

Spent the first 30 years of his career (1975-2005) at the European Centre for Particle Physics, in Geneva, Switzerland, where he was responsible for the implementation of the worldwide computing distributed infrastructure with projects such EU-DataGrid and EGEE. Director for external research in Latam and EMEA at Microsoft (2005-2013). Now senior advisor to the Barcelona Supercomputing Centre and General Manager of the RISC2 HPC project to support an EU and Latam dialogue on HPC. Director of the 2021 ACM HPC summer school in Barcelona in September 2021. Director of the first EU-ASEAN HPC school, in Bangkok, in July 2021. Formerly visiting professor, at the Gran Sasso Scientific Institute, L'Aquila, Italy and leader of many EU funded projects in Europe and elsewhere. In 2009 he started the ACM European council. ACM is the largest and oldest Computing professional association. He won a number of prizes, including the ACM President Award in 2013 and again in 2018.

FABRIZIO GAGLIARDI

BSC