Geography 2050: The Future of Food
Sponsorship Opportunities

Geography 2050 is a multi-year strategic dialog about the vital trends that will reshape the geography of our planet over the coming decades. First launched in 2014, the American Geographical Society will convene this ninth installment of the Geography 2050 Symposium, bringing together thought leaders from government, business, academia, not-for-profit, and educators from across our nation who understand geography as a geospatial science and the impact on our future economy, environment, and geopolitical state of affairs.

Contribution to become a Gold Sponsor is $25,000

Gold Sponsors will receive:

- 4 complimentary Symposium registrations
- 3 invitations to Chairman’s Dinner (Thursday, 17 November 2022)
- primary recognition in all marketing materials (digital announcements, directional posters, printed materials)
- specific recognition in Welcome and Conclusion Remarks
- logo placement and link to corporate homepage on Geography 2050 website
- logo placement and link to corporate homepage on AGS main website
- logo and name placement on program
- option for complimentary swag placement in participant packets

For more information, contact:

Dr. John Konarski III  Dr. Christopher Tucker  Dr. Marie Price
Chief Executive Officer  Chairman  President
American Geographical Society  American Geographical Society  American Geographical Society jkonarski@americangeo.org  tucker@americangeo.org  mprice@gwu.edu geography2050.org  americangeo.org