Ts'uhoont'i whuzahdel, Bienvenue, Welcome to coldsnap the prince george winter music festival!

Welcome to Coldsnap 2025, Northern BC's premier winter music festival!

The Prince George Folkfest Society board members, volunteers and staff would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to all of our sponsors, partners and especially to our audience members, whose support has enabled us to bring this festival to life every winter since 2008. We also acknowledge the warm welcome and support we receive from the Lheidli T'enneh who have cared for these lands and waterways for over 9,000 years. Our connection with the Lheidli T'enneh is vital to our success and we look forward to strengthening our partnership through shared goals of reconciliation, education and cultural expression.

As I'm sure you've noticed, we've made some changes this year. We've condensed the festival from nine to five days, allowing us to introduce festival passes while keeping a similar number of events and artists. This change aims to create a more concentrated and engaging experience for attendees. We value your feedback on this new format and any suggestions for further improvements. Let us know your thoughts!

As always, we will present several mainstage concerts as well as free-to-attend workshops and IceJams. In 2024, we presented two late shows at the legion. We received lots of positive feedback from those events so we've decided to add an extra late show for 2025. Also new in 2025 will be our free-to-attend concerts at Two Rivers Art Gallery. These will be intimate performances in a beautiful space with food available for purchase. Finally, we will have Coldsnap artists collaborate for informal acoustic performances for our In-The-Round series in the historic Knox Heritage Hall.

We look forward to seeing familiar faces and meeting new friends at Coldsnap 2025. As always, our mission is to present high-caliber, non-commercial artists from across Canada and beyond that embody the essence of folk music. To me folk music distills and codifies the human experience, but I think Louis said it best:

"Man, all music is folk music. You ain't never heard no horse sing a song, have you?" - Louis Armstrong

See you at the shows!

Welcome to the 2025 Coldsnap Music Festival

On behalf of Prince George City Council, it is my great pleasure to welcome you to the 2025 Coldsnap Music Festival, and to respectfully acknowledge our gathering on the traditional territory of the Lheidli T'enneh on whose land we live, work, and play.

Coldsnap is one of the great cultural events of winter in Prince George. This festival brings light and music to the short days and long evenings of February as it showcases local musicians and artists from around the country and the world. It is truly an event which offers something for everyone over eight days of concerts, workshops, and ice jam sessions.

Coldsnap would not be happening this week without the tremendous work of the Prince George Folkfest Society and their many dedicated volunteers. No matter which concerts or events you choose to attend, I am certain that you will have a fantastic time.

Thanks to everyone who has worked on the festival, and to all of you who are supporting and attending the event this year.

Wishing you a wonderful Coldsnap 2025!

Message from the Honourable Spencer Chandra Herbert

Minister of Tourism, Arts, Culture and Sport

On behalf of Premier David Eby and the Government of British Columbia, it is my pleasure to welcome musicians and fans to Coldsnap 2025.

Since 2007, Coldsnap has been the coolest thing happening in Prince George, bringing together an impressive lineup of musicians from B.C., Canada, and across the globe. Despite the cold, this festival never fails to set hearts aflame with electrifying live performances that will have you dancing, clapping, or just snapping along.

The festival's lineup is diverse, delivering an incredible array of musical styles and cultures with standout performances by the Lheidli T'enneh First Nation, honoring the heritage of the territory where the festival is held. These performances are sure to give you goosebumps—and not just because it's winter in Prince George.

Arts and culture are the instruments that make B.C.'s communities vibrant, and Coldsnap is an example of the perfect arrangement. The international attention this event brings for up-and-coming artists is invaluable and so is the financial boost to local businesses—hotels, restaurants, and shops. The Province is thrilled to support Coldsnap 2025 with grants through the BC Arts Council, Community Gaming Grants, and the BC Fairs, Festival, and Events Fund.

My applause to the Prince George Folkfest Society, the performers, the tireless volunteers, and the generous sponsors. Your dedication sets ablaze this winter festival, showcasing B.C. talent, creativity, and community spirit. We can't thank you enough!

So here's to many more years of Coldsnap melting hearts in the chill – a festival that doesn't just entertain but inspires the next generation of musical maestros. Best wishes for continued success.

Sincerely,

Hon. Spencer Chandra Herbert,
Minister of Tourism, Arts, Culture and Sport

Mama's Broke

Halifax, NS | Ancestral lands of the Mi'kmaq peoples

Mama's Broke is a powerful duo that deliver a compelling performance with heart and raw energy. Their original compositions push the boundaries of tradition and the constraints of genre. Drawing from old-time, Quebecois, blues, punk, celtic, balkan and doom metal, they create a soundscape that is both familiar and new.

John Wort Hannam

Calgary, AB | Ancestral lands of the Sisika, Piikani, Kainai, Tsuut'ina, Îethka Nakoda Wicastabi, and Métis peoples

John Wort Hannam has been on his folk and roots-fueled troubadour journey for two decades, spinning song writing gold from the chaff of the lives he has encountered and those within his fertile imagination. Effortlessly mixing rich and clear timbered vocals with lyrics that tug at the heart, his sound is both unique and familiar.

Reckless Burning

Prince George, BC | Ancestral lands of the Lheidli T'enneh

Reckless Burning is a band rooted in a rare alchemy: five distinct and celebrated musicians and songwriters joining forces and drawing inspiration from the stolen, unceded territory of the Lheidli T'enneh in Northern British Columbia. Driven by an impassioned commitment to social justice, this group uses music as both an outlet and an antidote to the wild horrors plaguing the world.

Cutbank Ceilidh

Knox Performance Centre

Beòlach

Cape Breton Island, NS | Ancestral lands of the Mi'kmaq peoples

The natural, easy wit and banter they exchange on stage reflects lifelong friendships, a shared sense of fun and years of experience as professional musicians. The band has delighted audiences throughout the world with their original compositions and unique arrangements of traditional tunes and their ability to light the stage on fire with their energy and witty stories.

Jocelyn Pettit

Under the Rocks

Kelowna, BC | Ancestral lands of the syilx/ Okanagan peoples

Under the Rocks has emerged from a city with no other bluegrass acts to become one of Canada's premier bluegrass bands. Their shows commonly feature dancing, laughter, joyful hoots and hollers and serene moments accompanied by tears and tranquil sighs of release or appreciation. They are a heartfelt, talented string quartet that blends uplifting energy with a reflective reverence for the difficulties of reality that marries joy and sorrow and declares "YES". Cat Clyde

Stratford, ON | Ancestral lands of the Attawandaron, Anishinaabe, and Haudenosaunee peoples

A combination of driven, soulful blues and sweet, folk-tinged, dulcet tones that carry a particular sense of familiarity provide the structure on which she creates her unique sound. With influences ranging from Patsy Cline and Lead Belly to Karen Dalton and Bobbie Gentry, this patchwork of musical significance, when stitched to her modern approach, fits like a well-tailored, corduroy-road cloth.

The Hearts

Edmonton, AB | Ancestral lands of the Nêhiyaw, Dené, Anishinaabe, Nakota Isga and Niitsitapi, and Métis peoples

The Hearts deliver unforgettable melodies and moody harmonies that resonate at dive bars, soft seat theatres, and music festivals alike. Their heartfelt Indie-folk/Americana songs are beautifully backlit by dreamy textures and earthy grooves. They're revered for delivering an exciting live show where they trade, layer, and cohere splendidly — mixing equal parts glitter and grit.

Checkdown Charlie

Prince George, BC | Ancestral lands of the Lheidli T'enneh

Checkdown Charlie pulls heartstrings, not punches. Their melodies make for a good time, while their lyrics paint a picture of community, society, nature, and connection. It's not all roses. Miesha & The Spanks

Calgary, AB | Ancestral lands of the Sisika, Piikani, Kainai, Tsuut'ina, Îethka Nakoda Wicastabi, and Métis peoples

Miesha and The Spanks are a garage-rock band who turn it all the way up. High-energy performances paired with catchy power-pop sing-a-long choruses make them at home on big festival stages as well as sweaty dive bars. This band commands attention, appealing to their inner angst or nostalgia for a time when their hearts were on fire.

Wax Mannequin

Hamilton, ON | Ancestral lands of the Erie, Attawandaron, Huron-Wendat, Haudenosaunee and Mississauga peoples

Wax Mannequin (Christopher Adeney) writes music that veers from scrappy prog oddness to arena rock to modern folk-inflected indie, all with a dark humour that embraces the ridiculous and borders on outright Dadaism. However, beneath the unsettling imagery and musical left turns there is a steady current of inquisition — a constant questioning of life's inherent strangeness.

Joe Daniels

Prince George, BC | Ancestral lands of the Lheidli T'enneh

Kobo Town

Toronto, ON | Ancestral lands of the Mississaugas of the Credit, the Anishnabed, the Chippewa, the Haudenosaunee and the Wendat peoples

Accompanied by an everything-soup of infectious Caribbean sounds, where calypso melodies and ska-driven horn hooks collide over heavy reggae and soca bass grooves, their music is an interplay of dirty electric guitars with hints of zouk and son montuno.

Aquiles Tarumba is the solo project of Aquiles Pérez Merlos. This project was born in 2019, in the city of Morelia, Michoacán, Mexico. His music is characterized by having a sound with warm and embracing melodies and harmonies, fearlessly going from folk to jazz; from alternative rock to pop.

St.Arnaud

The Garrys

Saskatoon, SK | Ancestral Lands of Treaty Six First Nations and the homeland of the Métis

The Garrys are a trio of sisters from the coldest part of the landlocked Canadian prairies, and they make surf music.
