A NEW FRONTIER IN MENTAL HEALTH PHILANTHROPY
What we learned in 2020 & a look at the year to come

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 16TH, 2020
4:00 - 5:00 PM EST

COME LEARN ABOUT MINDFUL PHILANTHROPY & HOW WE WORK WITH DONORS TO STRATEGIZE, ADVISE, & CONVENE IN MENTAL HEALTH, ADDICTION, & COMMUNITY WELL-BEING

- More than half of Americans report COVID-19 stress has had a negative impact on their mental health while experts predict that mental health disorders will cost the global economy $16 trillion by 2030. Yet, mental health and addiction remain one of the most neglected public health issues.
- We at Mindful Philanthropy stand committed to meeting the urgent needs in the midst of these colliding epidemics. We join forces with committed mental health and addiction funders to increase informed philanthropy in support of these issues.
- This event showcases experts who will share insight into trends in mental health and philanthropy this year. Guests will also get a sneak peek at the Center for High Impact Philanthropy’s upcoming guidance, Health in Mind: Mental Health and Addiction in the Age of COVID-19.

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON OTHER WAYS TO GIVE, VISIT OUR WEBSITE
Charitable gifts go through our fiscal sponsor, the Scattergood Foundation.
Panelists

Tyler Norris, MDiv, Well Being Trust
Tyler Norris is chief executive of the Well Being Trust, an impact philanthropy with a mission to advance the mental, social, and spiritual health of the nation. In the past three decades, Tyler has shaped health & development initiatives in hundreds of communities in the US and around the world. He is a social entrepreneur and trusted advisor to philanthropies, health systems, government agencies & collaborative partnerships working to improve the health of people and places. Tyler also serves as a board member and advisor to Naropa University; the National Academies of Science: Child Well Being Forum; CityHealth; Enterprise Community Partners & others.

Joe Pyle, MA, Scattergood Foundation
Joe Pyle brings with him more than 30 years experience in philanthropy and behavioral health care leadership. In his role as President, Joe has guided Scattergood, as a disruptive thought leader in behavioral health and philanthropy, to focus on evaluation, design thinking, and community's role in programming. He sits on several other nonprofit boards focused on health care, behavioral health, intellectual disabilities, and philanthropy. Joe holds a Master of Arts in School Psychology from Glassboro State University (now Rowan University) and a Bachelor of Arts in Special Education from LaSalle University.

Katherina Rosqueta, MBA, Penn’s Center for High Impact Philanthropy
Kat is the founding executive director of the Center for High Impact Philanthropy, a collaboration between the University of Pennsylvania's School of Social Policy & Practice and alumni of the Wharton School to help donors around the world do more good. She has held numerous civic leadership positions, currently serving as vice-chair of the board of Candid, the world's largest source of information on nonprofits and foundations, and serves on the national board of Greenlight Fund, a venture philanthropy fund dedicated to addressing urgent social needs cities around the US. She received her BA from Yale University and MBA from the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dan Gillison, National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI)
Dan Gillison serves as the Chief Executive Officer for NAMI. Before coming to NAMI, Dan led the American Psychiatric Association Foundation (APAF), where he was responsible for strategic planning, oversight of APAF’s public education programs & outreach, & formulating strategic alliances & partnerships to further APAF’s mission. Prior to APAF, Gillison led County Solutions & Innovation for the National Association of Counties (NACo) where he was instrumental in repositioning the organization's programs to provide expertise in health & human services, justice & public safety. Dan holds a BA from Southern University & A&M College.
Other Speakers

Barbara Ricci, MPA, Mindful Philanthropy
Barbara brings to Mindful Philanthropy deep expertise from working with mental health nonprofit organizations and global financial services firms. After retiring from a 30 year career on Wall Street, Barbara joined the Center for High Impact Philanthropy at the University of Pennsylvania as a senior advisor, behavioral health. Barbara has served as board treasurer and policy committee chair at NAMI and board president of NAMI NYC. She is a board director at The Coalition for Behavioral Health and The Arthur Miller Foundation. She earned her BA from Franklin and Marshall College and her Exec. MPA from New York University’s Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service in 2019.

Kristen Ward, MPH, Center for High Impact Philanthropy
Kristen is a Social Impact Fellow at the Center for High Impact Philanthropy where she led the development of Health in Mind: A Philanthropic Guide for Mental Health and Addiction. Leveraging lessons learned from this work as the lead author, Kristen joined a group of experienced behavioral health funders to bring to life Mindful Philanthropy with the goal of activating impactful giving in mental health and addiction. Kristen brings to these roles her expertise in health and strategic impact and experience in corporate philanthropic strategy development, program design and execution, research, and evaluation. Kristen earned her BA in Politics & African Studies from Princeton University and Master of Public Health from the University of Pennsylvania.

Paul Heller, Mindful Philanthropy and the John Heller Fund
Paul Heller is the Board Chair for Mindful Philanthropy and a Senior Fellow with the Center for High Impact Philanthropy, among other roles on Boards and advising nonprofits and startups in mental health, addiction, strategy, marketing, web development, and philanthropy. In 2016, Paul retired from Vanguard after 31 years. As a Managing Director and a member of the senior leadership team, Paul led Vanguard’s individual business, overseeing the efforts of 6,000 Vanguard employees who served 7 million clients with $1.5 trillion in assets. Prior to that role, Paul led Vanguard’s Information Technology Division as the firm’s Chief Information Officer.

QUESTIONS? PLEASE CONTACT GABRIELLE@MINDFULPHILANTHROPY.ORG