Tribute to Dr. Kwaku Ohene Frempong from the Ghanaian Association of Delaware Valley, Inc. (GADV)

The members of the Ghanaian Association of Delaware Valley, Inc. would like to express our sincerest and heartfelt condolences to our sister Janet, his beloved daughter Afia, and his grandchildren Aya, and Yaw. May they be consoled in the knowledge that KOF lived well. He did not live just for himself or his family but for all of humanity.

Dr. Kwaku Ohene Frempong (KOF) has been a member, a leader, a brother and friend to us all. He has given advice about health and life in general with his signature smile, never arrogant or condescending. His love and care has transcended the GADV and extended to all Ghanaians, in fact, all human beings he came in contact with.

He inspired us to think big and inclusive. KOF was instrumental in bringing the Otumfuo, Nana Osei Tutu II to one of our dinner/dances which he transformed into an educational event in addition to a celebration of Ghana’s independence.

KOF was always available to assist, no matter how inconvenient it was to him, and for that we are grateful to Janet and their family. We will be remiss if we do not clarify that KOF was not a saint. He did not believe in saints. Others may call him that, but to him he was only human.

These are merely words of truth spoken in tribute to a great man who viewed himself as an ordinary human being. May he be received well by the ancestors. He did more than his best in this life and will do the same in any other life.

Rest In Peace big brother.
