Voluntary and Paid traineeships for Archives and Records Management in the UK & Ireland

Below are the details of both voluntary and paid work experience and graduate traineeships offered by Archive and Records Management services in the UK and Ireland.

Please note that this list is of posts that are regularly provided and whose service has contacted us to be included. There may therefore be other opportunities for paid work in archives and/or records management in your area that are not on this list. Such posts are often advertised in the local press as well as the ARCHIVES-NRA Emailing list for archival issues and opportunities in the UK. You can join this mailing list by going to its subscription page at; https://www.jiscmail.ac.uk/cgi-bin/webadmin?A0=archives-nra.

N.B. Please pay attention to the date of advertisement for any post you are interested in as many of the below services have strict timetables in terms of recruitment and do not accept speculative CVs at any other times of the year. If you are in any doubt over the details provided below contact the person given for each post to find out more.

There may be ad-hoc voluntary opportunities for archives and/or records management work experience in your area that are not on this list. Contact Archives and Records Management services in your area to see what might be available.

The Archives Online Directory (http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/archon/) has the contact details of the majority of UK and Irish archive services, arranged helpfully by the same regions as below. Many Archive services also have sister Records Management services, so the ARCHON Directory can also be of use for those interested in acquiring records management experience.

Main duties/opportunities
Cotesbach Educational Trust is seeking student volunteers to join a team already working on an archive cataloguing project at Cotesbach Hall. The archive is to be an indefinite loan to the CET from the Marriott family, and includes correspondence documents and visual material relating to the management of Cotesbach Estate which the family has owned since 1759, important theological material with strong links to the Oxford Movement, WW1 primary source material and much more. The placement would involve working with Modes Compact software and shared databases as we build up the digital information supporting the archive, working both in Excel and with Gedcom files, importing and adding to data using Family Historian software. Creative and up-to-date input including social networking is a necessary step forward as we work towards our wider aim of making the archive accessible to a wide range of people through educational programmes designed for the CET once it is up and running (see www.cotesbachschoolhouse.org.uk).

London, WC1X 8NH, UK
Tel: +44 (0)20 3463 7399

The International Institute for Environment and Development (IIED) is a leader in the field of sustainable development. With over 80 staff based in London and partners around the world, IIED has been at the forefront of policy-making in development for nearly 40 years. IIED aims to provide expertise and leadership in researching and achieving sustainable development at national, regional and global levels. In alliance with others, the institute is working to end global poverty and deliver and sustain efficient and equitable management of the world’s resources. For more information, please see www.iied.org

David Satterthwaite is one of our Senior Fellows and longest serving member of staff. He is a world expert in his field of human settlements. Over the last 40 years, he has built up a substantial paper archive of materials, including books, papers from conferences, background materials, press cuttings, journal papers and so on. http://www.iied.org/group/human-settlements

We are looking for an archivist to work on this archive, catalogue it and turn the non-book material into a digital archive which can then be accessed by practitioners across the world.

This is a new activity for IIED and we are looking for a volunteer who can advise on the project and carry out the archiving task. We will cover travel expenses within the London zone system, and a lunch allowance.

If you are interested in this opportunity, please could you write to me at IIED, setting out your interest, approach and availability. I intend to interview the top candidates over the next few weeks.

Middle East Centre Archive St Antony’s College
Oxford OX2 6JF
debbie.usher@sant.ox.ac.uk

Main Duties/Opportunities available: The main experience offered is in cataloguing. Training is provided and experience gained in cataloguing a small collection. In addition to cataloguing, volunteers can also gain experience in digitisation, repackaging and retroconversion of catalogues. Training and experience is also offered in using the cataloguing software Adlib for Archives.

Number of posts: Arrange with Archivist
Duration: Arrange with Archivist. For cataloguing a 2 week period is the recommended minimum.
Voluntary Opportunity
Main Duties/Opportunities available: At interview, potential volunteers will be asked about their interests, experience and skills so that they can be matched with an appropriate project. Possible projects include listing, digitising, repackaging and cataloguing archives, and publicising our collections through social media and printed material. Free coffee and biscuits are provided.

Duration: Flexible and unlimited, generally available throughout the year. Any commitment is considered but volunteers must be prepared to commit to at least one full day a week (10:00-15:00) for a minimum period of two months in order to ensure completion of the specific archive project which they would be set.

Voluntary Opportunity
The Royal Voluntary Service Archive & Heritage Collection was formed in 1958, the organisation’s twentieth anniversary, to gather together and keep safe records which were of long term historical importance.

Since then the Archive & Heritage Collection has been collecting material both from within the organisation and from our volunteers around the United Kingdom and overseas to tell the amazing story of over one million women and men who have given extraordinary service to their communities and helped shape British society.

We are seeking enthusiastic graduate volunteers to help provide support for cataloguing and development programme of a nationally important collection for women’s history. In addition to research and project work involved in the charities services and activities, the opportunity will be available to participate in creating the archival structure of the collection as well as learning about and using the CALM cataloguing software and operating an archival enquiry service.

Number of posts: up to 2 at any one time

Duration: Any commitment is considered but we would ask that volunteers be prepared to commit to at least one full day a week (10:00-16:00/09:00-15:00 (Mondays, Tuesdays, or Thursdays)) for a period of six months.

If you are interested in applying, please send a copy of your CV and a one page statement detailing why you are interested in the post to Jennifer Hunt archive@royalvoluntaryservice.org.uk. For an informal discussion about the post please contact Jennifer Hunt.

Telephone: 01525 290 333

The Bedford Estates Archive is an internationally important collection. The wealth of archives, dating from the 14th century, record the history of the Russell family in the personal and political papers of the Earls and Dukes of Bedford and their estate papers. The department also manages the modern business records of Woburn Abbey, Woburn Golf Club, Woburn Safari Park and London Estate and advises on data protection compliance.

Available now (July 2021): we are looking to recruit an Archive Apprentice – Level 3.

You will have the opportunity to support the activities of a busy support whilst gaining a vocational qualification. The post will contribute to customer service provision, library accessioning and archive cataloguing. The post holder will develop a working knowledge of cataloguing software and become familiar with a range of information resources.
