ZONING AND PROCESS

COMP PLAN AND ZONING

- Zone: RA-1, Comp Plan Recommendation: Institutional
- Permitted Uses:
  - Medical care
  - Child and/or elderly development center
  - Continuing care retirement community
  - Rowhouses and apartments
  - Community service center
  - Retail TBD
- Process
  - Planned Unit Development ("PUD"), submitted by Applicant and approved by DC Zoning Commission.
- Timeline:
  - PUD: 9 to 12 months
  - Site Plan and Permits: 12 months
  - Groundbreaking assuming no appeal: 21 to 24 months
  - Construction timeline: 24 to 30 months

The PUD process outlined here assumes that existing services at Providence are allowed to close following regulatory approval.

STRATEGY FOR RETAIL INCLUSION

- Current RA-1 Zone does not allow retail.
- Medical office buildings are allowed to have retail as an ancillary use with no signage, canopies, or direct customer entry/exit from the sidewalk.
- Comp Plan includes text suggesting and encouraging mixed use and retail in certain conditions that apply here.
- Move forward with PUD with space that is designed to be flexible. Update the Comp Plan in 2026 to allow retail uses in time for the buildings to deliver.
