Balakian Farms

Reedley/ San Joaquin Valley

Balakian Farms is a family-owned 4th generation farm growing an oasis of delicious organic stone fruit in Reedley, California.

The Balakian Family has been farming in the Central Valley since 1925 and is passionate about continuing their family's farming legacy.

"Farming is hard, but we seek to embody the words of an old Armenian proverb that says, "All riches come from the earth". It is our hope this remains true for many generations to come."
