Misplaced Blame

It seems that some folks on the right have a very short-term memory. August 26th was the third anniversary of the suicide bombing that killed 13 U.S. troops during the withdrawal from Afghanistan. Trump recently used the grave sites of those who were killed for a campaign ad blatantly attempting to blame the Biden administration for causing their deaths.

Let's remember that it was Trump who negotiated the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Afghanistan. It was Trump who forced the Afghan government to release thousands of jailed Taliban soldiers in a prison swap. It was Trump's decision that resulted in the Taliban's rapid return to power.

Lies and more lies are what we hear from Trump, and it will only get worse as we close in on election day. He will stoop to any low to win this election. We cannot become numb to his antics.
