18. "Peter Alexander: Recent Works" at Franklin Parrasch Gallery

Listen, the world is noisy and scary and confusing right now. Why not take 20 minutes to bask in hypnotic new sculptures by Peter Alexander? The 79-year-old Los Angeles-based artist, part of the Light and Space movement, creates works that reflect light and ooze luscious color. You probably can't bring a yoga mat and meditate in the gallery, but you'll want to. Catch it before it's closed.
