ALL YOU NEED IS A CHORD PROGRESSION AND A MELODY

Don't think you're ready to start recording with Studio Pros? You need a lot less than you realize

Did you know you already have what you need to record your album? Even if it's only the basic elements of a song in your head, it's probably enough to get started. The Beatles famously claimed that "all you need is love." I'm here to claim that if you want to record your music, all you need is a melody and a chord progression. (A little love doesn't hurt, either!)

You don't need every section of your song planned out note by note; you don't need the intro melody or the solo section completely finished. All you need is a song "sketch."

The sketch is a rough outline of your song. The chord progression, melody and lyrics are the heart and soul of your track. The rest of the production is built from these fundamental elements. When you work with Studio Pros' world-class session musicians, they use their professional expertise to flesh out your creation and provide the finishing touches.

The production process involves diving into every last detail of your song. That could include a killer guitar lick in the bridge or a melodic hook in the background vocals. With Studio Pros, you get to be involved every step of the way. You approve each instrument as it's recorded. The best part is, you'll be working with some of the best musicians in the business—Grammy-nominated engineers and top-notch players who have appeared on hundreds of albums. You'll collaborate with professionals who know how to take your song to the next level. Next-level songs stand out among the throngs of artists vying for the attention of record labels and music supervisors.

Consider Tim Knighton, an artist we recently featured in our blog. In the post, you get to hear how his song went from a rough sketch to a full professional production. This step-by-step progression proves that you don't need every song detail planned out before you decide to lay it down.

Don't make excuses—especially the excuse that your songs aren't completely finished—to avoid recording your tracks right now while we have a special package price for full productions.
