To reserve an Academic Geography/GIS Department Table for the American Geographical Society’s 2023 Fall Symposium

GEOGRAPHY 2050: THE CHANGING MAP OF RISK, HAZARDS, & FINANCE

Sponsorship Opportunities

in partnership with

Columbia Climate School

Geography 2050 is a multi-year strategic dialog about the vital trends that will reshape the geography of our planet over the coming decades. First launched in 2014, the American Geographical Society will convene this tenth installment of the Geography 2050 Symposium, bringing together thought leaders from government, business, academia, not-for-profit, and educators from across our nation who understand geography as a geospatial science and the impact on our future economy, environment, and geopolitical state of affairs.

Contribution to reserve an Academic Geography/GIS Table is $1,000

Departments will receive:

- 3 complimentary Symposium registrations
- recognition in marketing materials (digital announcements, directional posters, printed materials, etc.)
- specific recognition in Welcome remarks
- logo placement and link to University/Department homepage on Geography 2050 website
- 1 table with at least 5 chairs in Roone Arledge Auditorium
- table poster with logo and name of department
