

Below are less than six months of tweets by George Webb @realgeorgewebb1 January to June 2023.

There are thousands and thousands more Twitter posts – as he has tweeted 2-3 posts about me each day for years. He also has a substack (that I don't have access to).

George Webb has written thousands of Twitter posts attacking me. He mixes fact, fiction and fake posts. He has gained almost 100,000 followers on twitter by doing this.

This man accuses me of being a mass murderer, taking billions in federal money, convincing the government to use Remdesivir as standard of care, introducing the mRNA vaccines as a bioweapon, collaborating with Russians, causing the Anthrax attacks, etc. the list literally goes on and on. His followers then harass me and frankly, have also threatened me. This has then spawned a whole group of social media influencers that attack myself and my wife. Webb has blamed me for the Anthrax attacks, SARS, MERS, Zika, Ebola, etc. It has become some sort of sick business models - as George Webb is literally growing his social media businesses by making stuff up about me and provides fake info to his followers.

It is a hate cult. I have had death threats, people saying horrific things about me. It literally doesn't end. This has all has caused extreme emotional distress within my family.

He also has hundreds of videos that he has created about me.

What he writes about me on his give and go page

Robert Malone has become unhinged from the exposure of his connections to the World Health Organization, CIA Operative Michael Callahan, Ex-CIA Business Partner Darrell Galloway, and disgraced former head of Ft. Detrick biolab, Sina Bavari. Malone has taken to retweeting a New York film maker who has accused George Webb and his brother on "leaving open the Federal Bridge" electronic interchange that allowed 9/11 to happen. This New York film maker actively worked with David Hawkins, a Canadian from Vancouver BC, to have the survivors of the 9/11 trajegy to exact reprisals on Webb and his family. An ex-State Department employee from Norfolk, Virginia came to Webb's remote Maryland island, then threatened to "Waco, Jonestown, and flamethrower" Webb's family. Robert Malone Retweeting this film maker's outrageous claims puts Webb's family in continual jeopardy. Robert Malone should compensate Webb for the reckless and vicious attack on Webb's character and the safety of his family.

Each participant receives the standard of care (SOC), which typically involves the following:

- Remdesivir
- Dexamethasone
- Lovenox
- Tocilizumab
- Convalescent plasma

Per the protocol, the study investigator has the leeway to drop the study combination drug and use dexamethasone for those study participants who require supplemental oxygen as outlined in the National Institutes of Health COVID-19 Treatment Guidelines. Also, for example, if any subjects require high-flow oxygen, non-invasive ventilation, invasive mechanical ventilation, or extracorporeal membrane oxygenation the investigator can switch to established protocols involving dexamethasone.

Robert Malone has also cleverly slipped Remdesivir into all the trials over the last three years.

Founder of PR Firm Shut Down Over Sexual Harassment Allegations Launches Project to Protect Women at Work

By Anna Merlan | Published May 17, 2017 | Comments (21)

Trevor FitzGibbon, one of the founders of FitzGibbon Media, a major progressive PR firm which shut down in December 2015 amidst allegations of sexual harassment and assault against him, has co-launched a new venture aimed at—get this—creating “a culture where women can flourish both in and out of the workplace.” With the U.S. Attorney in Washington D.C. declining to press criminal charges against him, FitzGibbon has now declared himself “cleared,” and apparently, an appropriate choice to lead this initiative, called Dignity for Our Daughters.

Before it shuttered, FitzGibbon Media represented a powerhouse of progressive and leftist organizations, including MoveOn.org, NARAL, the AFL-CIO, and Wikileaks. The firm also issued statements from Chelsea Manning and helped her tweet from prison. The allegations against Trevor FitzGibbon ranged from sexual harassment to outright sexual assault; in statements to the media, staffers described six separate incidents of sexual harassment against as many women and two allegations of assault.

New York, N.Y., January 27, 2023 - Allegations have recently been made related to gain of function and directed evolution research at Pfizer and the company would like to set the record straight.

In the ongoing development of the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine, treatment, PAXLOVID™, Pfizer undertakes in vitro work (e.g., in a laboratory culture dish) to identify potential resistance mutations to nirmatrelvir, one of PAXLOVID's two components. With a naturally evolving virus, it is important to routinely assess the activity of an antiviral. Most of this work is conducted using computer simulations or mutations of the main protease—a non-infectious part of the virus. In a limited number of cases when a full virus does not contain any known gain of function mutations, such

Abstract

The present invention provides a method for controlling indoor air quality in a building. The method includes: detecting a concentration of a contaminant in the indoor air; determining a target concentration of the contaminant; and controlling the indoor air quality based on the target concentration and the detected concentration. The method further includes: determining a target concentration of the contaminant based on a setpoint and a feedback signal. The method further includes: determining a target concentration of the contaminant based on a setpoint and a feedback signal. Dear Editor,

In December 2019, a novel pneumonia caused by a previously unknown pathogen emerged in Wuhan, a city of 11 million people in central China. The initial cases were linked to exposures in a seafood market in Wuhan.¹ As of January 27, 2020, the Chinese authorities reported 2835 confirmed cases in mainland China, including 81 deaths. Additionally, 19 confirmed cases were identified in Hong Kong, Macao and Taiwan, and 39 imported cases were identified in Thailand, Japan, South Korea, United States, Vietnam, Singapore, Nepal, France, Australia and Canada. The pathogen was soon identified as a novel coronavirus (2019-nCoV), which is closely related to severe acute respiratory syndrome CoV (SARS-CoV).² Currently, there is no specific treatment against the new virus. Therefore, identifying effective antiviral agents to combat the disease is urgently needed.

An efficient approach to drug discovery is to test whether the existing antiviral drugs are

I posted these and other news stories about Sweigert two years ago (you can find many more) after he made up a story about me. That was when he really started going after me, it has only escalated since then. Of course, posting this will only make more people follow him.
This is the sick, sad reality of hate journalism as a business model.
Anything I say or do will be used against me. Anything I post will only make people go read him. There is no way to win against this.

Here is my response to Bob Malone retweeting 60 Minutes and CNN hit pieces on me. I did a Class Action Lawsuit against the DNC in 2017, and Donie O'Sullivan of CNN and the DNC, have made up stories about me ever since. Steve Kirsch is a top 5 DNC contributor, and Trevor Fitzgibbon is the PR guy for DNC running the Vaccine Litigation Conference in Atlanta this week. Trevor gave me a press pass, then revoked it after I flew in for the conference when I got to the Hilton. I didn't try to "crash" the event. I left courteously with no fuss. Typical DNC Games. Trevor also did PR also for MoveOn dot Org. Planned Parenthood, and Democratic Senators in Virginia. Malone is also aligned with the DNC. Here we go with yet another DNC smear of me.

For two years now, we have asked a simple question. We ask again here in the video about thirty minutes in. Why did Cold Spring Harbor, the place where the Human Genome Project was done, only look at ten COVID patients from Michael Callahan 6,000 blood samples from Wuhan General Hospital/Mass General Hospital. Any reviewer would ask the same question. The fact that Callahan 6,000 blood sample were a commissioned Remdesivir study meant there was inherent bias in the study. The Cold Spring Harbor study's focus on Famotidine and the H2 Receptor and not CoronaVirus' ACE2 receptor looked like a Trojan Horse for Remdesivir. It still does.

Bob Malone Leidos Lincoln Lab purchase orders go all the way back to a guy named Steven Hatfill working for SAIC in San Diego. How many people get to plan an Anthrax attack in America? SAIC sure did in 1989 for Iraq War preparations. Oh yeah, Hatfill too, the special Corona Task Force consultant advising Trump during the outbreak of CoronaVirus.

By JEREMIAH MARQUEZ, Associated Press Writer

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - One of the men under scrutiny by the FBI's anthrax investigation is a former U.S. soldier who bragged about ties to a feared counterinsurgency force that fought for the white minority government of Rhodesia.

The FBI has identified Dr. Steven J. Hatfill as one of 30 scientists and researchers with the expertise and opportunity to conduct the anthrax attacks.

FBI and Postal Service agents wearing protective gloves searched his apartment in Frederick, Md., for the second time last week. A senior U.S. law enforcement official said the agents took some items that have undergone a preliminary review.

Investigators have not classified him as a suspect, only as a "person of interest."

Hatfill, 48, worked until 1999 for Fort Detrick's Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases, which is the primary custodian of the virulent Ames strain of anthrax found in last fall's deadly letters.

Hatfill and another scientist, Joseph Soukup, commissioned a study of a hypothetical anthrax attack in February 1999 as employees of defense contractor Science Applications International Corp., said Ben Haddad, spokesman for the San Diego-based company.

Before he worked there, Hatfill spent about 15 years in southern Africa, where he earned a string of academic degrees and told them.

He claimed to have served in the U.S. Army in Vietnam and was discharged after his plane was shot down and he broke his back. However, his military record showed none of that to be true.

He joined the military in 1975, as Vietnam was ending and was discharged in 1978.

In a 1997 resume, Hatfill claimed to be a member of the special forces. But Walter Solkowski, spokesman at Army Special Operations Command at Fort Bragg, said Hatfill attended special forces training in 1976 but failed after a month. "He flunked. He was in training for only about 30 days," Solkowski said.

After completing his military service, Hatfill went to Rhodesia, where many former U.S. soldiers worked as mercenaries for the Selous Scouts, a military force that fought black rebels in an effort to maintain white rule in the southern African nation. Their efforts failed, and the country became black-led Zimbabwe in 1980.

Hatfill later bragged about serving with the Rhodesian Special Air Service and the Selous Scouts. Sources linked to Rhodesian security forces have no memory of him.

"He would talk about running around in the bush and throwing grenades in Zimbabwe and that sort of thing," Rybicki said. He also boasted about shooting grenades into the Zimbabwe offices of the African National Congress, which was fighting to overthrow white rule in South Africa, Rybicki said.

Hatfill graduated from the University of Zimbabwe Medical School in Harare in 1983.

I was only trying to do my job as a reporter and ask questions about the most important story of our lifetimes. Robert Malone and DOMANE are a crucial part of that story. Heaping public contempt on me for asking legitimate questions about how billions of dollars in public money was spent is not “stalking”. I have only gone to one public event where Malone was one of many speakers, and I completed a detailed request for a press pass which was granted. That press pass was revoked by Bob Malone himself when I arrived at the event. Characterizing me as a “stalker” trying to “crash the event” heaps public ridicule and scorn upon me for just simply asking questions about the DOMANE Defense Threat Reduction Agency program. This is Defamation, and it casts me as a reporter in the completely False Light of being a “stalker”.

A core goal of the Joint Science and Technology Office (JSTO) for Chemical and Biological Defense (C&BD) is enable the field to rapidly identify, assess, and neutralize threats to chemical and biological (CB) agents and associated technologies. Through rapid growth in technological capabilities and early research/development (R&D) and early testing and validation, the JSTO-C&BD operates various capabilities of rapid medical countermeasures (RMC) development to push the rate of technological systems.

Fortunately, there has been a multitude of technical developments that enable rapid in vitro biological assessment, precise structure elucidation of novel MCE targets, and high-throughput MCE screening. Artificial intelligence (AI) systems and machine learning (ML) algorithms also hold promise to reduce the need for bioactive molecules (small molecule and MCE) validation but currently lack the large data sets necessary to support predictive drug development. Although many of these technologies have potential to provide utility in and of themselves, their full use will be an effort to fully integrate these platform technologies into a system of systems, which would enable the discovery of MCEs against novel entities and provide early data sets to support future in vivo, animal rapid MCE screening.

The intent of DOMANE is to bring together teams with diverse technical capabilities and identify an effective workflow that enables integration and rapid evaluation of novel agent mechanisms of action (MOA), MCE target discovery and MCE development. In doing so, DOMANE will create a novel validation pipeline (Figure 1), which in turn will facilitate drug development against priority CB threats.

BACKGROUND

Integrating CB research to the “One Health” is aligned with the National Defense Strategy and the DTRA Strategic Biology. The rapid expansion of dual use technologies such as CRISPR and CRISPR-Cas, combined with the abundance of accessible knowledge and data, provides advances with the tools and know-how to develop an evidence-driven CB threat agents, although the use of the pipeline is limited by existing CB constraints such as stability, delivery, and off-target toxicity. The potential for technological evolution is growing, though CB threats’ evolution of sub-lethal and/or long-term effects that could avoid detection and impact immediate susceptibility may no longer be in the realm of science fiction.

Moreover, the pursuit of such gene-changing CB weapon technologies are likely to be targeting for administration with different ethical values in mind. Accordingly, the future program cannot be ground and without action to counter the existing danger could place the world in a technological disadvantage if the rest has done

DOMANE is not an isolated effort and works in concert with other JSTO-C&BD development strategies to reduce product risk, increase cost and enhance the efficiency of CB MCEs, as well as facilitate an advanced development. These strategies include LAMP (Low-cost integrated medical intervention technologies) and JSTO-C&BD Rapid MCE Development Capability, which were developed to strengthen and modernize the CB MCE pipeline. LAMP (Figure 2) is designed to reduce product development time and speed single point of failure in the medical continuum of care. It also enables MCE types are interchangeable and enables MCE partner flexibility.

with targets, such as high-throughput screening and molecular simulation to explore structural activities, and offer avenues to novel drug targets. An essential to DOMANE is to assess countermeasures in human MCE, thereby identifying novel countermeasures to the class of threats. In addition, development of antibodies that enable evidence of novel identifying lead compounds that bind to and interrupt CB threat agent effects. Furthermore, DOMANE will also consider systems that enable high-throughput target verification coupled with high-throughput drug screening, to evaluate and infer critical lead compounds.

Systemic development of DOMANE, therefore, will called Discovery of Medical Countermeasures Against Novel Entities (DOMANE) to address novel and emerging threats,” stated Dr. David Hone, Chief Scientist within the Vaccines and Therapeutics Division at DTRA. “Based on previous work, we decided DOMANE would not only focus on FDA-approved drugs but also combination therapeutics, as we believe

The Congressman that built Bob Malone's Windber Lab into a DoD mega research facility was Dan Ornish, personal physician to Bill Clinton. You may remember Army Colonel Brenda McDaniel was murdered on her front lawn in Ft. Belvoir, Virginia was the nurse to Hillary Clinton.

to U.S. Pres. Bill Clinton from 1993 to 2000 and served on the White House Commission on Complementary and Alternative Medicine Policy in 2001-02. In March 1998 he partnered with ConAgra Foods to release a line of 1993, when Ornish was asked by Hillary Clinton to consult with the chefs at The White House, Camp David, and Air Force One. In 2010, after the former President's cardiac bypass grafts became clogged.

Windber started the Walter Reed relationship in 1999. The coming war with Saddam and his Anthrax necessitated this project. There was no known battlefield test or antidote for Anthrax at the time. For a town of 4,200, it fits the Oak Ridge model of a Manhattan Anthrax Project profile. The Joyce Murtha Breast Center started in 2000 as the Anthrax cover I believe. The Breast Center does not it the Mothership centers of excellence for surgical specialties with lots of satellite feeders in a major metropolitan area. Nearly a century after Windber Medical Center opened its doors, the coal company that started the industrial infirmary no longer commands this western Pennsylvania community.

Now it is the hospital -- which has evolved into a state-of-the-art health care facility --

But Jacobs saw potential. He created an affiliation between the facility and a nonprofit consultancy called Planetree, an organization that helps hospitals brainstorm new ways to provide patient-driven care. The hospital made changes, starting with more liberal visiting hours and including in-

had a population of more than 4,200 in 2000.

In February 1997, Jacobs left his job as chief communications officer for the medical center's parent, Conemaugh Health System, to head the hospital. At that time, the medical center faced the same obstacles as other small hospitals -- with just 80 beds, Lehigh Valley, Lehigh Valley State and Georgetown universities, and other institutions.

By most accounts, Jacobs's most strategic move was seeking the help of Rep. John P. Murtha (D-Pa.). In 2002, Murtha announced that $10 million of a defense appropriations bill would be directed to the center's Comprehensive Breast Care Project

You have to wonder - Is Bob Malone's 2003 co-author for developing computational methods for developing new CoronaViruses, Anne De Groot, has a history with Emma De Witt of the Erasmus Lab and the first person to photograph the CoronaVirus at the Rocky Mountain National Lab? At the key moment when Bob Malone could have evaluated HCQ, he went for Pepcid AC.

He turned to famotidine, the main ingredient in the over-the-counter heartburn medicine Pepcid, as a treatment. Malone, who at the time was the chief medical officer for the Florida-based pharmaceutical company Alchem Laboratories, took to his LinkedIn page to report how he had figured out the appropriate dose and became "the first to take the drug to treat my own case."

The Trump administration funded a $21 million study of famotidine in April 2020 that was to be done by Alchem and Northwell Health, a New York health-care provider, despite a lack of data or

Abstract

Graphene oxide (GO) is a two-dimensional (2D) carbon-based nanomaterial. It has attracted much attention in biomedical and pharmaceutical research. The complex interactions between GO and human blood components complicate the transition from the laboratory to the clinic. In this review, we discuss the current state of the art in the field of GO-bio interactions. We highlight the challenges and opportunities in the field of GO-bio interactions. Founder of PR Firm Shut Down Over Sexual Harassment Allegations Launches Project to Protect Women at Work

Trevor FitzGibbon, one of the founders of FitzGibbon Media, a major progressive PR firm which shut down in December 2015 amidst allegations of sexual harassment and assault against him, has co-launched a new venture aimed at—get this—creating “a culture where women can flourish both in and out of the workplace.” With the U.S. Attorney in Washington D.C. declining to press criminal charges against him, FitzGibbon has now declared himself “cleared,” and apparently, an appropriate choice to lead this initiative, called Dignity for Our Daughters.

Before it shuttered, FitzGibbon Media represented a powerhouse of progressive and leftist organizations, including MoveOn.org, NARAL, the AFL-CIO, and Wikileaks. The firm also issued statements from Chelsea Manning and helped her tweet from prison. The allegations against Trevor FitzGibbon ranged from sexual harassment to outright sexual assault; in statements to the media, staffers described six separate incidents of sexual harassment against as many women and two allegations of assault.

I was only trying to do my job as a reporter and ask questions about the most important story of our lifetimes. Robert Malone and DOMANE are a crucial part of that story. Heaping public contempt on me for asking legitimate questions about how billions of dollars in public money was spent is not “stalking”. I have only gone to one public event where Malone was one of many speakers, and I completed a detailed request for a press pass which was granted. That press pass was revoked by Bob Malone himself when I arrived at the event. Characterizing me as a “stalker” trying to “crash the event” heaps public ridicule and scorn upon me for just simply asking questions about the DOMANE Defense Threat Reduction Agency program. This is Defamation, and it casts me as a reporter in the completely False Light of being a “stalker”.

Background

Meeting DR programs in the long term is aligned with the National Defense Strategy and the DTRA Enterprise Strategy. The rapid expansion of drug and technology such as CRISPR and CRISPR-Cas, combined with the abundance of available knowledge and data, provides an avenue for the development of novel drugs to address a wide range of threats, although the use of the available data to develop CRISPR-based drugs is rapidly increasing. The rapid expansion of drug and technology such as CRISPR and CRISPR-Cas, combined with the abundance of available knowledge and data, provides an avenue for the development of novel drugs to address a wide range of threats, although the use of the available data to develop CRISPR-based drugs is rapidly increasing.

DOMANE is an on-going effort and works in concert with other DTRA-developed strategies to reduce product risk, improve cost and enhance the discovery of CRISPR, as well as innovation in alternative development. These strategies include (AMT) a novel integrated medical intervention technologies and (MIR) a novel MIR Operational Capability, which were developed to strengthen and broaden the CRISPR pipeline. (AMT) Figure 1 is designed to better understand against target threat agents and avoid single point of failure in the medical countermeasures of care. It also ensures (MIR) team are interoperable and enables (MIR) positive health.

At the key moment when Bob Malone could have evaluated HCQ, he went for Pepcid AC.

He turned to famotidine, the main ingredient in the over-the-counter heartburn medicine Pepcid, as a treatment. Malone, who at the time was the chief medical officer for the Florida-based pharmaceutical company Alchem Laboratories, took to his LinkedIn page to report how he had figured out the appropriate dose and became "the first to take the drug to treat my own case."

The Trump administration funded a $21 million study of famotidine in April 2020 that was to be done by Alchem and Northwell Health, a New York health-care provider, despite a lack of data or

Abstract

Graphene oxide (GO) is a two-dimensional (2D) carbon-based nanomaterial. It has attracted significant attention in biomedical and pharmaceutical research. The complex interactions between GO and human blood components complicate the transition from the laboratory to the clinic. In this review, we discuss the current state of the art in the field of GO-bio interactions. We highlight the challenges and opportunities in this field and provide a perspective on the future of GO-based nanomedicine.

Abstract

Antibody-dependent enhancement (ADE)

in the context of poorly neutralizing and waning immunity have renewed interest in the phenomenon of antibody-dependent enhancement (ADE). This property of antibodies attributes enhanced disease pathogenesis in specific instances of viral infection to the presence of sub-neutralizing titres of antiviral host antibodies. In cases of ADE, rather than contributing to antiviral immunity, pre-existing antibodies facilitate viral entry and subsequent infection of host cells, leading to both

Founder of PR Firm Shut Down Over Sexual Harassment Allegations Launches Project to Protect Women at Work

By Anna Merlan | Published May 17, 2017 | Comments (21)

Trevor FitzGibbon, one of the founders of FitzGibbon Media, a major progressive PR firm which shut down in December 2015 amidst allegations of sexual harassment and assault against him, has co-launched a new venture aimed at—get this—creating “a culture where women can flourish both in and out of the workplace.” With the U.S. Attorney in Washington D.C. declining to press criminal charges against him, FitzGibbon has now declared himself “cleared,” and apparently, an appropriate choice to lead this initiative, called Dignity for Our Daughters.

Before it shuttered, FitzGibbon Media represented a powerhouse of progressive and leftist organizations, including MoveOn.org, NARAL, the AFL-CIO, and Wikileaks. The firm also issued statements from Chelsea Manning and helped her tweet from prison. The allegations against Trevor FitzGibbon ranged from sexual harassment to outright sexual assault; in statements to the media, staffers described six separate incidents of sexual harassment against as many women and two allegations of assault.

I was only trying to do my job as a reporter and ask questions about the most important story of our lifetimes. Robert Malone and DOMANE are a crucial part of that story. Heaping public contempt on me for asking legitimate questions about how billions of dollars in public money was spent is not "stalking". I have only gone to one public event where Malone was one of many speakers, and I completed a detailed request for a press pass which was granted. That press pass was revoked by Bob Malone himself when I arrived at the event. Characterizing me as a "stalker" trying to "crash the event" heaps public ridicule and scorn upon me for just simply asking questions about the DOMANE Defense Threat Reduction Agency program. This is Defamation, and it casts me as a reporter in the completely False Light of being a "stalker".

Background

Meeting DR programs in the 'New Deter' is aligned with the National Defense Strategy and the OIG's Enterprise Strategy. The rapid expansion of drug and technology such as AI, CRISPR, and CRISPR-Cas, combined with the abundance of available knowledge and data, provides adversaries with the tools and know-how to develop an advanced form of DR threat agents, through the use of the possible to break by working DR components built on quality, delivery, and otherwise utility, the potential for technological progress is growing. Unlike CR therapy, ethical of self-administered per integrative disease that could avoid detection and evade treatment expectations may not be in the realm of science fiction.

However, the promise of such gene changing CR without technologies are being developed for administration with different ethical values in mind. Accordingly, the future potential of gene editing and CR therapy to counter this emerging danger could place the Warfighter at a technological disadvantage in the war to detect.

Bob has already been caught covering up his DARPA funding in his vaccine company Inovio. He also covered up DARPA's involvement in DOMANE. Our Potomac Group exposed the DARPA ADEPT bid rigging in March 2020.

Regularly citing the 1918 flu pandemic, the DARPA program manager saw how a novel pathogen, whether from another species or an enemy's lab, could cripple the American military in the field.

"If we need to deploy someone in harm's way and it's a new virus, you don't have to develop both vaccines and antibodies, shortening development timelines from years to days before clinical trials, he thought. It also offered a one-size-fits-all approach: in the future, scientists would need only the genetic code of a virus to create a vaccine.

the time, 150000 num for one writing on his hand before greenlighting his proposal.

The result was a program called ADEPT, which invested $291 million from 2011 to 2019 in an array of technologies — including a credit card-sized device for rapid antibody discovery developed by the Pennsylvania-based firm, which began trials 80 days after receiving the virus's genetic code, is looking to begin its Phase 2 and 3 trials this summer, pending regulatory approval.

DARPA also funded other technologies for the healthcare arena, F. Nicholas (Nick) Jacobs is the director of Laurel Arts of Somerset, a cultural center in Somerset, Pennsylvania, and performed as a professional trumpet player for more than 20 years.

These timeworn walls of the Dressler Center could tell the story of an Early American house, located on the corner of 10th and 11th streets, and were instrumental in the shaping of Somerset. Ruff Joseph Imhoff built it on land originally owned by John Peter Ankney. [At the time of his death in 1800, he was the largest landowner in southwest PA] They also believe that it was a part of the Underground Railroad and would divulge the owner hide slaves in the cellar or off hiding "gold and art during the Civil War"? The house became the home for the first non-profit, fully funded arts center in Pennsylvania. The idea was the beginning of a movement because a group of culturally minded people in Somerset wanted, needed and would support an organization to encourage the arts. After several meetings - and a lot of discussion - this group incorporated under the name of Laurel Arts of Somerset, a widow who had previously operated her home as a center for the arts as a memorial tribute to her husband, Philip d'huc Dressler. The gift of the house was in 1900.

With all due respect. Not answering legit questions is nearly as bad, don't you think? By your account you were involved in DOMANE. Why was IVM not studied even though it has better binding affinity and been identified by REFRAME? Where were you on 9/11?

For all the haters who are saying I "sat on the Ames story", an accusation the Rahm's pawns gave the Thrax to Atta is just that, an accusation. You need proof. When Bob Malone retweeted Marcus Conte who said I killed Task Force, that's when I knew she was right.

We lost our Constitution on 9/11. I am just asking questions of the people who were at Ft. Detrick at the time. We couldn't have declared Continuity of Government without Anthrax being present on one of the airplanes. We can't even answer if the Windber paramedics were tested after they all thought they would be dead by the end of the week after they went to the Flight 93 crash site. I am tired of the Messiah complexes. It is time for the truth.
