COMPLAINT

Complainant, Phillip Izon, sets forth below his complaint against Respondents, Alaskans for Better Elections; Alaskans for Better Elections, Inc.; and Alaskans for Better Elections Foundation, Inc. While leveling complaints with APOC against the people and the group who are pursuing the initiative to repeal the flawed ranked choice voting and open primary election system, Respondents have been violating many of the same Alaska campaign finance laws that they tout in their complaints. By failing to register ABE as an opposition group and failing to register ABEL and ABEF at all either as groups or as entities, and passing money from unidentified donors to ABE, by filtering it through and in the name of ABEF, a charitable tax-exempt foundation—one that donors can give to and then claim tax deductions, Respondents cavalierly flout the very campaign finance laws that they have wielded as swords against those supporting 22AKHE. ABE, ABEL, ABEF and those controlling the organizations apparently believe campaign laws only apply to others and not to them.

PARTIES

1. Complainant, Phillip Izon (“Izon”), is an adult over the age of eighteen, a resident of Alaska, and is in all ways qualified to bring this complaint.

2. Respondent, Alaskans for Better Elections (“ABE”), appears to be an unincorporated combination of individuals, some of whom are affiliated with both ABEI and ABEF, that has registered only as of April 12, 2023, with APOC as an Initiative Group to campaign in favor of an unidentified initiative.<sup>1</sup> ABE has not registered as an initiative opposition group and specifically not as an opposition group regarding 22AKHE.<sup>2</sup> See AS 15.13.050(c). ABE was formed and registered with APOC under AS 15.13.050 and AS 15.13.400(9) and (16) as a group, but as a group that would work to promote an unidentified initiative.<sup>3</sup> Nothing in ABE’s registration states that it is an initiative “opposition” group.<sup>4</sup> ABE’s registration form states that it had not been previously registered prior to April 12, 2023.<sup>5</sup>

3. Respondent, Alaskans for Better Elections, Inc. (“ABEI”) is an Alaska non-profit corporation that was formed on July 23, 2019,<sup>6</sup> and that was granted IRC §501(c)(4) tax-exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service on June 13, 2020.<sup>7</sup> ABEI has not registered with the Alaska Public Offices Commission (“APOC) as either a group or entity.<sup>8</sup>

4. Respondent, Alaskans for Better Elections Foundation, Inc. (“ABEF”) is an Alaska non-profit corporation that was formed on January 20, 2021,<sup>9</sup> and that was granted IRC §501(c)(3) tax-exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service on July 20, 2022.<sup>10</sup> ABEF has not registered with APOC as either a group or entity.<sup>11</sup> Because ABEF is an IRC §501(c)(3) tax-exempt entity, its donors may claim tax deductions for their contributions to the foundation.<sup>12</sup> ABEF and those who formed and operate it apparently believe that tax deductions for donors to groups working related to rank choice voting and open primaries are only problematic if the organizations and donors oppose the ranked choice voting and open primary election system.

5. ABE, ABEI and ABEF share a common or joint internet website located at www.alaskansforbetterelections.com under the banner of Alaskans for Better Elections. The three also share a common physical address at 721 Depot Dr., Anchorage, Alaska 99501, as well as several common leaders, including Bruce Botelho, David Monson, and Paula DeLaiarro, and common legal counsel, Scott Kendall.<sup>13</sup> The joint website describes, and has described for months, ABEI, ABEF and ABE and their relationships as follows:

Alaskans for Better Elections is a nonpartisan nonprofit dedicated to providing public education and research about how Alaska-style elections work. The 501(c)(3) foundation and 501(c)(4) corporation are governed by directors that include Alaskans with diverse political views from every corner of the state. <sup>12</sup> Ex. 5 (“Donors can deduct contributions they make to you under IRC Section 170”). Izon takes no position regarding ABEF’s tax exempt status or its political involvement related to 22AKHE despite the limitations placed on IRC §501(c)(3) entities by federal tax laws and does not ask APOC to investigate this because it is outside APOC’s jurisdiction. Izon, however, highlights the tax-exempt status and tax deduction opportunity for ABEF donors, to point out ABE’s brazen hypocrisy in previously leveling accusations at AHE and Rank Choice Education Association, Inc. (“RCEA”) related to RCEA’s tax-exempt status.

Although the description of ABE, ABEI, and ABEF's relationship has changed slightly over time from October 2022 to present, the message of the description has remained the same.<sup>15</sup> Neither ABEI nor ABEF have an internet presence via any other website besides the joint website they share with ABE. It is clear from their joint website that ABE, ABEI, and ABEF are decidedly in favor of ranked choice voting and open primaries in Alaska, and correspondingly against the repeal of the same via the ballot initiative 22AKHE.

THE INITIATIVE TO REPEAL RANKED CHOICE VOTING AND OPEN PRIMARIES--22AKHE

6. On November 23, 2022, Izon and others proposed an initiative by filing an application with the Lieutenant Governor for an initiative entitled "An Act Restoring Political Party Primaries and Single-Choice General Elections." APOC staff has determined that this is the date on which those involved with supporting or opposing a repeal of ranked choice voting and open primaries in Alaska were on notice that registration and reporting obligations related to the proposed initiative were triggered. As APOC has determined, when communications are disseminated contemporaneously with a ballot proposition involving the same or similar subject, those communications come under greater scrutiny and can trigger registration and reporting obligations under Alaska's campaign finance laws. On January 20, 2023, the Lieutenant Governor certified the sponsors' petition application, and identified the initiative as 22AKHE. On February 8, 2023, the Division of Elections issued petition booklets to the sponsors of 22AKHE.<sup>16</sup>

7. The ballot group supporting 22AKHE, Alaskans for Honest Elections (“AHE”), held a petition signing event on February 16, 2023, and the event was reported to the public by the press, including Alaska Public Media.<sup>17</sup>

ABEL, ABEF, AND ABE’S EXPENDITURES AND EXPRESS COMMUNICATIONS AGAINST THE REPEAL OF RANKED CHOICE VOTING AND OPEN PRIMARIES THROUGH THEIR JOINT WEBSITE BEGAN IN NOVEMBER 2022

8. Alaska law requires each person, other than an individual, to register with APOC before making an expenditure in support of or in opposition to, a ballot proposition or an initiative application filed with the Lieutenant Governor. AS 15.13.050(a).

9. An expenditure is defined under Alaska law as “a purchase or a transfer of money or anything of value or promise or agreement to purchase or transfer money or anything of value, incurred or made for the purpose of...influencing the outcome of a ballot proposition or question.” AS 15.13.400(7)(a)(iv). The definition of expenditure also includes “an express communication and an electioneering communication. AS 15.13.400(8).

10. Under AS 15.13.400(8) an express communication is a communication that, when read as a whole, and with limited reference to outside events, is susceptible of no other reasonable interpretation but as an exhortation to vote for or against a particular candidate. Although the communication definition is specifically addressed to candidates, APOC has interpreted the definition to apply to ballot propositions as well.

11. Where a communication that would ordinarily be an issues communication is disseminated contemporaneously with a ballot proposition involving the same or similar subject, APOC has engaged in analysis to determine whether, under all the circumstances, a communication is an express communication that triggers APOC registration and reporting requirements. APOC looks to whether the communications advocate for a position on a ballot initiative; make mention of an initiative, election, or voting; are susceptible to interpretations other than an exhortation to vote for or against an initiative; and/or provide neutral information concerning a proposition. AO 08.02-CD, Renewable Resources Coalition; AO 14-04-CD, Renewable Resources Foundation; AO 19-04-CD, Bags for Change.

12. On November 23, 2022, the very day that Izon and others filed an initiative petition application with the Lieutenant Governor to pursue an initiative designed to repeal ranked choice voting and open primaries, ABE issued a press release that was posted to ABE, ABEI, and ABEF's joint website.<sup>18</sup> The press release proclaimed the alleged benefits of ranked choice voting and open primary elections, plainly advocating against a repeal of the election system and necessarily 22AKHE:

A near consensus of general election voters (79%) found the new election system simple to use and most voters took advantage of the opportunity to rank 2nd and 3rd choice candidates....

Alaska voters also saw greater competition under the new rules among the 59 legislative races on the ballot....

Truly, this new system favors no party—it simply empowers voters and ensures that winning candidates have a mandate to govern and a better understanding of voter preferences.

The combination of the open, non-partisan primary and ranked choice voting general reorients the incentives of candidates and elected leaders to campaign to and represent the broadest electorate. Candidates must earn the support of a true majority of their district's electorate to win, making it more likely that they are more representative of the people they represent and that they enter office with a stronger mandate to govern.<sup>19</sup>

This press release, posted to the joint website, was an express communication—it advocated for a position on the 22AKHE ballot initiative, albeit without mentioning it by name; it is not susceptible to interpretations other than an exhortation to oppose or vote against 22AKHE; and it most certainly does not provide neutral information concerning the 22AKHE initiative proposition.

Although the joint website had existed prior to November 2022, explaining, and encouraging Alaskans to use and appreciate the new election system of ranked choice voting and open primaries, on November 23, 2022, the website took on a distinctly anti-repeal and anti-initiative proposition tenor. And throughout the time frame following November 23, 2023, ABE, ABEI, and ABEF continued to make expenditures to maintain, develop, and update their website and to maintain their joint physical offices.<sup>20</sup>

13. Between November 2022 and January 2023, ABE, ABEI, and ABEF ran a television advertisement that touted how ranked choice voting was so simple that children could understand it and carry it out.<sup>21</sup>

14. By March 3, 2023, ABE, ABEI, and ABEF began to use their joint website more pointedly to oppose a repeal of ranked choice voting and open primaries. They used their website to urge people to “SIGN THE PETITION TO PROTECT OUR ELECTION SYSTEM”—specifically the ranked choice voting and open primary election system that 22AKHE seeks to repeal. When clicked, the link for signing the petition brought up a page decrying efforts to repeal the ranked choice voting system and open primaries:

<sup>20</sup> Ex. 13 (ABE’s second quarterly report for 2023 contains entries indicating that the cost of the website and monthly administrative costs are being shared by the entities).

<sup>21</sup> Ex. 22. Ex. 22 is a recording of the television advertisement that Mr. Izon captured. Due to technical difficulties, the electronic version of the recording is being provided to APOC under separate cover. The television advertisement does not appear to have any paid for identifiers.

We Alaskans believe election reform is working to restore power to the people and strengthen democracy. Efforts to repeal the election system put into place by voters in 2020 are contrary to the express will of the Alaskan people and will reinstate the dysfunction of a closed primary system. We are signing our names to this petition to ask that you publicly oppose efforts to repeal Alaska’s election system.<sup>22</sup>

The link then followed with additional statements touting the alleged benefits of the ranked choice voting and open primary election system: “The open primary resulted in more competitive races,”<sup>23</sup> “Elected officials are already working more collaboratively,”<sup>24</sup> “Alaskans overwhelmingly found the new system simple to use.”<sup>25</sup> More pointedly, the link took aim at Former Governor Sarah Palin regarding her efforts “trying to overturn these reforms, arguing that Alaskans are easily confused and unable to use the new system.”<sup>26</sup>

Although in March 2023 the Alaska Legislature was in session and considering repeals of ranked choice voting and open primaries, the post on ABE, ABEI, and ABEF’s website makes no distinction between which efforts to repeal the new election system it was referencing. The website specifically made the following statement:

Despite these successes [alleged successes of ranked choice voting, and open primaries set forth in the post], former Governor Sarah Palin and a small group of legislators are trying to overturn these reforms, arguing that Alaskans are easily confused and unable to use the new system.<sup>27</sup>

At that time, former Governor Palin was publicly involved in the campaign in favor of 22AKHE, and so the reference to her ties the statements and the petition to opposition to 22AKHE. The statement references generally a “minority” “who want to overturn the new system” and who

“are loud.”<sup>28</sup> The statement proclaims that those who are seeking to repeal ranked choice voting and open primaries are “[t]he political elite” who “want to limit voters’ choices” and who want to “revert to a system that allows candidates to win with less than a majority.”<sup>29</sup>

When read in the context of the 22AKHE initiative and the signature gathering efforts underway at the time, the statement was a clear express communication opposing 22AKHE. The statements advocated for a position opposed to the 22AKHE ballot initiative; made implicit mention of the 22AKHE initiative, election, and/or voting; was not susceptible to interpretations other than as an exhortation to oppose or vote against the 22AKHE initiative—opposing a legislative repeal translated precisely into opposition to an initiative repeal; and it did not provide neutral information concerning the 22AKHE initiative.

15. By at least March 27, 2023, the joint ABE, ABEI, ABEF website contained links for popups purportedly explaining how ranked choice voting and open primaries work, but in truth plainly advocating for the election system and against a repeal via 22AKHE:

What’s the problem? The statement explained how the previous system was a problem because it allowed candidates to win elections with support from less than a majority of their constituents. The statement explained that ranked choice voting, by contrast was a solution because it gave Alaskans more choices, eliminated the spoiler effect, encouraged campaigns to engage voters on issues, and ensured that winners were elected with support of a true majority.

What are the benefits of ranked choice voting? The statement explained that ranked choice voting requires candidates to win with a true majority. The statement explained that ranked choice voting, and open primaries make elected officials more responsive.

Does Alaska have a majority winner problem? The statement explained that under the old system candidates could win with a plurality of votes, and thus not have the support of most voters—making it clear that this was a bad thing that people should oppose.

Are you sure this is still one person, one vote? The statement argued untruthfully that ranked choice voting does not give anyone more than one vote, even though in truth voters can vote for multiple losing candidates and yet still have another vote to count at the end for their second or third choice.

It's all about competition. The statement explained that competition makes everything better. The statement argued that ranked choice voting encourages greater participation thus making politicians more accountable—once again advocating that ranked choice voting and open primaries were good things for people to support.

Who does ranked choice voting benefit? The statement argued that ranked choice voting is good for voters, leaders, political parties, and candidates “that want to serve their community” i.e., implying that those that oppose ranked choice voting—like those supporting 22AKHE—do not want to serve their communities. Once again, the statements advocated for people to support ranked choice voting and obviously correspondingly to oppose 22AKHE.

How would ranked choice voting make elections more representative? The statement argued that the ranked choice voting system gave voters more opportunities and encouraged positive campaigning. Once again, the statement advocated for people to support ranked choice voting and correspondingly to oppose 22AKHE.<sup>30</sup>

16. By at least March 30, 2023, ABEI, ABEF, and ABE continued to advocate on their joint website in favor of ranked choice voting and correspondingly against a repeal via 22AKHE. They touted that ranked choice voting and open primaries were “Alaska-style elections.”<sup>31</sup> They argued that ranked choice voting made elected leaders represent the will of the people and helped to avoid dysfunctional government. They argued that the new system created greater transparency by requiring additional financial reporting. They argued that open primaries made primary elections about voters not parties.<sup>32</sup> Again the statements advocated for people to support ranked choice voting—an alleged good thing—and to correspondingly oppose a repeal via 22AKHE—an alleged bad thing.

17. As time progressed through the summer of 2023, and after the Alaska legislative session had adjourned ABE, ABEI, and ABEF’s joint website became more and more pointed in opposition to 22AKHE. By at least August 16, 2023, the website contained an initial banner with the following statement:

In 2020, Alaskans chose to unrig the system and pass pro-voter reforms that give us more choices in every election. Now, with open primaries, we have freedom to vote for the best candidate, regardless of party. Despite these successes, extreme politicians and political parties are immediately trying to get rid of election reform. These special interests want to take power back from the voters, forcing us to vote in closed primaries and limiting our choices to the lesser of two evils. Help protect our hard-won freedoms, the nonpartisan open primary, and Alaska-style elections today.<sup>33</sup>

These statements advocated in favor of ranked choice voting and open primaries and against any repeal—repeals, the statement argued, would only be supported by “extreme politicians and political parties,” and “special interests” that “want to take power back from the voters.” Thus, in addition to opposing 22AKHE by opposing everything that 22AKHE would accomplish if passed into law, the statement also attempted to demonize those who would support 22AKHE.

At this same time the joint webpage also began publishing “Media” that was pointedly against anyone or any group adverse to ranked choice voting and open primaries and in favor of 22AKHE. The websites links went to press releases about:

APOC staff investigating Kelly Tshibaka and Preserve Democracy—who had publicly opposed ranked choice voting and open primaries, and who had expressed support for 22AKHE, ABE’s false claim that audio evidence revealed that Mr. Art Matthias spoke at a Tshibaka and Preserve Democracy event, with Matthias allegedly announcing the location of a 22AKHE petition signing event,

As a non-profit, ABEF receives donations from donors, including in 2022 from: Unite America in Denver, CO. giving $1,035,000; Bessemer Trust in New York, NY giving $250,000; Institute for Political Innovation in Chicago, IL giving $30,000; New Venture Fund in Washington DC giving $100,000; Unite and Renew Educational Fdn. in Washington DC giving $225,000; and ABEI giving $70,000.<sup>35</sup> As an IRC §501(c)(3) organization, ABEF’s donors can claim tax deductions for their contributions to ABEF.<sup>36</sup> ABEF then repurposed the donations it received from its donors, in part, to make at least one reported donation to ABE of $20,000 on June 26, 2023.<sup>37</sup>

ABE, ABEI, AND ABEF’s VIOLATIONS OF AS 15.13.050 BY FAILING TO REGISTER AS BALLOT GROUPS AND/OR ENTITIES

19. ABE: ABE appears to not have registered as either a group or entity in opposition to 22AKHE despite making express communications and expenditures in opposition to 22AKHE and in favor of ranked choice voting and open primaries through its joint website with ABEI and ABEF. Although ABE filed a registration form as a group on April 12, 2023, the registration expressly stated it had not previously registered prior to April 12, 2023, and that the April 12, 2023, registration was for ABE to be an “Initiative Proposal Group” that planned to act as an “Initiative Proposal Group: Active before the initiative is certified or (sic) the ballot in an election.”<sup>38</sup> ABE has never registered as a group or entity in opposition to 22AKHE (See, e.g., AS 15.13.050(c)) and had never registered in any form prior to April 12, 2023, despite making expenditures and express communications in opposition to 22AKHE and in favor of ranked choice voting and open primaries through its joint website with ABEI and ABEF dating back to November 23, 2022. ABE should have registered as an initiative opposition group as of November 23, 2022. ABE has never been registered as an entity. ABE’s failure to register is a violation of AS 15.13.050 that continues to this day.

20. ABEI: ABEI has not registered as a group or entity<sup>39</sup> despite making expenditures and express communications from November 23, 2022, forward, in opposition to 22AKHE and in favor of ranked choice voting and open primaries through its joint website with ABEF and ABE. ABEI’s failure to register is a violation of AS 15.13.050 that continues to this day.

21. ABEF: ABEF has not registered as a group or entity<sup>40</sup> despite making expenditures and express communications from November 23, 2022, forward, in opposition to 22AKHE and in favor of ranked choice voting and open primaries through its joint website with ABEI and ABE. ABEF’s failure to register is a violation of AS 15.13.050 that continues to this day.

ABE, ABEI, AND ABEF’S VIOLATIONS OF AS 15.13.040 AND AS 15.13.110 BY FAILING TO FILE REPORTS AS GROUPS AND/OR ENTITIES

22. ABE: ABE did not file a fourth quarter report as a ballot opposition group for 2022, despite its activity detailed above between November 23, 2022, and December 31, 2022.

ABE did not file a first quarter report as a ballot opposition group for 2023, despite its activity detailed above between January 1, 2022, and present. ABE did file a second quarter report for 2023, indicating its acknowledgement that it was acting as a ballot opposition group as of at least April 2023. In that report ABE reported contributions only beginning April 8, 2023, and reported the June 26, 2023, $20,000 donation from ABEF. ABE's failure to file reports quarterly and otherwise violated AS 15.13.040 and/or AS 15.13.110. The last quarterly report for 2022 and the first quarterly report for 2023 remain unfiled as of this date.

23. ABEI: ABEI has not filed reports, quarterly or otherwise for 2022 or 2023, with APOC under either AS 15.13.040 or AS 15.13.110, as either a group or entity in opposition to 22AKHE or in favor of maintaining ranked choice voting and open primaries. ABEI's failure to report despite its activities described above violates AS 15.13.040 and AS 15.13.110 and continues to this day.

24. ABEF: ABEF has not filed reports, quarterly or otherwise for 2022 or 2023, with APOC under either AS 15.13.040 or AS 15.13.110, as either a group or entity in opposition to 22AKHE or in favor of maintaining ranked choice voting and open primaries. ABEF's failure to report despite its activities described above violates AS 15.13.040 and AS 15.13.110 and continues to this day. The only report that ABEF has filed is a Statement of Contributions Form 15-5 dated July 20, 2023, regarding its $20,000 donation to ABE.<sup>41</sup> ABEF's filing of the Form 15-5 regarding its $20,000 donation to ABE is a concession that those involved with ABEF—the same people involved with ABE—believe that ABE is and has been operating as a ballot opposition group.

ABE, ABEI, ABEF’S FAILURE TO PLACE A PAID FOR IDENTIFIER ON THE TELEVISION ADVERTISEMENT THAT RAN FROM NOVEMBER 2022 THROUGH JANUARY 2023

25. ABE, ABEI, and ABEF violated AS 15.13.090(a) by running the television add in favor of ranked choice voting and detrimental to positions taken by the supporters of 22AKHE,<sup>42</sup> without required paid-for-by identifiers.

ABEF’S AND ABE’S VIOLATIONS OF AS 15.13.074(b) BY GIVING AND RECEIVING
DONATIONS IN THE NAMES OF OTHERS, BY FALSELY REPORTING
DONATIONS, AND BY NOT REVEALING THE “TRUE SOURCE” OF DONATIONS

26. ABEF: Izon does not agree with APOC’s interpretation and application of the “giving in the name of another” statute, AS 15.13.074(b), and has argued against that interpretation and application in a separate case. However, by APOC staff’s logic in interpreting and applying the statutes and regulations, ABEF has violated the “giving in the name of another” prohibition of AS 15.13.074(b) by receiving funds donated by others, then repurposing those funds into a donation to ABE in the name of ABEF—thus, giving its donor’s funds to ABE in the name of another, namely its own name. Furthermore, under APOC staff’s logic, interpretation and application of the statutes and regulations, one or more of ABEF’s donors have violated the same prohibition found in AS 15.13.074(b) by donating to ABEF knowing that their donations would be repurposed by ABEF to its chosen activities, including, in part, donating to the ballot opposition group ABE. Finally, under APOC staff’s logic, interpretation and application of pertinent statutes and regulations, ABEF also violated laws prohibiting the filing of false reports when it filed its Form 15-5 (Ex. 20) claiming that it donated $20,000 to ABE, which in truth was simply donated, and repurposed funds received from ABEF’s donors.

27. ABE: Izon does not agree with APOC's interpretation and application of the prohibition found in AS 15.13.074(b) and has argued against that interpretation and application in a separate case. However, by APOC staff's logic, ABE violated AS 15.13.074(b) by receiving funds donated by ABEF, even though those funds had been repurposed from donations by separate donors to ABEF. Furthermore, under APOC staff's logic, ABE also violated laws prohibiting the filing of false reports when it filed its 2023 second quarter report (Ex. 13) claiming that it had received a $20,000 donation from ABEF.

28. Both ABEF and ABE failed to identify the "true source" of the $20,000 that ABEF transferred to ABE in violation of statutes that APOC staff has interpreted to apply to ballot proposition campaigns. By APOC staff's logic these failures violate the requirements of AS 15.13.040(d), (e), (j) and (q) and/or the requirements of AS 15.13.110.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, Izon asks that APOC Staff undertake a full investigation of ABEI, ABEF, and ABE for their violations of the Alaska campaign finance laws as detailed above or as further discovered by APOC Staff via a full investigation.

Dated this 6th day of October 2023.

Dear Applicant:

We're pleased to tell you we determined you're exempt from federal income tax under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 501(c)(3). Donors can deduct contributions they make to you under IRC Section 170. You're also qualified to receive tax deductible bequests, devises, transfers or gifts under Section 2055, 2106, or 2522. This letter could help resolve questions on your exempt status. Please keep it for your records.

Organizations exempt under IRC Section 501(c)(3) are further classified as either public charities or private foundations. We determined you're a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a).

You're required to file Form 990-PF, Return of Private Foundation or Section 4947(a)(1) Trust Treated as Private Foundation, annually, whether or not you have income or activity during the year. If you don't file a required return or notice for three consecutive years, your exempt status will be automatically revoked.

If we indicated at the top of this letter that an addendum applies, the enclosed addendum is an integral part of this letter.

For important information about your responsibilities as a tax-exempt organization, go to www.irs.gov/charities. # Launch of campaign to repeal ranked choice voting draws a crowd in Anchorage

A few hundred people met at a south Anchorage church Thursday night to kick off a signature drive aiming to get rid of ranked choice voting and go back to the way Alaska used to elect candidates.

The new system, which Alaskans used for the first time last year, pairs an open primary with a general election that allows voters to rank up to four candidates.

ponsor of the repeal effort. He told supporters that ranked choice puts the entire country at risk.

literally, seriously at risk," he said. "If we don't replace ranked choice voting, we will never elect another conservative, and we will only have Outside corporations coming up and buying our candidates and buying our elections."

athias said he's donated $100,000 to the effort, and the campaign has raised $400,000 from out of state.

Ranked Choice Voting Produces Winners With Strong Mandates And Outcomes As Diverse As Alaska

Juneau, Alaska – Today, Alaska became the first state in the country to elect its state and federal officials using ranked choice voting, an election system that rewards candidates who build deep and broad voter coalitions.

Alaskan voters have twice now used the open, non-partisan primary and ranked choice voting general election system they adopted by ballot measure in 2020. A near consensus of general election voters (79%) found the new election system simple to use, and most voters took advantage of the opportunity to rank a 2nd and 3rd choice candidate.

"First and foremost, we must thank the Division of Elections for their tireless efforts to educate Alaskans, as well as for running a transparent and secure election. Democracy wouldn't be possible without the dedication of our election workers and volunteers," said Bruce Botelho, former Alaska Attorney General and current Chair of Alaskans for Better Elections.

The Alaska Division of Elections (DOE) completed its tabulation of the November 8 general election ballots live on public television station KTOO.org. The results reflected the full spectrum of Alaska voters' political ideologies, from conservative to moderate Republican and moderate Democrat.

Alaska's largest voter bloc are neither Republican or Democrat – but unaffiliated. Voter registration numbers show that Republicans make up 24% of the electorate, Democrats total 13%, while unaffiliated voters far outnumber both at 58%. Several candidates succeeded by broadening their campaign to appeal to voters outside of their traditional party base, which helped them earn a majority, often with the support of voters who picked them as their 2nd choice candidates.

Incumbent Republican Gov. Mike Dunleavy won re-election with a majority (50.28%) of the statewide vote in the first round of tabulation. Republican Senator Lisa Murkowski won her race against Republican challenger Kelly Tshibaka with 53.7% of the vote including 2nd and 3rd choice votes.

Democrat Mary Peltola, who eschewed negative campaign tactics and actively asked her opponents' supporters for their 2nd and 3rd choice votes, won Alaska's lone seat in the U.S.

House of Representatives for the second time this year with 54.9% of the vote, having previously won the August special election to fill the remainder of the late Rep. Don Young's term.

Alaska voters also saw greater competition under the new rules among the 59 legislative races on the ballot. 22 legislative contests had three or more candidates. Roughly 200 candidates competed for legislative offices this year, giving voters more opportunities to support candidates that best shared their values and priorities.

"The diversity of these results is noteworthy. Alaskans elected candidates across a broad ideological spectrum," said Jason Grenn, Executive Director of Alaskans for Better Elections. "Both Democratic and Republican candidates benefited from RCV tabulation while prevailing in different races. Truly, this new system favors no party – it simply empowers voters and ensures that winning candidates have a mandate to govern and a better understanding of voter preferences."

Under the new system, candidates who built broad coalitions were rewarded by voters. The combination of the open, non-partisan primary and ranked choice voting general reorients the incentives of candidates and elected leaders to campaign to and represent the broadest possible electorate. Candidates must earn the support of a true majority of their district's electorate to win, making it more likely that they are more representative of the people they represent and that they enter office with a stronger mandate to govern.

Background

The system was successfully used in 2022 and the reform is already showing multiple benefits:

The open primary resulted in more competitive races.

- In 2022, every statewide Alaska primary provided voters with more choice.
- Voters polled said elections were more competitive than in the past.

- Winners were the 1st or 2nd choice of a majority of voters.

Elected officials are already working more collaboratively.

- The Alaska State Senate organized as a 17 member coalition focused on consensus policymaking.
- The Alaska State House, which has the largest freshman class since 2003, organized an informal freshman bipartisan caucus to collaborate across party and formal caucus lines to do the business of the people.

Despite these successes, former Governor Sarah Palin and a small group of legislators are trying to overturn these reforms, arguing that Alaskans are easily confused and unable to use the new system.

The data tells a different story. Alaskans overwhelmingly found the new system simple to use.

- In the first RCV election in August 2022, 85% of voters polled stated that filling out their ballots was "simple."
- 99.8% of ballots were correctly filled out.

Alaskans voted in favor of election reform in 2020, and successfully used the new system in 2022. But minority who want to overturn the new system are loud. We need your help.

The political elite that want to limit voters' choices are pushing legislators to close the primary and revert to a system that allows candidates to win with less than a majority. We need your help to let legislators know what we know –

The open primary created a more diverse candidate pool.

- In 2022 statewide primaries, political diversity increased, meaning more candidates had the freedom to run without ties to a political party.
- Women entered Alaska's 2022 statewide primaries at unprecedented numbers.
- The new system yielded a larger, more diverse candidate pool that mirrored Alaska demographics.

In statewide races, winners earned broad support.

- No political ideology had an advantage. The same pool of voters elected a conservative Republican, a moderate Republican, and a Democrat.

that a majority of Alaskans want to see elected officials work together and approve of the reforms that resulted in better outcomes in the last election.

I hope you'll join me in showing your support for better elections by signing this petition asking legislators to oppose all attempts to repeal the electoral reforms approved by voters in 2020. Thank you for your support in honoring the voices of Alaska voters.

How Ranked Choice Voting Works

Ranked Choice Voting allows voters to rank candidates on the ballot in order of preference: first, second, third, and fourth. If one candidate receives a majority (more than 50%) of the first-choice votes, they win! If not, the candidate with the fewest votes is eliminated and voters that ranked that candidate 1st have their vote counted for their next choice. This process continues until one candidate receives a majority of voters' choices.

 HOW TO COMPLETE YOUR BALLOT

▼ What's The Problem?

Previously, candidates often won elections in Alaska with support from less than a majority of their constituents. In a state with a long history of viable third-party and independent candidates, it's not always clear that winning candidates had the support of most Alaska voters.

Ranked choice voting allows voters to rank candidates in the general election in order of preference. This gives Alaskans more choices, eliminates the spoiler effect, encourages campaigns to engage voters on issues and helps ensure that winners are elected with the support of a true majority of voters.

▼ What Are The Benefits Of Ranked Choice Voting?

Using ranked choice voting in general elections requires candidates to win with majority support (more than 50%). Ranked choice voting promotes fuller representation and greater accountability, as candidates know they must win the support of a majority of voters in their community, not just a narrow base.

▼ What Does Majority Winner Mean? Does Alaska Have a Majority Winner Problem?

In a majority winner system, candidates have to gain the support of more than half of the voters to win. That's in comparison to a "plurality" system in which the candidate receiving the highest number of votes is declared the winner, even if that's only a minority of the vote. In the case of a three-way race, a candidate can win with as little as 34% of the vote. Alaska has a history of electing candidates without the support of most voters—in U.S. Senate races, no winning candidate has received more than 50 percent of the vote in the general election since 2002.

▼ Are You Sure This is Still One Person, One Vote?

Ranked choice voting is definitely “one person, one vote.” First of all, this is a tried and true method for military voters that are deployed overseas and might otherwise not have the opportunity to vote in every election. It is also used statewide in Maine, and in more than a dozen U.S. cities, and by other democracies around the world to make sure they are electing leaders that have the support of a majority of voters.

You don't get to vote twice, your second choice (or third choice) only matters if your first choice fails to get enough votes to continue in the race. If you selected the winner as your first choice, your vote is only ever counted once.

▼ It's All About Competition.

Competition makes everything better. Ranked choice voting creates a free-market election system in Alaska that encourages greater participation and that creates more competition.

Without competition in elections, politicians are not accountable to the voters. We like competition in every other aspect of life, why not among the people we elect to represent us?

▼ Who Does Ranked Choice Voting Benefit?

The ability to rank candidates is good for voters, it is good for leaders, it is good for political parties and candidates that want to serve their community. We know this sounds like we're listing everybody in the election process, and it's true.

Ranking candidates gives voters more choice, letting us support our favorite candidate without worrying about voting against someone else.

Ranked choice voting is good for leaders because it changes campaigning from a negative focus on how they're not "the other guy" and instead means that candidates can talk about the issues voters care about.

It's good for parties because it helps them understand what voters actually care about. When you can list your first and second choice, that sends a message to the party to get on board with the issues that your first and second choice campaigned on. Without ranked choice voting, they would never know your secondary priorities.

Finally, ranked choice voting lowers the barriers to entry for candidates because the voters have the power, not party elites. This means candidates that better reflect their communities have a real chance at winning, so more run, and then the leadership can look less like the folks chasing special interests and not getting any work done, and instead look more like real Alaskans ready to find solutions

How Would Ranked Choice
▼ Voting Make Elections More
Representative?

Ranked choice voting gives voters more opportunity to express their true preferences without fear of accidentally helping elect candidates they don't support.

Ranked choice voting also encourages positive campaigning since candidates have to go beyond their base and build broader coalitions to win a majority of the electorate.

Ranked choice voting also allows for more voices in our elections because candidates no longer have to worry about the "spoiler effect"—when two ideologically similar candidates split the vote.

▼ Is Ranked Choice Voting Confusing?

Ranking items by preference is something we do all the time. Any voter who has completed a ballot with more than one candidate has had to weigh their choices. And voters in jurisdictions that have adopted ranked choice voting consistently report higher levels of comfort with, and understanding of, the system.

- FairVote, Socioeconomic and Demographic Perspectives on Ranked Choice Voting in the Bay Area, presenting results from a November 2014 Rutgers-Eagleton Institute of Politics poll, pgs. 5-6.
- In Maine, more than 74 percent of respondents in an exit poll after the 2018 general election found ranking their choices to be very or somewhat easy.

In a 2014 study, 84 percent of surveyed voters in four California cities using ranked choice voting said they understood the system somewhat or very well. Voters in those cities also reported a sense that political campaigns were more civil and used less negative advertising and messaging.

Alaska-Style Elections

Ballot Measure 2 was passed in November 2020 and included three commonsense election reforms to reduce partisanship and elect leadership committed to moving Alaska forward. It ends the secret influence of dark money, creates a single unified primary open to all voters, and empowers voters in the general election to rank candidates in order of preference. These simple, nonpartisan updates to how we choose our leaders will return the power of elections to its rightful place — with the voters.

Ranked Choice Voting

Our elected leaders should represent the will of the people. Too often, though, partisan gridlock, low turnout, and increased polarization result in a dysfunctional government incapable of — or unwilling to — address the issues that matter most to voters. Empowering voters to rank candidates in the general election ensures more candidates win office with the support of a majority of Alaskans. It gives voters more voice in their representation and more choice in the voting booth. Ranked choice voting is a simple change with a big impact.

Greater Transparency

Alaska now requires additional campaign finance reporting for groups and individuals who raise and spend unlimited amounts of “Dark Money” in Alaska’s campaigns. Under the new reforms, these groups will have to disclose the true sources behind those donations in real-time. Politicians can no longer receive unlimited secret money from wealthy special interests who wish to hide their identities and motives. Candidates can still accept donations, but they’ll have to tell voters where the funds came from so voters can judge for themselves where the candidates’ loyalties lie.

Open Primaries

For 50 years, Primary Day in Alaska was about voters, not parties. Voters could choose any candidate for any office under Alaska’s original primary system. It worked. But it was taken away by party insiders who wanted to restrict who could vote for particular candidates. Now, all eligible voters will use a single unified primary ballot in which they can select whichever candidate they prefer best in each race — regardless of party — and the top four vote-getters will advance to the general election. State-funded elections will be open to all voters. It’s that simple. That small change to our primary system will boost turnout and provide all Alaskan voters with more choices.
