For Medical Professional Viewing Only. This site is not intended for consumers.

While there is enormous promise for HCT/P therapies, developers of these types of therapies are continuing to seek and establish efficacy, through the proper regulatory channels. This website, and the information contained on this website, is intended solely to inform and educate medical professionals about ongoing developments and innovations in the field of HCT/P therapies. It is not intended for patients and patients should not rely on any information on this website. By providing this information, Vitti Labs™ does not intend to make any claims or representations about the availability, effectiveness, or appropriateness of these products in medical treatment.

Professional judgment and expertise are needed when considering the use of human tissue allograft for any therapeutic or other use. Any person administering an HCT/P therapy shall have sole discretion and responsibility to determine in accordance with applicable law and professional standards if the product is usable and suitable for any and all intended uses and situations. Any user of the products shown on this website accepts and shall have full responsibility and liability with respect to such use, over which Vitti Labs™, LLC has no control.

Consult with your provider, scientific literature, and governmental agency databases and websites, including those of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and your state Medical Authorities for more information about HCT/Ps and to evaluate current information from clinical trials. The FDA has not approved any stem cell-based products for use, other than cord blood-derived hematopoietic progenitor cells (blood forming stem cells) for certain indications.
