Education

Erasmus+ International Credit Mobility (ICM)

Since 2015 universities can set up mobility agreements with partners around the world to send and receive students and staff members. In the new Erasmus+ programme, the objective is to fund 105,000 mobilities of African students and staff by 2027 compared to 35,000 from 2015-2020.

More information is available here, and in the Erasmus+ Programme Guide 2023. Also see the presentation that DG EAC gave to ARUA and The Guild universities.

Funding: NDICI budget through Erasmus+. Between 2021 and 2027, €281.2 million will be available for students/researchers from Sub-Saharan Africa.

Conditions for Sub-Saharan Africa:
- A minimum of 35% of the budget should be spent on mobility with the least developed countries (LDCs) of the region, with a special emphasis on migration priority countries.
- No more than 8% of the budget should be spent on mobility with any country.

Conditions for Southern Neighbourhood:
- No more than 15% of the budget should be spent on mobility with any country;
- A minimum of 65% of the funds should be allocated to students, 50% of whom should be with fewer opportunities.

Application process: EU universities send their application to the relevant National Erasmus+ agency.

Deadline: 23 February 2023 (the next deadline will be around the same period in 2024)

Erasmus Mundus Joint Masters Degree (EMJMD)

This action aims at fostering excellence and worldwide internationalisation of higher education institutions via study programmes – at Master course level – jointly delivered and jointly recognised by higher education institutions established in Europe, and open to institutions in other countries of the world. So far, African institutions usually participated as associated partners only. Students from Africa are also eligible for Erasmus Mundus scholarships covering tuition, travel, and a living allowance. Most programmes last two years, during which students study in at least two different European countries. Upon graduation, they are awarded a joint or double degree, or multiple degrees.
From 2021, it is expected that non-European partners will have a greater role in Erasmus Mundus consortia: they will be able to lead consortia; host students for up to half the length of the Master degree; issue joint or multiple degrees alongside their European partners.

More information: Erasmus+ Programme Guide 2023, p. 259

Erasmus Mundus Design Measures

New action which supports the design of high-level study programmes at Master level. They are jointly delivered by an international partnership of universities from different countries worldwide and, where relevant, other educational and/or non-educational partners with specific expertise in the concerned study areas/professional domains. The beneficiary will initiate contacts and collaboration activities in view of setting up a Master programme.

Capacity Building in Higher Education (CBHE)

Capacity building projects are transnational cooperation projects based on multilateral partnerships, primarily between higher education institutions from Programme and eligible Partner Countries financed through NDICI instrument. Joint projects are aimed at modernizing and reforming higher education institutions, developing new curricula, improving governance, and building relationships between higher education institutions and enterprises. Structural projects can also tackle policy topics and issues, preparing the ground for higher education reform in cooperation with national authorities.

In 2021 there was no Call for Proposals because of NDICI delays, but the next one will open in Autumn 2021 with Spring 2022 as deadline. It will include small scale projects for the first time to enable funding for more projects and beyond the usual applicants.
More information: Erasmus+ Programme Guide 2023, p. 312. Also see the presentation that DG EAC recently gave to ARUA and The Guild universities.

Funding: NDICI budget through Erasmus+. Between 2021 and 2027, €160 million will be available for CBHE partners from Sub-Saharan Africa.

Application process: Researchers and universities send their application to the European Education and Culture Executive Agency (EACEA) via the Funding & Tender Opportunities Portal

Opening date: 29 November 2022

AU-EU Skills for Youth Employability Programme

This action aims to improve occupation prospects of young Africans through the support of innovative, job-oriented skills development programmes. Its three components pursue complementary specific objectives: 1) to support market-oriented skills development through investments in innovative projects and stronger linkages with the private sector; 2) to strengthen capacities for evidence-based planning, promote multi-stakeholder engagement, and to promote comparability and transferability of competences by supporting regional/continental platforms for dialogue, sharing of best practices, and providing skills development products; 3) to improve the skills and competences of Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) lecturers (teaching staff) and of students through a pilot mobility initiative.
