The Mission
To reduce poverty by providing hope-inspiring help and real opportunities for self-sufficiency.

The Agenda
IMPACT Community Action is one of 50 Community Action Agencies in Ohio and more than 1,100 nationally that is on the front line in the War on Poverty. IMPACT’s call to action and brand identity center around the “ripple effect” -- the repercussions of an event or situation experienced far beyond its immediate location.

Each year, IMPACT serves more than 20,000 families in Columbus and Franklin County who are at or below 200% of the Federal Poverty Level. Through a variety of programs and services, we provide short-term emergency assistance, energy efficiency and longer-term empowerment services.

IMPACT focuses its efforts and resources on empowering people to become self-sufficient. The following parable is a common refrain within our organization, “if you give a man a fish, he will eat for a day; but if you teach him how to fish, he will eat for a lifetime.” Through a shared vision and common agenda with our partners, we provide real opportunities that make a collective impact in our community.

The Vision
“Each time a man stands up for an ideal, or acts to improve the lot of others, or strikes out against injustice, he sends forth a tiny ripple of hope, and crossing each other from a million different centers of energy and daring, those ripples build a current which can sweep down the mightiest walls of oppression and resistance.”

Senator Robert Kennedy,
University of Cape Town – June 6, 1966
“I know it may be just dollars to your foundation, but to me it was hope and I am a different man because of the opportunity that you provided for Weinland Park.”

Letter from the Chief Executive Officer

This statement from Mr. Michael M. pierced our hearts as he thanked the JPMorgan Chase Foundation for its generous donation to IMPACT’s Workforce Development Program which enabled him to receive the work-readiness training and job placement services that he needed.

Because of the partnership between Chase and IMPACT, Michael was able to move from crisis to stabilization and from stability to self-sufficiency. Michael, like many people in central Ohio, was looking for more than another program or service that provides assistance, he was looking for change.

The year 2013 was a year of transition for Community Action. Through our strategic partnerships, we were able to secure funding that targeted specific service areas and produced measurable outcomes. I am proud to say that we have been, and will continue to be successful in our efforts of cross-sector partnering to bridge the gaps for the impoverished.

I began 2013 with one of my favorite quotes which states, “one thing we know for sure is that change is certain. Progress is not. Progress depends on the choices we make and actions that we take.”

I am proud to lead an organization that understands the progressive movements needed to bring about positive changes in our community. My staff and I have witnessed the transformation in the people that we serve. We have seen how the choices that they are making today inspire their families, friends and the community.

As we continue to be dedicated to reducing poverty in Columbus and Franklin County, it is important that real opportunities for self-sufficiency lead to financial freedom and I am proud to say that we have made progress in this area. I invite you all to read our report and remember that we know it may be just dollars and cents to some, but for others, it is hope!

Sincerely,

Robert E. Chilton

“Community Action changes lives, embodies the spirit of hope, Improves communities and makes America a better place to live.”

LETTER FROM THE BOARD CHAIR

The year 2013 was an aggressive year of change. As a board member and the current Board Chair of IMPACT Community Action, I have been encouraged by the outcomes and the collective impact of our strategic partnerships that are changing lives and reshaping how we do business. I believe that the current economic state, the dwindling middle class and the limited resources to fight poverty are creating the perfect opportunity for private and non-profit sectors to pilot programs and services that are on the cutting edge of change in the City of Columbus.

Community Action has become a problem solver. While linking with other human service agencies, we have been able to reduce barriers so that people are able to take advantage of services that sustain their households, increase income and gain valuable assets. We are committed to change by re-examining our past and present programs and services while looking at ways to improve our methodologies to better serve the public.

We have sound fiscal practices which have given us the credibility to be trusted with your dollars. Our Board is especially proud of this. Being able to demonstrate fiscal accountability means that you can rely on the Board to govern; and you can trust Community Action to be good stewards over the funds we receive to impact the lives of others.

Our Board is committed to this agency and believes in its mission, vision and values. The Promise of Community Action is to change lives, embody the spirit of hope, improve communities and make America a better place to live, and we stand proudly behind this promise.

I invite you to read through the 2013 Annual Report with the understanding that for every dollar spent, there is a priceless exchange with our customers. It is called hope. Though unquantifiable, hope is the agent of change that makes it possible for us to reduce poverty, change people’s lives and to make sure that each person has the opportunity to fulfill his or her potential.

We hope you make a personal commitment to contribute to the success of others and support us as you look through our accomplishments.

Sincerely,
Kevin Hilvert, Attorney

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS’ REPORT

To the Board of Directors of IMPACT Community Action
Columbus, Ohio

Report on the Financial Statements
We have audited the accompanying financial statements of IMPACT Community Action (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statements
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion
In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of IMPACT Community Action as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards
In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated May 28, 2014, on our consideration of the IMPACT Community Action’s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the IMPACT Community Action’s internal control over financial reporting and compliance.
