

FRIDAY GARDEN TOURS - BOOKING FORM 2023

Discover one of the hidden gems of Sydney's North Shore. Eryldene is the former home of Professor E.G. Waterhouse and his family. The house was built and its garden created early last century and there you will find one of Australia's most important collections of camellias. Professor Waterhouse was internationally recognized for his huge contribution to the "camellia world" and lived in the house until his death in 1977.

Take a tour with one of the garden volunteers and enjoy a cup of tea or coffee afterwards.

Learn about how we're adapting our garden to cope with the changing climate.

Do you have any questions?How did you hear about Eryldene?

Friends, social media, event planner etc.

COST

The cost per person for our standard Garden Tour is $25.00AUD and includes a cup of tea/coffee and homemade slice. Morning Tea also provides an opportunity for visitors to chat further with our dedicated volunteer gardeners

ACCESSIBILITY

Eryldene's garden is largely as it was when Professor Waterhouse and his family lived here, with winding garden paths of historic flagstones and bricks, which are uneven. Most parts of the garden are accessible without steps, via sandstone paved paths and across our lawns. However, our historic paths are uneven, narrow and winding in places, so visitors do need to take care.

For ease of navigating the gardens and coordinating morning tea, we divide larger tour groups into smaller groups of 10-15 people.

There are more accessibility details on our website.

NEXT STEPS

If you would like to book the tour, a deposit of $50 is requested, which is fully refundable if you need to cancel more than 7 days from the date of the tour.

To enable us to prepare a quotation for your group, please complete the booking form in full.
