New Marlborough Artists and Friends

This free community event invites art lovers to take a day (or two!) to travel our beautiful country roads, visiting working art studios. This event is free and open to the public and requires no pre-registration or ticketing. The sixteen artists listed below will be displaying their art and creative process in their studios. Many will have works in progress and works for sale. We encourage using GPS to find these studios, but cell service is sporadic, so you may want to plan your tour in advance. SIGNS WILL BE ALONG THE ROUTE. Enjoy this fun event, see the different working styles of artists in their studios, and if you're inspired, buy art directly from the artists!

KATHRYN FREEMAN

76 Mill River Gt Barrington Rd, Mill River
301.785.7225 www.kathrynfreeman.com

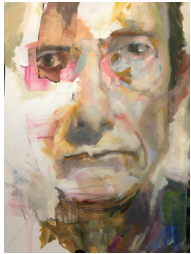

My fascination with storytelling and treading the delicate balance between reality and dream is the catalyst for my work and a constant source of ideas. My reason for painting, is to express something both meaningful and truthful about the human spirit.

JIM SINGELIS

39 Hatchery Rd, Hartsville
413.645.4410 www.jtsingelis.com

Jim's main focus is on the representation of the human face. Jim lives in New Marlborough, Massachusetts. He and his ceramicist wife, Linda Skipper, share a studio together.

LINDA SKIPPER

39 Hatchery Rd, Hartsville
917.690.5812 www.lindaskipper.com

Simple, graceful, quiet, balanced ... I strive to make peaceful, balanced, self contained objects, to be appreciated and enjoyed equally as a beautiful vase or bowl living on a shelf, or as a working vessel that builds a relationship over time with its owner.

ABBE STAHL

148 Lumbert Cross Rd, Mill River
413.229.2679 www.harrietandabbe.com

My studio is filled with cityscapes and landscapes — forests, meadows, dunes and deserts, as well as a variety of abstract works. Whether realistic or abstract, the work begins with an emotional or visual puzzle, and the task is to find a visual solution.

JAYE ALISON MOSCARIELLO

Guest Artist at
148 Lumbert Cross Rd, Mill River
310.970.4517 www.jayealison.com

In my abstract art, I strive to encapsulate the essence of the complex interplay of emotions, memories, and personal evolution, rendering the intangible and offering a visual narrative that encourages contemplation and connection.

CARYN KING

333 Cross Rd to Canaan Valley, Southfield
413.229.5947 www.carynking.com
www.instagram.com/carynkingart/

My studio is overflowing with an array of artwork. You will find my animal and flower paintings along with clay bowls, birds, rabbits, vases and garden sculptures as well as some surprises!

LIESL CARLSON

Guest Artist at 333 Cross Rd to Canaan Valley, Southfield
508.244.9139 instagram.com/carlson_creates/
Liesl Carlson of Carlson Creates is a jewelry artist who fabricates one of a kind, handcrafted adornment using sterling silver and gemstones. Liesl maintains a studio practice in New Marlborough.

ANN GETSINGER

636 Hartsville-New Marlborough Rd
New Marlborough www.anngetsinger.com
www.instagram.com/anngetsinger_art/

Ann's oil paintings, while rooted in realism, are often described as something more akin to a nuanced form of surrealism. Her work has been shown in many galleries and is widely collected.

SHAWN FIELDS

67 Clayton Mill River Rd, Mill River
www.shawnfields.com
www.instagram.com/ifiwere_apainter/

Shawn Fields is an artist living and working in Mill River. He is best known for his narrative oil paintings featuring children playing. He lives with his wife, three children, three cats, seven chickens and their dog Agnes.

JODY KING CAMARRA

29 Richard Drive, Ashley Falls
646.280.5621
www.jodykingcamarra.com/

Relocating from NYC, Jody King Camarra has created a studio space to make and teach art in the southern Berkshires. Here you'll find an eclectic array of artwork from collage and altered books to ceramics and paintings.

JESSE TOBIN

Guest Artist at 29 Richard Drive, Ashley Falls
jessetobinmccauley.com
www.instagram.com/mooreofthetobin

Tobin's vibrant abstractions combine geometric shapes, mark making, and a playful use of a modern palette. She shares a sense of happiness that is evoked by the flood of fresh color interacting on the canvas.

JANE BURKE

731 New Marlborough South Sandisfield Rd.
(Route 183) New Marlborough
413.429.6103

There will be throwing demonstrations, an opportunity to try the wheel, and talks on the chemistry of clay and glazes. Work from 1980-2024 will be on display that show different effects from firing in the wood, gas, or electric kilns.

BARBARA CROCKER

221 Lumbert Cross Rd, Mill River 413.429.6201
www.instagram.com/bcrocker221

I have been a jeweler/metalsmith for 50 years but with an interest in exploring different processes and mediums. I began letterpress printing 20 years ago and work with 2 antique presses in my studio. I also do silverpoint drawing, small-scale egg tempera painting and more.

ELIZABETH LOMBARDI

571 Hayes Hill Road, Mill River
413.229.8972
issuu.com/anthrousa/docs/bh-17-web/s/11141439

Elizabeth paints primarily in watercolor. Her subject matter is as often the figure as the natural world. She is often experimenting with beeswax mediums and with illuminated images. You will see a lifetime of beautiful art at her studio.

ROBIN TOST

589 Clayton Mill River Rd, Mill River
413.229.7707 www.robintost.com

I built my studio out of an old barn. It became a perfect repository for my vast collection of accumulated scrap metal and junk. I started out making metal quilts which segued into animals and birds. I cut shapes, pierce them with a drill press and sew them onto a steel frame with wire.

ELMER OROBIO

125 Oak Street, Sheffield
413.229.9055 www.elmerorobio.com

Elmer Orobio studies the properties of unusual pieces of found wood and then works it until an image begins to emerge, adding other bits of wood or small shells, bones, or stones found locally. His approach is organic, free and fluid.
