

Estimated Cost of Attendance

What does the Cost of Attendance mean?

The cost of attendance at LCOOU varies based on individual student circumstances. The Financial Aid Office creates a student's financial aid offer based on a cost of attendance which includes expenses directly billed by the university (tuition/fees, and books) and non-billed education expenses (transportation, supplies, and miscellaneous/personal expenses if applicable). The cost of attendance will include allowances for housing and food along with the other components. The Cost of Attendance is only used for financial aid purposes and will not necessarily reflect actual charges. The Business Office will publish tuition and fees once they are finalized (usually mid-July for the upcoming fall term).

2023-24 Estimated Cost of Attendance - Fall and Spring Semesters

Note: Some classes include a special course fee. These courses are outlined in the Tuition and Semester Fees Spreadsheet.

| Undergraduate- Full Time (12-18 Credits) | |
|---|-----------------|
| Tuition & Fees | $6,030 |
| Books | $1,000 |
| Living Expenses | $8,832 |
| Transportation | $2,752 |
| Personal | $1,312 |
| Total | $19,926 |

| Graduate- Full Time (9 Credits) | |
|--|-----------------|
| Tuition & Fees | $8,130 |
| Books | $1,000 |
| Living Expenses | $7,040 |
| Transportation | $2,656 |
| Personal | $1,120 |
| Total | $19,946 |

The budget components listed above are estimated expenses. The University will bill students only for their tuition and fees and if they use their textbook credit through the Virtual Bookstore. Remaining expenses will be based on the individual student's personal living expenses.

Questions? Contact the Financial Aid Department
FinancialAid@lco.edu