Write a vision of what you imagine the library field will be like in five years as a result of our work.

✨ Some Tips:

● Write in the first person and present tense (even though you’re writing from the future).
● Focus on the results (the "what") not the process (the "how").
● Don’t be constrained by what you think appears to be possible or realistic.
● Paint a clear and positive picture. Be descriptive, meaningful, specific.
● Ground it in constructive emotions of curiosity, passion, wonder, and hope.
