

FEMINIST HUMANITARIAN NETWORK MEMBERS AT WOMEN DELIVER

Lipi Rahman

Lipi Rahman has worked with NGOs to advance women's and girls' rights and end VAW since 2002. She is co-founder of Badabon Sangho, an organization that supports women, particularly vulnerable women to increase access to and control over land, property, and water-bodies; and climate justice for women and girls. Badabon Sangho has mobilized over 4,000 women and girls in 107 grassroots groups, providing legal support and training to support them to engage with local government on their rights. Lipi is an active member of national and international networks including the Feminist Humanitarian Network, and contributes to national-level advocacy campaigns.

Winnie Tumwine

Winnie Tumwine is the founder and Executive Director of Hope for Single Mothers with Disabilities, a women-led NGO in Rwanda representing single mothers with disabilities. Hope for Single Mothers actively promotes inclusion and diversity, focussing on the rights and needs of young women and women with disabilities. Winnie holds a Bachelors degree in Monitoring and Evaluation from Makerere University, is an expert in disability advocacy, and a trainer on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in local communities in Rwanda. Winnie represents HSM on the Feminist Humanitarian Network, and is a member of the FHN's Advocacy Committee.

Mmonbeydo Nadine Joah

Mmonbeydo Nadine Joah is a member of the FHN Membership Committee. Mmonbeydo is a lawyer and feminist who believes everyone should have the right to live a life free from violence, and where men and women, boys and girls enjoy equal rights and opportunities and have a say in decisions that affect them. She is the Executive Director of Organization for Women and Children (ORWOCH) in Liberia, which is a network member of the Feminist Humanitarian Network (FHN), and the President of the Network of Peace and Security Women in ECOWAS Countries (NOPSWECO).

Naomi Tulay-Solanke

Naomi Tulay-Solanke is a Liberian feminist, human rights activist, humanitarian, and Founder Executive Director of Community Healthcare Initiative (CHI), a local NGO providing healthcare and social services to women and children in underserved and hard to reach communities in Liberia. Naomi has nurtured a career in female advocacy with a interest in working with underprivileged youths through the provision of advocacy, awareness and basic health and social services, especially to women and girls. She is passionate about the role local actors play at community and national levels. She holds a Master's Degree in Public Health specialized in Community Health.

Irene Dawa

Irene Dawa is a founder of Community Empowerment for Peace and Development West Nile (CEPADWN) in Uganda (www.cepawestnile.org). She has a PhD in management science specialising in gender and peacebuilding from Durban, South Africa, an MA in International Relations from the catholic university of the sacred heart of Milan, Italy, and an MA in Peace and conflict studies from the European Peace University, Austria. Irene has in the last ten years worked on widening the civic space, participation and representation of women and youth in Uganda and Africa at large.

Sandra Macías del Villar

FHN Steering Committee member, Sandra is a passionate intersectional Latinx feminist with extensive experience working in the human rights philanthropic sector. She has specialized in feminist grantmaking with women's funds as well as resourcing social justice movements and grassroots organizations for more than a decade. Sandra is currently the Program Director, Crisis at the Global Fund for Women and has deep expertise in the crises, development, and humanitarian sectors. In these spaces Sandra has been a strong advocate with and for women, girls, trans and gender nonconforming people as well as historically marginalized populations.

Josephine Mugishagwe

Josephine Mugishagwe is a feminist based in Tanzania, working with Fós Feminista as a Senior Program Officer. She is a catalyst and thought partner for Alliance partners across different regions. For over eight years she worked as an Evaluation and Resource Mobilization Manager at IWORDS Global creating proposals for the Harm Reduction Program in Tanzania and Uganda, training on participatory research methodologies, developed legal interpretation and application for models to expand access to safe abortion. At National level she worked with the Family Planning Association to ensure the Tanzanian Court of Appeal upholds the landmark 2016 ruling by the High Court against child marriage and the establishment of weekend Youth Friendly Services for district health centres.

Jacqueline Hart

Member of the FHN Advocacy Committee, Jacqueline Hart, PhD, is a feminist sociologist and thought leader in gender justice. Jacqueline has served as: the Senior Director for Strategy at the Women's Refugee Commission; the VP for Strategic Learning, Research, and Evaluation at AJWS, an international human rights grant-making and advocacy organization; faculty in the health advocacy master's program at Sarah Lawrence College; the Director of Research at Planned Parenthood of NYC; a consultant for the Solidarity Center and the World Bank; a community capacity building scholar at the Scribe Video Center.

Akullo Betty

Akullo Betty is a lawyer, feminist and founder of Women and Rural Development Network (WORUDET), a women rights organization working in northern Uganda with a focus to end poverty and injustice against women girls especially violence against women and girls in the underserved conflict affected northern Uganda. Akullo Betty has nurtured a career in humanitarian programming, SRHR, economic empowerment and livelihoods, women peace and security, climate change and women's leadership. Akullo Betty has worked with several organizations touching the lives of women and girls affected in pre and post conflict through supporting their recovery and advocating for their rights. She is a promoter of girls' education, women's leadership, and a climate change activist.

Kasey Ochiltree

Kasey Ochiltree is the Humanitarian Gender Advisor for Oxfam in the US. She has over 12 years of experience working in the humanitarian space, with over 7 years experience focused on gender in emergencies and humanitarian action. As a feminist humanitarian, Kasey's work focuses on women's leadership in local humanitarian action and in disaster-risk reduction, in addition to intersectional inclusion work in external programming and internal processes as a member of the Gender Resource Network. She is a co-representative of Oxfam sitting in the FHN and a member of the FHN communications committee. Kasey is a board member and secretary of GRACE Cares, a non-profit that partners with local heroes and communities on small-scale community development projects.

Claire Mathonsi

Claire Mathonsi is CARE USA's Associate Vice President for Gender Justice. She has over 20 years of experience in gender transformation and integration for development, program delivery, influencing and advocacy at various levels and across a range of programmatic areas including SRHR, economic empowerment and GBV. She previously worked as the Deputy Executive Director at the Advocacy Accelerator (AAC) incubated at AMREF Health Arica. She is a founding member of the Southern Feminist Futures and serves on the board of a number of African feminist organizations including Akina Mama wa Africa (Uganda), Make Every Woman Count (Guinea) and Access Chapter 2 (South Africa).

Rahel Beigel

Rahel Beigel is an advocate and strategist specializing in humanitarian policy, international human rights law, and conflict and security. She is currently the UN Representative and Senior Advocacy Officer for the Women's Refugee Commission where she focuses on UN Security Council influencing and engagement with UN agencies. Rahel's expertise includes forced migration, crisis response advocacy, Women, Peace and Security agenda; SOGIESC equity, and inclusion, gender mainstreaming, women's and LGBTIQ+ civil society participation in UN processes, and feminist foreign policy. Rahel serves on the board of the Women's Peace and Humanitarian Fund, is a member of the Feminist Humanitarian Network, and serves as Treasurer on the NGO CSW Executive Committee.

Bridget Rhinehart

Individual member of the FHN, Bridget Rhinehart is the Head of Office Rwanda for the Kvinna till Kvinna Foundation. Bridget has been working in the humanitarian and development sectors for the past 10 years across sub-Saharan Africa, Europe and the Middle East with the World Food Programme, Save the Children, and Kvinna till Kvinna. Her specialisation is in women, peace and security. Bridget has lead and grown the Kvinna till Kvinna office in Rwanda since 2019 and she is also chair of the national technical working group for women empowerment and gender equality for international NGOs. Bridget holds an MSc in Women, Peace and Security from the London School of Economics and Political Science, UK.

