TROY M. ORTIZ, managing attorney at the Law Office of Troy M. Ortiz, PC, assists clients with a variety of real estate and business matters.

Prior to starting his own practice, Troy worked at a Truckee-based law firm where he represented small businesses, landlords, developers, and contractors with business, real estate and construction matters. Prior to that, Troy worked in-house as corporate counsel for a commercial real estate brokerage. In addition, Troy has experience representing injured plaintiffs in personal injury suits, and defending employees charged with breaches of fiduciary duty and trade secret misappropriation.

Troy graduated magna cum laude from Thomas Jefferson School of Law. While in law school, Troy was a senior notes editor for the Thomas Jefferson Law Review, as well as a teaching assistant for both tort and property law courses. In addition, Troy interned with the United States District Court for the Southern District of California, the San Diego County Public Defender's Office, and with several local law firms. Troy is admitted to practice in the State of California and before the federal courts of the Southern District of California.

Prior to attending law school, Troy graduated from the University of California, Santa Cruz, earning his B.A. in literature with a minor in legal studies. As an undergraduate student, he worked as a journalist for the City on a Hill Press.

Troy was born and raised in San Diego, and in his free time enjoys competitive sailing, traveling with his wife, hiking, and snowboarding.
