

YOU BELONG HERE.

Everyone needs a place to connect with the land and access fresh food, trails, and waters.

Retreat Farm is a free public common where everyone can feel profound connections to the land that feeds us, to our shared history, and to the community we inhabit.

Membership is FREE.

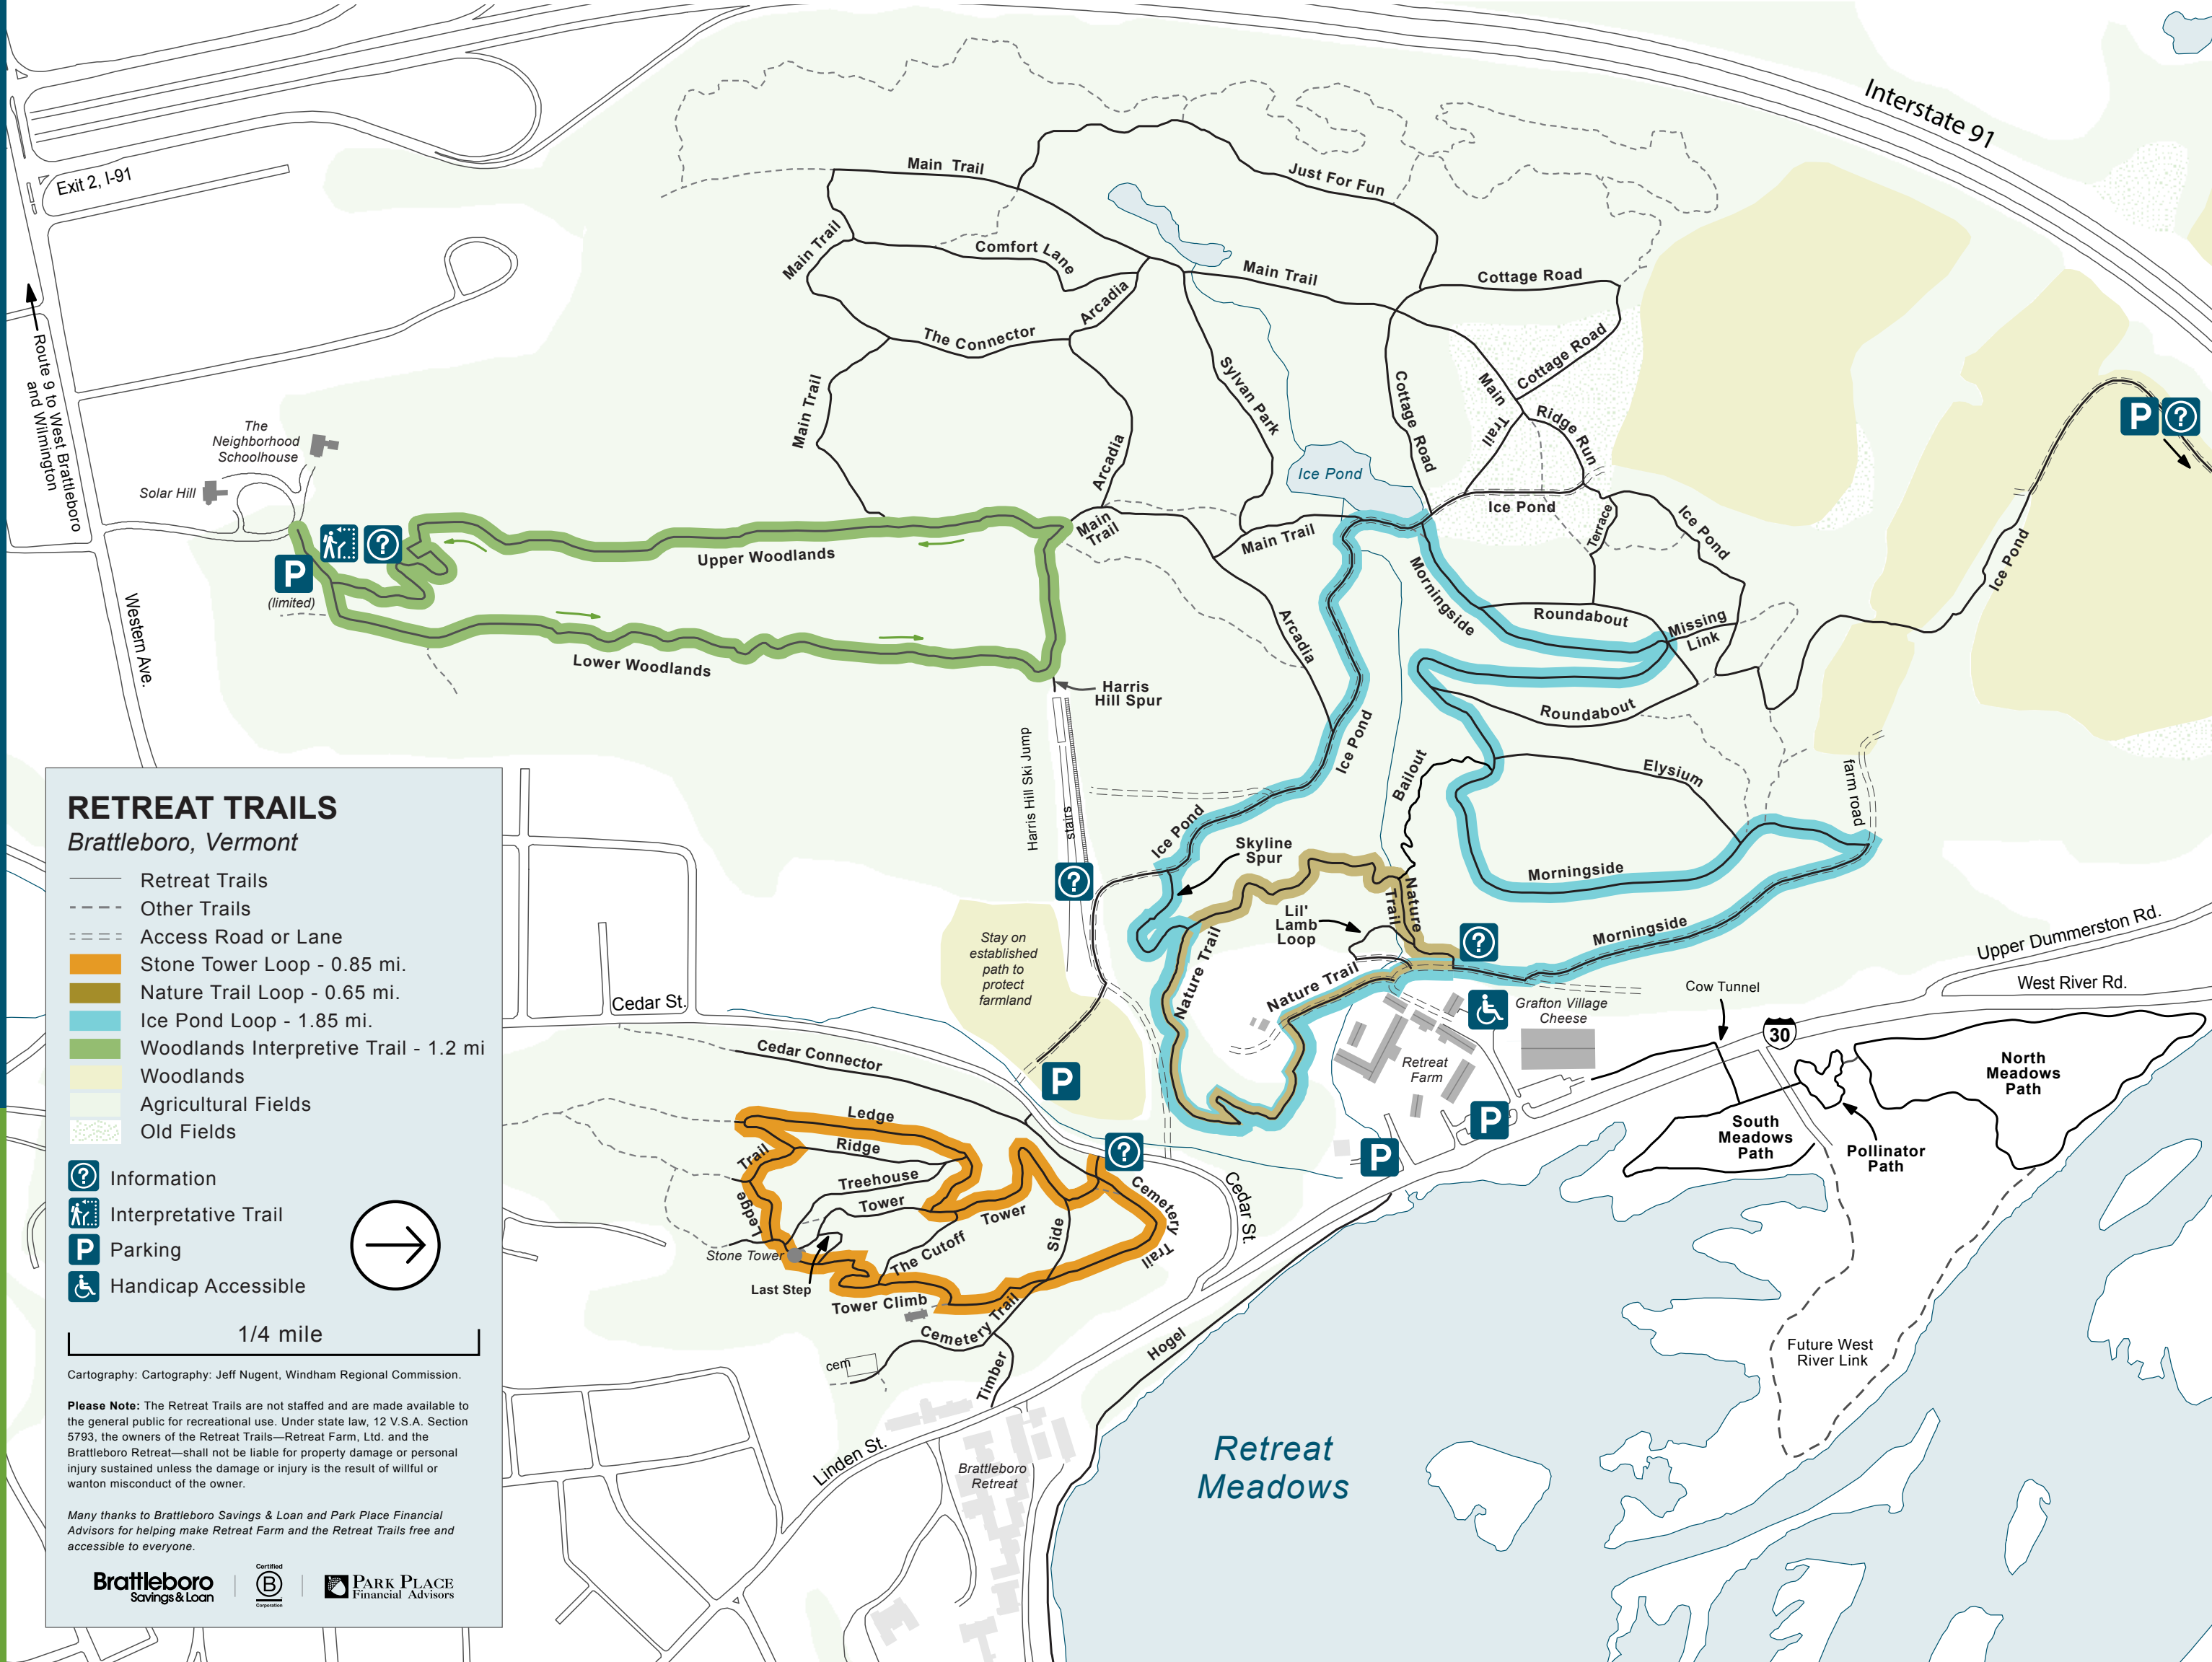

Become a part of the extraordinary community that is growing here at Retreat Farm.

Join our family by visiting retreatfarm.org.

We trust that by putting our community first, Community Builders like you will help make Retreat Farm a free and accessible resource.

Please consider making a tax-deductible donation to show your gratitude for this special place where everyone can find a sense of belonging.

Text RETREATFARMLOVE to 44321 or visit retreatfarm.org to make a donation today.

RULES

- Give others space to enjoy the property.
- Leave no trace by using the on-site facilities to minimize your impact.
- Dogs are not permitted near farm animals and must be leashed and under your control.
- Carry out all trash including pet waste.
- No camp fires, littering, smoking, or alcohol.
- No motorized vehicles.
- Bow hunting is permitted in accordance with Vermont Fish & Wildlife regulations. For your safety, please wear orange or red on the trails during the fall.

RETREAT FARM MAP AND TRAIL GUIDE

Cartography: Cartography: Jeff Nugent, Windham Regional Commission.

Please Note: The Retreat Trails are not staffed and are made available to the general public for recreational use. Under state law, 12 V.S.A. Section 5793, the owners of the Retreat Trails—Retreat Farm, Ltd. and the Brattleboro Retreat—shall not be liable for property damage or personal injury sustained unless the damage or injury is the result of willful or wanton misconduct of the owner.

Many thanks to Brattleboro Savings & Loan and Park Place Financial Advisors for helping make Retreat Farm and the Retreat Trails free and accessible to everyone.

Brattleboro Savings & Loan | Park Place Financial Advisors