There is a gap between proposed levels of carbon dioxide removal and what is needed to meet the Paris temperature goal.

Carbon dioxide removal (GtCO₂/yr), proposed levels compared to three Paris-relevant scenarios in 2030 and 2050.

Closing the gap requires scaling up carbon dioxide removal, particularly rapidly in the next decade.