

Maia Tassalini - One Liners

1. When I was eighteen I had major surgery and was put on a drug called fentanyl, which is 10 times stronger than heroin. I couldn't believe it. Finally, something to bond over with my dad!
2. I'm half Italian and half Welsh, which is kind of like sculpting the Venus de Milo and then sticking googly eyes on it.
3. As a model my idol has always been Naomi Campbell, but however hard I try I can never get my phone to hit right in the middle of my cleaner's forehead.
4. If Keir Starmer is charged over beergate, he will be the first Labour leader convicted of a criminal offence. In other news, Tony Blair is on a beach somewhere reading a John Grisham novel, probably.
5. Meghan Markle has teamed up with healthcare giant Proctor and Gamble. Her first order of business will be a skin care line for men which lifts, soothes and reverses 17 generations of inbreeding.
