Merry Christmas!

We just celebrated our one year anniversary with the Navigators in November! We're now three-quarters of the way through our initial funding goals. The girls are finishing up their first semester of homeschool in Colorado, and they are thriving. One of the most exciting experiences of the year has been getting to know and work with the phenomenal team of Nav20s staff here in Colorado Springs.

We've already had a positive impact for God's Kingdom. About a month ago, one of my new friends here in the Springs shared that he and his wife were really struggling through some leadership issues at their church. During that heart-to-heart my friend shared with me the pain and loss he and his wife were experiencing, and I got to share about some of the similar situations Jewel and I have been through.

Over the next couple weeks I walked with my new friend through the difficult process of healthy Biblical confrontation. We discussed and prayed through the best ways to preserve peace while also standing firm on the Word of God. My friend described the situation as consuming all other aspects of his life. Now, several weeks later, my friend and his wife have honorably done all they can to walk faithfully before God through this situation.

Despite the time and emotional turmoil it takes to walk with someone who is suffering, I would do it all again! My friend's story of pain and loss associated with broken relationships and man's sinful nature is a stark reminder of the meaning of this season. I think of the pain Jesus felt as he took the punishment for the sins of a broken world. Thank God he sent Jesus into this world to redeem our broken relationships with Him!

This Christmas, Jewel and I are also incredibly thankful for all of you! Your prayers and financial support have been critical in placing us where we are today. If you'd like to give an end-of-the-year gift or start partnering on a regular basis, use the link below. Thank you for standing with us as we advance the gospel of Jesus! Merry Christmas!!
