Through the responsible use of herbicides, farmers can employ conservation tillage and decrease the erosion of soil up to 90%.