Meet A Real Honest Man
In this day of breakneck paces and get-rich-quick schemes, I have found one honest man, and it is as refreshing as a soda pop and moon pie at a diner's afternoon break.

I like talent shows and the one put on today by Phyllis Hogan, 11 and friends Dale and Dean Connell and Julie Crawford was his league. ... May it be the poor boy in me, but it surely does my heart good to see a public event where the country club is in the city amateur. So, take off to Bob Bryant, who does his golfing at Fairwood, 3135 for 100.

City Man Likes That Sauce

This is a true story, but no names will be mentioned. A Charlotte man took his 86-year-old mother-in-law to the doctor. "What do you give her a little nip of whisky every day," the doc said. All right.

The other day the man's wife came running into the living room. "Come quick," she said, "something bad has happened to mama."

Maybe no one at City Hall is interested, but we'll report it anyhow. The drain in front of Tom Cauley's house at 210 S. Jones' P. O. is still out. Two men cranked into it yesterday. Looks to me like somebody would get interested enough to fix that disgusting thing.

Lee Sanburg's A Real Scout
If you man deserves Scouting Order of the Arrow award, it's Lee Sanburg. To qualify, Lee spent last Friday night — in that downpour — on the banks of the Catawba near Jefferson Burns Rd. His equipment? A blanket and a pocket hole saw good Scout. Maybe even a little hook.

Mr. D. A. Farnham, 1517 E. 10th St., has found a cute dog, a brown female, that she would like to return to the owner. ... I must laugh at those people who predict Carolina to lose seven games this year. Carolina will win seven, at least, seven probably eight.

Our astromaths have nothing on Bobby Elder, mine, and Eddie Bogie, eight. When the space twins blazed off yesterday, Eddie and Bobby shot themselves a dark cloud with two fans, two lights and their very own communication system, and went through the whole routine. They even had their own soundmen.
