Kim K	Los Angeles, CA	Your story of Tommy's love for animal rights reminded me of readings by Pete Singer from my Freshman year philosophy class (and a paper in which I argued against the use of animals for food), and so I'm pledging to participate in Meat-Free February (a thing I just made up, but if I can do Dry January, I can certainly do that). I am Texan-born and raised on red-meat, and have never found the will-power to even attempt vegetarianism, but to honor Tommy's memory, I will now do so. Thank you so much for sharing his story and his light with the world. May his memory continue to be a blessing.

Joyce		We rescued an injured squirrel that appeared to have fallen from a tree, was stunned, had a large gash on its back leg, and was unable to get to safety. We sheltered him overnight until we could reach Animal Control. An officer came quickly and determined the animal was well enough to be released. In fact, he escaped before we could release him. We thanked the officer for the work he does.....must be difficult to deal with injured animals every day. Tommy loved animals and would have done the same.

Alexandros Mantikas	Athens, Greece	I read today about the story of Tommy and it broke my heart. Around three weeks ago, a stray dog started sleeping outside our home's door. When I walked my dog, he followed us around. He was thin, hungry and scared. My wife and I decided to start taking care of him. We bought him food, a new house with a warm blanket, gave him medicine and ensured he will not stay out in the cold anymore. So this act of Goodness is dedicated to the loving memory of Tommy, a young man I never met, but who seemed to be the kind of person who made everything and everyone around him better. Rest in peace Tommy, you will never be forgotten. I will continue making Acts of Goodness.
Dianne Bradley & Maurice Zeeman	Silver Spring, MD	Donated $500 to World's Food Kitchen in Memory of Tommy Raskin. Please heal Jamie and family. You have done so much for others too.
