continue to grapple with. For more information, please contact Lubaba at academics@scsu.ca.

Digital Access Research

In a time where technology and digital access is at the heart of our day-to-day activities, it can be immensely difficult to stay connected without adequate access to digital technologies. Spearheaded by students in the International Development Studies program at UTSC and supervised by fellow faculty members, the SCSU is looking to collaborate with student leaders to understand the gaps in our access to digital technologies. For more information, please contact Lubaba at academics@scsu.ca.

Free Book Network

The VP AUA is currently revamping the Free Book Network for the 2020-2021 academic year. The newly hired Free Book Network Coordinator will support operations for the Free Book Network, which the VP AUA is hoping to move into a digital setting to improve remote access to resources. To better support students, the VP AUA is looking into introducing a laptop exchange program for students to access digital resources from the SCSU in order to support students as they navigate remote learning. For more information, please contact Lubaba at academics@scsu.ca.
