

Educating Girls Within the Last Standing Forest in Paraguay

Raquel Fratta, MPA
Fundación Moisés Bertoni
Rfratta@mbertoni.org.py
www.mbertoni.org.py

Mbaracayu Nature Forest Reserve

A tropical forest located in the eastern region of the country, in the department of Canindeyu, covers a territory of 64,405 hectares or 644 km²

Centro Educativo Mbaracayu

It is a boarding school that provides quality education to young rural and indigenous girls from 15 to 18 years. It was established as a conservation strategy to invite and integrate the community to be part of the conservation quest.

Mission: To empower young rural and indigenous girls to become agents of change and sustainable development leaders.

- ✓ Environmental Educational
- ✓ Entrepreneurship
- ✓ Sustainability
- ✓ Learning by doing

By providing access to quality education to young girls, we can change generations to come and preserve our forests.

THANK YOU!

Thank you

Rachquel Fratta
Rfratta@mbertoni.org.p
y