

ENGEN

The impact of CONFIDENCE

We measure our impact in terms of reach, performance, and real-world outcomes, offering access and opportunity to a previously ignored population of New Americans.

In 2021, EnGen served 16,213 learners, including recently arrived refugees with low levels of literacy as well as skilled immigrants with degrees and credentials from their home countries. They spoke more than thirty-five different languages and were from all 50 states.

Equipping our workforce with the career and technical skills they need for the millions of open jobs in our country today. We are also enabling New Americans with the English they need to participate in their communities and advocate for themselves and their families.
