TROUBLE BAR

A SHORT HOW-TO: NAVIGATING OUR ROBUST MENU

- 1. Each pour of whiskey in a flight is 1oz; a 4-part flight is 4oz of liquor. Our standard straight pour is a 2 oz pour.
- 2. We serve all of our flights with ice and water. Use these however you like! Adding ice or water to a whiskey is the quickest way to lower the proof and get to enjoy the flavors. If you would like an additional mixer, just let your Troublemaker know and they'll add it.
- 3. Yes, we do indeed have more than bourbon at Trouble Bar! You'll find our cocktails, wine, beer and other spirits on pages 2 & 3.
- 4. Have fun! Read our descriptions, but ask any of our knowledgeable staff to assist you if you're shopping around and aren't sure what to drink.

Team Trouble would like to take this moment to remember that women, femmes and non-binary folks do not exist to entertain anyone and no one is entitled to their space. Please do not approach anyone in this bar without their explicit consent. Should you feel uncomfortable with another patron's behavior and do not feel comfortable addressing it directly, please let us know immediately.

Thank you to everyone for helping us create a safe, inclusive, joyful space where we can all enjoy a drink in relative peace.

FLIGHTS SPECIALLY CURATED BY OUR PALS

STRONG WHISKEY, STRONG WOMEN | $30

Peggy Noe Stevens, Founder, Bourbon Women

Without Peggy Noe Stevens, there would surely be much less troublemaking in the world of bourbon. She has supported our founders since the day they set up shop & she blazes trails straight through the heart of the industry with her passionate work empowering women within and beyond bourbon. She picked this bold, high-proof whiskey flight because Bourbon Women's research shows again and again that women prefer bold whiskeys with high proofs.

Kelly Nicole Jones, The Voice of Shelby Park

This classic flight represents distilleries across the spectrum, from giants like Brown-Forman to family-owned and -operated craft locations like Willett, served right here in our beloved, growing neighborhood in the heart of Louisville. Kelly says, "I picked bourbons that are unassuming and that represent quality and consistency, because that's what Shelby Park is to me."

Selected by Trouble Bar, The Kennedy & Old Hickory Whiskey Bar

Willett 7 Year Bourbon "Love, Trouble" Private Selection

*Trouble Bar's Peerless and New Riff private selections are available for sale by the bottle upon inquiry

If you're in the know, you know that single barrel picks are the ultimate in treat-yourself whiskey. They're one-off barrels, special and coveted, and once they're gone, they're gone. Trouble Bar personally hand-selected each of these barrels because of their unique taste profiles - a bourbon drinker's rye, atypical for Peerless, and a bourbon drinker's bourbon, outside of what New Riff traditionally offers while still somehow a loyal representation of their work. And we're honored to be one of the first bars in Kentucky to carry a Private Selection Bourbon from the Willett Family Estate Single Barrels and to pay tribute to our owners' friendship with, and love for, this distillery and it's people. "Love, Trouble" is a delicious, oaky whiskey made with love by a family -owned and -operated distillery.

(D)E-LICIOUS | $28

Colin Blake, Moonshine University

Redbreast 12

Teeling's Small Batch

Green Spot

Writer's Tears

With smooth, sweet flavors, Irish whiskeys are the perfect introduction to brown spirits, especially if you don't typically drink bourbon. Created by Louisville's well-known teacher and whiskey expert Colin Blake, this warm flight with its variant notes, including fruit, banana bread, and baking spice, will tempt you gently towards whiskeys.

FLIGHT OF THE UNICORN | $36

Felicia Corbett, Potions Master, Trouble Bar
Amador Chardonnay Finish

Legent

Buzzard's Roost Toasted Barrel Rye

Barrell Dovetail

We went to Louisville's barrel finish queen (and our own Beverage Director and Potions Master, wine expert, and one of Louisville's first craft bartenders), Felicia, and asked her to assemble a gang of all her favorite barrel finishes currently out on the market. This grouping is a fantastic entry point for bourbon appreciators who are still looking to fall in love with something.

KENTUCKY TO THE WORLD | $20

Colleen Thomas, Kentucky Distillers Association

Michter's US1 Whiskey

Old Forester 86

Green River Bourbon

Old Bardstown BIB

Pure Kentucky Small Batch

This hard-working boss chose a flight of delicious Kentucky whiskeys sometimes overlooked. Colleen says, "Some people think you can't get a great whiskey at these low prices. My five friends are here to diminish that outrageous fallacy. People who know whiskey have these on their bars, and if you don't yet, I have a feeling you'll find a soulmate in this assemblage of eloquent modesty."

We reached out to some of the premier distillery owners and master distillers who identify as women and asked them to pick their favorite whiskey. This flight is their homage to the women blazing trails through this male-dominated space, one bottle at a time.

WINGED FLIGHT | $22

Susan Reigler, Bourbon Expert

With a resume that is simply too long to be contained in a single line, know that Susan is known amongst Team Trouble as "The Original Mensch." Susan is also a biologist with a collection of animal skulls, a journalist and whiskey expert, and has assembled a flight of bourbons and ryes. While she noted her flight was appropriate for biologists (can you spot why?), we think it's appropriate for anyone trying to spread their wings in their whiskey drinking journey!

Old Forester Single Barrel, Barrel Proof Rye

Ask most bartenders in Louisville for whatever they drink and they'll pour you an Old Fo without comment. This beloved staple of our city and bar scene has been quietly led for years by Master Taster Jackie Zykan. We asked her to assemble a flight that represented some of the products she's most excited to have released. While many of the products she brings to market are sought after with something close to religious fervor, this hometown hero values growth over innovation for its own sake, elevating what we have long embraced about Old Fo without ever taking that love for granted.

Our owners once set out on this journey themselves, coughing, watering eyes and all. This collection of bourbons is ultra smooth with a hint of sweetness that makes them go down easy. Try them over rocks & with a splash of water to really open up the flavors.

IT'S MY FIRST TIME | $15

Maker's Mark

Four Roses

Buffalo Trace 1792

It's no secret amongst yer Troublemakers that many of us haven't been drinking bourbon our whole adult lives. This is a collection of four low proof, easy to sip bourbons that we love. If you're new to bourbon, add an ice cube to each of these, and we hope you'll find a love affair with some great Kentucky bourbons!

BONDED BABY | $18

The Bottled in Bond law gave whiskey a legal parameter to ensure a certain level of quality. Forget small batch and hand-made - those mean nothing! BIB products are at least 4 years old, distilled in the same season (no blends here!), distilled by the same distiller (no sneaky contract stuff in here!) & bottled at exactly 100 Proof. These are some of our go-to options - if you find the first three easy to sip, enjoy the high-rye Old Grand Dad bourbon!

Non-corn mashbills. Unique barrel finishes. These are whiskeys that fly in the face of what is seen as the typical bourbon and whiskey approach. We found these gems were all a little bit weird, a lot of delicious and perfect for someone who is looking for a new way to enjoy distilled spirits!

FLIGHTS BY TROUBLE

TRY SOME RYE | $17

Like Negronis & bitters & IPA's? (Oh my?) Then ryes might be right up your alley - folks who have palates that are attuned to bitter flavors can sometimes be the most receptive to rye whiskey. Many folks find rye to be "spicy" on the palate - evoking more cinnamon & baking spice than bourbon's vanilla & caramel notes. These are some of the most friendly ryes on our menu and if you like them, ask a Troublemaker about a level-up rye option to enjoy before you go.
